Children and Adolescents in the Market Place Tomasita Madrid Chandler, Barbara M. Heinzerling, 1999

Don't Be Afraid of the Bullets Laura Kasinof, 2016-03-01 Laura Kasinof studied Arabic in college and moved to Yemen a few years later after a friend at a late night party in Washington DC recommended the country as a good place to work as a freelance journalist When she first moved to the capital city of Sanaa in 2009 she was the only American reporter based in the country She quickly fell in love with Yemen s people and culture and even found herself the star of a local TV soap opera When antigovernment protests broke out in Yemen in 2011 part of the revolts sweeping the Arab world at the time she contacted the New York Times to see if she could cover the rapidly unfolding events for the newspaper Laura never planned to be a war correspondent but found herself in the middle of brutal government attacks on peaceful protesters As foreign reporters were rounded up and shipped out of the country Laura managed to elude the authorities but found herself increasingly isolated and even more determined to report on what she saw With a new foreword by the author about what has happened in Yemen since the book's initial publication Don't Be Afraid of the Bullets is a fascinating and important debut by a talented young journalist Trading Places Claudia Mills,2006-03-21 Todd and Amy Davidson may be twins but they're complete opposites Todd is organized and is the family engineer while Amy is outgoing and has been dubbed the poet So it would seem that for a fifth grade economics project Todd would come up with a master invention and Amy would have a blast with her best friends as partners To their surprise Todd can't think of a single idea and Amy gets stuck working with the class crybaby Then Todd begins writing poetry But this is nothing compared to the switch their parents have made Their father has been unemployed for months and their mother has started to work at a crafts store Now there's never enough food in the house everybody is always on edge and when Amy's friends come over after school they find Mr Davidson uncombed and unshaven in his ratty old bathrobe Will life ever return to normal With chapters that alternate between Todd's and Amy's points of view this novel is a realistic and sometimes funny portrayal of a family adapting to changing roles Trading Places is a 2007 Bank Street Best Children's Book of the Year Children as Consumers Adrian Furnham,Barrie Gunter,2008-01-28 The children's and teenagers market has become increasingly significant as young people have become more affluent and have an ever growing disposable income Children as Consumers traces the stages of consumer development through which children pass and examines the key sources of influence upon young people's consumer socialisation It examines the kinds of things young people consume how they use their money how they respond to different types of advertising whether they need to be protected through special legislation and regulation market research techniques that work well with young people Children as Consumers will be useful to students of psychology sociology business and media studies as well as professionals in advertising and marketing

Best School in the World Molly Hurd,2017-04-01 There's a little known school in Halifax that kids are excited to attend every day right through until they graduate It's a place where they absorb real world skills including critical thinking and complex literacy math and second language abilities so that they stick They gather for intense whole school discussions on local issues create art using geometric calculations and dig into the school garden while learning about the biology of the native plant garden all in one typical week Over forty years the Halifax Independent School has developed an approach to education that reflects the ideas of leading educators but follows no set formula It offers parents and educators a vision of what schools could be like right across the country In this account of the best school in the world readers will find ideas big and small for how Canadian schools could do a better job of engaging challenging and educating their students The Foundation Grants Index ,1998 Cognitive and Instructional Processes in History and the Social Sciences Mario Carretero,James F. Voss,2012-12-06 This volume is a direct result of an international conference that brought together a number of scholars from Europe and the United States to discuss their ideas and research about cognitive and instructional processes in history and the social sciences As such it fills a major gap in the study of how people learn and reason in the context of particular subject matter domains and how instruction can be improved in order to facilitate better learning and reasoning Previous cognitive work on subject matter learning has been focused primarily upon mathematics and physics the present effort provides the first such venture examining the history and social science domains from a cognitive perspective The different sections of the book cover topics related to comprehension learning and instruction of history and the social sciences including the development of some social sciences concepts the teaching of social sciences problems and questions arising from this cognitive perspective of learning the comprehension and learning from historical texts how people and students understand historical causality and provide explanations of historical events and the deduction processes involved in reasoning about social sciences contents This volume will be useful for primary and secondary school teachers and for cognitive and instructional researchers interested in problem solving and reasoning text comprehension domain specific knowledge acquisition and concept development Responsible Strategic Thinking for Business and Society Olivia

Ramsbottom, 2025-07-10 This exciting new text investigates the true essence of strategic thinking and explores the need for alternative responsible approaches in a complex global environment Existing definitions of strategy and strategic management and leadership are examined challenging previous ways of thinking that no longer relate to the way private public and third sector organisations operate Enriched by a diverse and experienced panel of contributors chapters characterise the global systems which influence strategic thinking by spanning themes of politics economics society technology the legal framework leveraging Generation Z's values environmental sustainability and ethics Supported by detailed global case studies from well known and smaller brands examples show how business and organisation leaders have thought differently to bring about change The work concludes by providing a systemic view toolkit which shows what can be done to optimise strategic thinking for change and longevity To aid comprehension each chapter includes a clear outline and Key Points as well as a summary Written in an accessible style this title is intended as introductory and recommended reading for advanced undergraduate and postgraduate students of Strategic Management and Leadership who are interested in how strategic thinking relates to the global political economic and social environment Online supplementary resources include PowerPoint slides as well as recommendations for further reading within each chapter Developing
