Part 1 - A Short Story by David A.

Endocrine's specialized system, the endocrine system, is a complex network of glands and hormones that regulate the body's functions.

"What particular endocrine system is malfunctioning?" asked Dr. O'Connell as they entered the examination room.

Dr. O'Connell's patient, a man named Charles, said, "I don't think that. I think it's something to do with my blood sugar. I've been told that I have diabetes."

Dr. O'Connell asked Charles if he had any other symptoms. Charles said, "I've been told that I have diabetes, but I don't know what that means. I've been told that I have diabetes, but I don't know what that means."

Dr. O'Connell then turned to the patient's medical history. "From this report it appears that Charles is a healthy, middle-aged man, with no other medical problems. He's been told that he has diabetes, but I don't know what that means. I've been told that he has diabetes, but I don't know what that means."

"Does this mean anything?"

"Yes, provided you know what it means," Dr. O'Connell said. "It means that you have a condition that is called diabetes. It means that you have a condition that is called diabetes."

Charles said, "I've been told that I have diabetes, but I don't know what that means. I've been told that I have diabetes, but I don't know what that means."

Charles said, "I've been told that I have diabetes, but I don't know what that means. I've been told that I have diabetes, but I don't know what that means."

"Diabetes is a disease that affects the body's ability to use sugar. It's a disease that affects the body's ability to use sugar. It's a disease that affects the body's ability to use sugar."

"Diabetes is a disease that affects the body's ability to use sugar. It's a disease that affects the body's ability to use sugar. It's a disease that affects the body's ability to use sugar."

"That is right, but it's not a disease," Dr. O'Connell said. "It's a disease that affects the body's ability to use sugar. It's a disease that affects the body's ability to use sugar."

"Diabetes?"

"Diabetes, yes, yes, yes."

Dr. O'Connell then turned to Charles and said, "I've been told that you have diabetes, but I don't know what that means. I've been told that you have diabetes, but I don't know what that means."
