Daily Graphic Elvis Aryeh, 2002-05-21 Journal of English Studies , 1987 Daily Graphic Yaw Boadu-Ayeboafah, 2005-10-07 Vocationalisation of Secondary Education Revisited Jon Lauglo, R. Maclean, 2006-03-30 The book is a cutting edge contribution to the debate which has occurred for some time on the pros and cons of secondary education becoming more closely and explicitly related to preparing young people for the world of work. The book provides concrete examples of the vocationalisation of secondary education with particular reference to the situation in Africa. The target audience for the book includes policy makers, practitioners, administrators, education planners, researchers, teachers and teacher educators with a concern about the relationship between secondary education and education for the world of work with particular reference to technical and vocational education and training (TVET). The book appears in the Springer book series on Technical and Vocational Education and Training: Issues, Concerns and Prospects and complements the International Handbook of Technical and Vocational Education and Training and other publications in the International Library of TVET, all of which are publications of the UNESCO UNEVOC International Centre for TVET in Bonn, Germany.

Mass Failure in Public Examinations Ayorinde Dada, 1987 Paper Qualification Syndrome (PQS) and Unemployment of School Leavers John Oxenham, 1982 Perspectives on Creative Arts Education in Nigeria M. Segun Adejemilua, 2002 Journal of Science and Technology, Kumasi, Ghana , 2009 Tradition, Modernity and Post-modernity in Comparative Education Vandra Masemann, Anthony Welch, 1998-01-31 This special double issue consists of a selection of papers presented at the Ninth World Congress of Comparative Education held at the University of Sydney, Australia, in July 1996, on the theme of Tradition, Modernity and Post modernity in Comparative Education. Before presenting the selection, this introduction will first survey the changing discourse in comparative education over the past few decades and will argue that an unreformulated and uncritical postmodernity holds no greater promise in comparative education than its uncritical modernist or tradition oriented rivals When Nicholas Hans 1949 cited Michael Sadler s early rationale for studying comparative education it was within the context of a work which sought to identify the traditions that underlay national educational systems This early work together with others such as that by Isaac Kandel 1930 was predicated on the assumption of the importance of national character of which education systems were an important component Indeed from this perspective the purpose of comparative education was not merely to analyse the forces and factors which produced differences among educational systems but implicitly at least also to discover the underlying principles which govern the development of all national systems of education Hans 1949 5 Hans was preeminently an historian of course as was Kandel to an extent and therefore saw comparative education first and foremost in this light
