A Guide to International Disarmament Law Stuart Casey-Maslen, Tobias Vestner, 2019-05-24 Disarmament is integral to the safeguarding and promotion of security development and human rights Hundreds of millions of dollars are spent each year on disarmament operations yet no comprehensive guide exists to explain clearly the international rules governing disarmament This book seeks to fill that gap It describes the international legal rules that govern disarmament and the operational political and technical considerations that govern their implementation This book aims to support compliance implementation and further development of international disarmament law Traditionally disarmament focused on weapons of mass destruction This remains a critically important area of work In recent decades the scope of disarmament has broadened to encompass also conventional weapons including through the adoption of rules and regulations to govern arms transfers and measures to eliminate specific munitions from stockpiles and to destroy explosive remnants of war There have also been four generations of programmes to address small arms and light weapons at national or sub national level through disarmament demobilisation and reintegration DDR programmes during and following the end of armed conflict While an internationally accepted definition of disarmament does not yet exist it is widely agreed that disarmament encompasses or

interrelates with prohibitions and restrictions on the development production stockpiling testing and transfer of weapons and on their destruction In addition to clarifying these elements chapters of this guide will also consider the relationship between disarmament and the law of armed conflict and with the United Nations Security Council human security public health and non state actors

Practitioners' Guide to Human Rights Law in Armed Conflict Daragh Murray,2016-11-17 Although the relationship between international human rights law and the law of armed conflict has been the subject of significant recent academic discussion there remains a lack of comprehensive guidance in identifying the law applicable to specific situations faced by military forces Providing guidance for armed forces and practitioners on the detailed application of international human rights law during armed conflict this book fills that gap Part 1 of the volume details foundational information relating to international human rights law and human rights institutions the types of operations that States armed forces engage in and how the law of armed conflict and international human rights law apply to regulate different situations Part 2 provides practical guidance as to the legal regulation of specific situations including discussion of the conduct of hostilities detention operations humanitarian assistance cyber operations and investigations This book is the result of an in depth process involving both academic and practitioner experts in the law of armed conflict and international human rights law who were convened in meetings at Chatham House chaired by Elizabeth Wilmshurst Distinguished Fellow at Chatham House The group included Professor Francoise Hampson Essex University Professor Dapo Akande Oxford University Charles Garraway Fellow at Essex University Professor Noam Lubell Essex University Michael Meyer British Red Cross and Daragh Murray Lecturer at Essex University

A Functional Approach to the Legal Review of Autonomous Weapon Systems Damian Copeland,2024-10-21 Autonomous Weapon Systems AWS are no longer limited to science fiction Conflicts in the Ukraine and Gaza demonstrate an increased trend toward the use of autonomy in the use of force in armed conflict This book analyses the art 36 legal review obligation and assesses how states can determine the legality of AWS It proposes a new functional approach to legal review that considers both weapons law and targeting rules engaged by the autonomous functionality

The 1949 Geneva Conventions Andrew Clapham,Paola Gaeta,Marco Sassòli,2015-10-15 The four Geneva Conventions adopted in 1949 remain the fundamental basis of contemporary international humanitarian law They protect the wounded and sick on the battlefield those wounded sick or shipwrecked at sea prisoners of war and civilians in time of war However since they were adopted warfare has changed considerably In this groundbreaking commentary over sixty international law experts investigate the application of the Geneva Conventions and explain how they should be interpreted today It places the Conventions in the light of the developing obligations imposed by international law on states armed groups and individuals most notably through international human rights law and international criminal law The context in which the Conventions are to be applied and interpreted has changed considerably since they were first written The borderline between international and non international armed conflicts is not as clear cut as was once thought and is complicated further by the use of armed force mandated by the United Nations and the complex mixed and transnational nature of certain non international armed conflicts The influence of other developing branches of international law such as human rights law and refugee law has been considerable The development of international criminal law has breathed new life into multiple provisions of the Geneva Conventions This commentary adopts a thematic approach to provide detailed analysis of each key issue dealt with by the Conventions taking into account both judicial decisions and state practice Cross cutting chapters on issues such as transnational conflicts and the geographical scope of the Conventions also give readers a full understanding of the meaning of the Geneva Conventions in their contemporary context Prepared under the auspices of the Geneva Academy of International Humanitarian Law and Human Rights this commentary on four of the most important treaties in international law is unmissable for anyone working in or studying situations of armed conflicts

Weapons and the Law of Armed Conflict
William H. Boothby, 2016-03-10 Bringing together the law of armed conflict governing the use of weapons into a single volume the fully updated Second Edition of Weapons and the Law of Armed Conflict interprets these rules and discusses the factors influencing future developments in weapons law After relating the historical evolution of weapons law the book discusses the important customary principles that are the foundation of the subject and provides a condensed account of the law that exists on the use of weapons The treaties and customary rules applying to particular categories of weapon are thereafter listed and explained article by article and rule by rule in a series of chapters Having stated the law as it is the book then explores the way in which this dynamic field of international law develops in the light of various influences The legal review of weapons is discussed both from the perspective of how such reviews should be undertaken and how such a system should be established Having stated the law as it is the book then investigates the way in which this dynamic field of international law develops in the light of various influences In the final chapter the prospects for future rule change are considered This Second Edition includes a discussion of new treaty law on expanding bullets the arms trade and norms in relation to biological and chemical weapons It also analyses the International Manuals on air and missile warfare law and on cyber warfare law the challenges posed by lethal autonomous weapon systems and developments in the field of information and telecommunications otherwise known as cyber activities

The International Committee of the Red Cross and its Mandate to Protect and Assist Christy Shucksmith, 2017-08-24 The purpose of this book is to consider the legality of the changing practice of the International Committee of the Red Cross ICRC It provides extensive legal analysis of the ICRC as an organisation legal person and humanitarian actor It draws on the law of organisations International Humanitarian Law International Human Rights Law and other relevant branches of international law in order to critically assess the mandate and practice of the ICRC on the ground The book also draws on more abstract human centric concepts including sovereignty as responsibility and human security in order to assess the development of the concept of humanity for the mandate and practice of the ICRC Critically this book uses semi structured interviews with ICRC delegates to test the theoretical and doctrinal conclusions The book provides a unique insight into the work of the ICRC It also includes a case study of the work of the ICRC in the Democratic Republic of Congo Ultimately the book concludes that the ICRC is no longer restricted to the provision of humanitarian assistance on the battlefield It is increasingly drawn into long term and extremely complicated conflicts in which civilians soldiers and non State actors intermingle In order to remain useful for the people on the ground therefore the ICRC is progressively developing its mandate This book questions whether on occasion this could threaten its promise to remain neutral impartial and independent Finally however it should be said that this author finds that the work of the ICRC is unparalleled on the international stage and its humanitarian mandate is a vital component for those embroiled in the undertaking of and recovery from conflict

NL ARMS Netherlands Annual Review of Military Studies 2019 Wim Klinkert, Myriame Bollen, Marenne Jansen, Henk de Jong, Eric-Hans Kramer, Lisette Vos, 2019-07-16 This book has as its subject matter the academic education of officers and builds on the signing of the Bologna Declaration in 1999 by twenty nine European ministers for Education and Science who thereby agreed to coordinate higher education across Europe by for instance the implementation of the Bachelor's and Master's system In the meantime military academies have also introduced the BaMa system into their programs for officers education which marks a transition from the old days when officers education took place within a national military system under military command and was firmly grounded in principles traditions and needs as professed by the Ministries of Defence and the armed forces in particular So the Bologna Declaration can be seen as crucial leverage for the development of in house academic degree programs as a fundamental part of officers education With this volume the editors of NL ARMS 2019 strive to offer a platform to both academics and military and civilian practitioners as well as to combinations of these to reflect and share their thoughts on officers education before and after Bologna both in The Netherlands and abroad To this end controversies and challenges affecting various aspects and systems of officers education have been grouped into five themes Respectively the first four themes comprise institutional settings and change educational philosophy educational challenges and reflective practices and didactical solutions The fifth theme international perspectives provides insights into the strategic environments and challenges faced by sister academies as well as ways to further officers education across Europe such as offered by Erasmus programs All the editors of this year s volume are affiliated with the Faculty of Military Sciences of the Netherlands Defence Academy in Breda The Netherlands

Underground Warfare

Daphné Richemond-Barak, 2017-12-27 Underground warfare a tactic of yesteryear has re emerged as a global and rapidly diffusing threat This book is the first of its kind to examine tunnel warfare in a systematic and comprehensive way addressing the legal issues while keeping in mind operational and strategic challenges Like many other aspects of contemporary warfare the renewed use of the subterranean in armed conflict presents a challenge for democracies wishing to abide by the law To Dr Richemond Barak this challenge has not only been under explored it is also largely underestimated by the community of states security experts and public opinion She analyzes traditional concepts of the laws of war as they relate to tunnels and underground operations contemplating questions such as whether tunnels constitute legitimate targets the assessment of proportionality in anti tunnel operations and the availability of advanced warning in this complex terrain She also identifies issues that are unique to underground warfare including those that arise when cross border tunnels burrow under a state s own civilian infrastructure

International Law and Weapons Review Natalia Jevglevskaja, 2021-12-16

International law requires that before any new weapon is developed purchased or modified the legality of its use must be determined This book offers the first comprehensive and systemic analysis of the law mandating such assessments Article 36 of the 1977 Additional Protocol I to the Geneva Conventions Underpinned by empirical research the book explores the challenges the weapons review authorities are facing when examining emerging military technology such as autonomous weapons systems and autonomous cyber capabilities It argues that Article 36 is sufficiently broad to cover a wide range of military systems and offers States the necessary flexibility to adopt a process that best suits their organisational demands While sending a clear signal that law should not simply follow technological developments but rather steer them the provision has its limits however which are shaped and defined by the interpretative decisions made by States

Lethal Autonomous Weapons

Jai Galliot, Duncan MacIntosh, Jens David Ohlin, 2021 Lethal Autonomous Weapons explores the moral and legal issues associated with the design development and deployment of lethal autonomous weapons This volume brings together some of the most prominent academics and academic practitioners in the lethal autonomous weapons space and seeks to return some balance to the debate

Commentary on the First Geneva Convention International Committee of the Red Cross, 2016-12-15 The application and interpretation of the four Geneva Conventions of 1949 and their two Additional

Protocols of 1977 have developed significantly in the sixty years since the International Committee of the Red Cross ICRC first published its Commentaries on these important humanitarian treaties To promote a better understanding of and respect for this body of law the ICRC commissioned a comprehensive update of its original Commentaries Its preparation was coordinated by Jean Marie Henckaerts ICRC legal adviser and head of the project to update the Commentaries The First Convention is a foundational text of international humanitarian law It contains the essential rules on the protection of the wounded and sick those assigned to their care and the red cross and red crescent emblems This article by article Commentary takes into account developments in the law and practice to provide up to date interpretations of the Convention The new Commentary has been reviewed by humanitarian law practitioners and academics from around the world It is an essential tool for anyone working or studying within this field
