Diefendorf, 2015-03-05 During World War II many European government authorities and planners believed that the damage caused by bombing constituted a great opportunity to transform their cities Even as the fighting continued a great many plans were drawn up and this has been the subject of much scholarship However what is often overlooked is wartime planning in cities not damaged in the war United States cities were not bombed but in Boston one of its leading cities the last years of the war brought a major effort to encourage both new plans to modernize the city and also means of implementing those plans The wartime initiative to transform Boston had several sources Both the Great Depression and the war had led to major measures by the federal government to try to deal with fiscal challenges and the need for new housing for the many people who relocated during the war because of the creation of new industries to help the war effort Boston hoped it could benefit from these measures Moreover in the late 1930s Harvard University had become a key residence for figures important in modernist planning including Joseph Hudnut Walter Gropius and Martin Wagner These factors combined in 1944 to inspire what was called The Boston Contest Its goal was to suggest solutions to many problems found in the metropolitan area These issues included commercial and industrial developments housing transportation education recreation welfare urban finances metropolitan government and citizen participation in solving problems This book published in 1945 contains the top 3 prize winning entries and excerpts from 9 of the other nearly 100 entries It gives a fascinating insight into the developing ideas of urban planning in the United States at a critical juncture Billboard ,1953-08-01 In its 114th year Billboard remains the world s premier weekly music publication and a diverse digital events brand content and data licensing platform Billboard publishes the most trusted charts and offers unrivaled reporting about the latest music video gaming media digital and mobile entertainment issues and trends Domestic and Divine Christine Kondoleon,2018-09-05 Built on the southwestern coast of Cyprus in the second century A D the House of Dionysos is full of clues to a distant life in the corner of a portico shards of pottery a clutch of Roman coins found on a skeleton under a fallen wall yet none is so evocative as the intricate mosaic floors that lead the eye from room to room inscribing in their colored images the traditions aspirations and relations of another world In this lavishly illustrated volume Christine Kondoleon conducts us through the House of Dionysos showing us what its interior decoration discloses about its inhabitants and their time Seen from within the context of the house the mosaics become eloquent witnesses to an elusive dialogue between inhabitants and guests and to the intermingling of public and private Kondoleon draws on the insights of art history and archaeology to show what the mosaics in the House of Dionysos can tell us about these complex relations She explores the issues of period and regional styles workshop traditions the conditions of patronage and the forces behind iconographic change Her work marks a major advance not just in the study of Roman mosaics but in our knowledge of Roman society Zoning Elliott Sclar,Bernadette Baird-Zars,Lauren Ames Fischer,Valerie Stahl,2019-11-06 Zoning is at once a key technical competency of urban planning practice and a highly politicized regulatory tool How this contradiction between the technical and political is resolved has wide reaching implications for urban equity and sustainability two key concerns of urban planning Moving beyond critiques of zoning as a regulatory hindrance to local affordability or merely the rulebook that guides urban land use this textbook takes an institutional approach to zoning positioning its practice within the larger political social and economic conflicts that shape local access for diverse groups across urban space Foregrounding the historical institutional setting in which zoning is embedded allows planners to more deeply engage with the equity and sustainability issues related to zoning practice By approaching zoning from a social science and planning perspective this text engages students of urban planning policy and design with several key questions relevant to the realities of zoning and land regulation they encounter in practice Why has the practice of zoning evolved as it has How do social and economic institutions shape zoning in contemporary practice How does zoning relate to the other competencies of planning such as housing and transport Where and why has zoning an act of physical land use regulation replaced social planning These questions grounded in examples and cases will prompt readers to think critically about the potential and limitations of zoning By reforging the important links between zoning practice and the concerns of the urban planning profession this text provides a new framework for considering zoning in the 21st century and beyond
