Tribes and Global Jihadism Virginie Collombier, Olivier Roy, 2018-01-15 Across the Muslim world from Iraq and Yemen to Egypt and the Sahel new alliances have been forged between the latest wave of violent Islamist groups including Islamic State and Boko Haram and local tribes But can one now speak of a direct link between tribalism and jihadism and how analytically useful might it be Tribes are traditionally thought to resist all encroachments upon their sovereignty whether by the state or other local actors from below yet by joining global organizations such as Islamic State are they not rejecting the idea of the state from above This triangular relationship is key to understanding instances of mass radicalization when entire communities forge alliances with jihadi groups for reasons of self interest self preservation or religious fervor If Algeria s FIS or Turkey s AKP once represented the Islamization of nationalism have we now entered a new era the tribalization of globalization

The Geography of Greece Régis Darques, George Sidiropoulos, Kostas Kalabokidis, 2024-02-22 During the last few years Greece has become a subject of increasing attention worldwide Once praised for its ability to innovate and reform during the EU integration process applauded for its remarkable job in managing the 2004 Olympics the country fell into a financial crisis of unprecedented magnitude in 2008 Much has been said on this matter and amid the morass of information a staggering number of untruths have been disseminated In fact the challenges of vulnerability and the paradigms of adaptation go way beyond finance and economy in Greece Mega fires earthquakes landslides and floods migrations sociopolitical upheavals and armed conflicts generate emergency situations repeatedly Because of its bridging role between natural and social sciences geography can provide insights into the entire breadth of hazardous and chaotic events driving adaptation and change Against all these threats Greece has developed an enhanced resilience capacity The purpose of this book is to help unravel the complexities of a fascinating country beyond clichés This book is intended for students researchers scholars and engineers interested in geography land planning urban studies and environmental management The crises issue intended as a guideline allows widening the audience to include the media governmental and non governmental agencies and the public at large

Understanding Popular Culture and World Politics in the Digital Age Laura J. Shepherd, Caitlin Hamilton, 2016-05-20 The practices of world politics are now scrutinised in a way that is unprecedented with even those previously or conventionally assumed to be disengaged from international affairs being drawn into world politics by social media Interactive websites allow users to follow election results in real time from the other side of the world and online mapping means that the world out there is now available on your mobile phone Understanding Popular Culture and World Politics in the Digital Age engages these themes in contemporary world politics to better understand how digital communication through new media technologies changes our encounters with the world Whether the focus is digital media social networking or user generated content these sites of political activity and the artefacts they produce have much to tell us about how we engage world politics in the contemporary age This volume represents the starting point of a dialogue about how digital technologies are beginning to impact the research and practice of scholars and practitioners in the field of International Relations with the collection of cutting edge essays dealing specifically with the intertextuality of world politics and digital popular culture This book will be of use to International Relations research academics and critically engaged publics interested in the core themes of global politics subjectivity militarism humanitarianism civil society organisation and governance The book also employs theories and techniques closely associated with other social science disciplines including political theory sociology cultural studies and media studies AP GRAMA SACHIVALAYAM Exam PDF-WARD PLANNING & REGULATION SECRETARY (GRADE-II) EXAM EBOOK-PDF

Jogdankar, Terrorist Dispatch Don Pendleton,2016-09-01 CRIMEAN DEADLOCK Ukrainian militants are the initial suspects in a terrorist attack on Washington DC until rumors surface suggesting Moscow was behind the bombing But the investigation only raises more questions Was the attack an attempt to mute US criticism of Russia or a call to action to help suppress Ukrainian dissidents Only one man can solve the riddle and mete out appropriate punishment Mack Bolan From Manhattan s Little Ukraine to the war torn country itself Bolan blazes a path of truth and justice to neutralize the threat and prevent another slaughter on American soil even as the danger increases with enemies and allies emerging on both sides of the Crimean conflict But the Executioner is no middleman he has his own war to fight and he won t stop until his opponents are ashes The Geography of Mobility, Wellbeing and Development in China Wenjie Wu,Yiming Wang,2020-02-25 Big data is increasingly regarded as a new approach for understanding urban informatics and complex systems Today there is unprecedented data availability with detailed remote sensed data on the built environment and rich mineable web based sources in the form of social media web mapping information services and other sources of unstructured big data This book brings together a group of international contributors to consider the geographical implications of mobility wellbeing and development within and across Chinese cities through location based big data perspectives The degree of urban sprawl productive density and vibrancy can be reflected from location based social media big data The challenge is to identify map and model these relationships to develop cities at different places in the urban hierarchical system that are more sustainable This edited book aims to tackle these issues through two inter related geographical scales inter city level and intra city level The text is designed for graduate courses in planning geography public policy and administration and for international researchers who are involved in urban and regional economics and economic geography The Business of Education Joel Spring,John Eric Frankson,Corie A. McCallum,Diane Price Banks,2017-07-06 The Business of Education a comprehensive view of how education policy is made in the US and in some cases globally analyzes and critiques the influence of educational policy networks in a wide range of contexts and from a variety of perspectives including testing college preparation juvenile detention centers special education the arts teacher evaluation systems education of undocumented immigrants college faculty preparation and financial aid A network chart in most chapters illustrates how the major political actors mainly private philanthropic foundations for profit companies government officials and politicians involved in the network are linked Joel Spring internationally renowned scholar and analyst of educational policy situates and frames the network studies in an introduction discussing general theories of education policy networks

Labour and Transnational Action in Times of Crisis Andreas Bieler, Roland Erne, Darragh Golden, Idar Helle, Knut Kjeldstadli, Tiago Matos, Sabina Stan, 2015-07-10 Processes of neoliberal globalization have put national trade unions under pressure as the transnational organization of production puts these labour movements in competition with each other The global economic crisis has intensified these pressures further And yet economic and political integration processes have also provided workers with new possibilities to organize resistance Emphasizing the importance of agency this book analyzes transnational labour action in times of crisis historically and now It draws on a variety of fascinating cases across formal and informal collectives in order to clarify which factors facilitate or block the formation of solidarity Moving beyond empirical description of cases to an informed understanding of collective action across borders the volume provides an insightful theorization of transnational action

The Dumbest Generation Grows Up Mark Bauerlein, 2022-02-01 From Stupefied Youth to Dangerous Adults Back in 2008 Mark Bauerlein was a voice crying in the wilderness As experts greeted the new generation of Digital Natives with extravagant hopes for their high tech future he pegged them as the Dumbest Generation Today their future doesn't look so bright and their present is pretty grim The twenty somethings who spent their childhoods staring into a screen are lonely and purposeless unfulfilled at work and at home Many of them are even suicidal The Dumbest Generation Grows Up is an urgently needed update on the Millennials explaining their not so quiet desperation and more important the threat that their ignorance poses to the rest of us Lacking skills knowledge religion and a cultural frame of reference Millennials are anxiously looking for something to fill the void Their mentors have failed them Unfortunately they have turned to politics to plug the hole in their souls Knowing nothing about history they are convinced that it is merely a catalogue of oppression inequality and hatred Why they wonder has the human race not ended all this injustice before now And from the depths of their ignorance rises the answer Because they are the first ones to care All that is needed is to tear down our inherited civilization and replace it with their utopian aspirations For a generation unacquainted with the constraints of human nature anything seems possible Having diagnosed the malady before most people realized the patient was sick Mark Bauerlein surveys the psychological and social wreckage and warns that we cannot afford to do this to another generation

The Knowledge Gap Natalie Wexler, 2019-08-06 Essential reading for teachers education administrators and policymakers alike STARRED Library Journal The untold story of the root cause of America's education crisis It was only after years within the education reform movement that Natalie Wexler stumbled across a hidden explanation for our country's frustrating lack of progress when it comes to providing every child with a quality education. The problem wasn't one of the usual scapegoats: lazy teachers, shoddy facilities, lack of accountability. It was something no one was talking about: the elementary school curriculum's intense focus on decontextualized reading comprehension skills at the expense of actual knowledge. In the tradition of Dale Russakoff's The Prize and Dana Goldstein's The Teacher Wars, Wexler brings together history, research, and compelling characters to pull back the curtain on this fundamental flaw in our education system, one that fellow reformers, journalists, and policymakers have long overlooked and of which the general public, including many parents, remains unaware. But The Knowledge Gap isn't just a story of what schools have gotten so wrong; it also follows innovative educators who are in the process of shedding their deeply ingrained habits and describes the rewards that have come along for students who are not only excited to learn but are also acquiring the knowledge and vocabulary that will enable them to succeed. If we truly want to fix our education system and unlock the potential of our neediest children, we have no choice but to pay attention.

The Dokdo/Takeshima Dispute Paul Huth, Sunwoong Kim, Terence Roehrig, 2021-04-12 In The Dokdo Takeshima Dispute, Paul Huth, Sunwoong Kim, and Terence Roehrig have assembled some of the top scholars from Japan, South Korea, and the United States to provide a fresh and comprehensive look at one of the most long-running island disputes in East Asia. The book examines the dispute from multiple perspectives, with chapters that provide a detailed and balanced assessment addressing issues in international law, history, foreign policy, domestic politics, the media, education, and the impact on relations with the United States. The book also provides analyses of why this dispute has persisted for decades and explores possible solutions that are relevant for other maritime disputes in the Asia Pacific.

The Power of Geographical Thinking Clare Brooks, Graham Butt, Mary Fargher, 2017-03-02 In this book, geography educators from around the globe discuss their research into the power of geographical thinking and consider successful strategies to implement, improve, and advance geography education in research and practice. It addresses key topics in geography education, such as multicultural competence, the role of teachers, the geography curriculum, spatial thinking, geographic information systems, geocapabilities, and climate change. At a global level, the contributors and editors bring together the most advanced collection of research and discussion surrounding issues in geography education. The book will be of interest to geography education researchers worldwide, including academics at university and teachers in schools, as well as professional geographers with an interest in education.

Mental Maps Janne Holmén, Norbert Götz, 2021-11-28 The concept of mental maps is used in several disciplines, including geography, psychology, history, linguistics, economics, anthropology, political science, and computer game design. However, until now, there has been little communication between these disciplines and methodological schools involved in mental mapping. Mental Maps: Geographical and Historical Perspectives addresses this situation by bringing together scholars from some of the related fields. Ute Schneider examines the development of German geographer Heinrich Schiffrer's mental maps using his books on Africa from the 1930s to the 1970s Efrat Ben Ze'ev and Chloé Yvroux investigate conceptions of Israel and Palestine particularly the West Bank held by French and Israeli students By superimposing large numbers of sketch maps Clarisse Didelon Loiseau Sophie de Ruffray and Nicolas Lambert identify soft and hard macro regions on the mental maps of geography students across the world Janne Holm n investigates whether the Baltic and the Mediterranean Seas are seen as links or divisions between the countries that line their shores according to the mental maps of high school seniors Similarly Dario Musolino maps regional preferences of Italian entrepreneurs Finally Lars Erik Edlund offers an essayistic account of mental mapping based on memories of maps in his own family This edited volume book uses printed maps survey data and hand drawn maps as sources contributing to the study of human perception of space from the perspectives of different disciplines The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Cultural Geography
