Air travel has increased exponentially over the last decade. To what extent do you agree or disagree with this statement?

Air travel has been a very important topic nowadays. I wholeheartedly agree with the statement that air travel has grown exponentially over the last decade. This essay will further explore this issue before coming to a conclusion.

Firstly, in the UK, budget carriers like Ryanair and Easyjet have made many parts of the world so inexpensive to visit. Budget carriers may be one particular reason why there has been such a growth in air travel.

Secondly, newer planes like the Airbus A380 and Boing 787 Dreamliner mean more comfortable travel, but more importantly more economic fuel consumption. This means planes use less fuel and can fly for longer periods of time. For example – the new Singapore Airlines route directly from Singapore to Los Angeles, which is around 18 hours. Another similar route is said to exist from London to Perth in Australia, which is also around 18 hours.

Several drawbacks also exists – despite the fact air travel has grown. In the UK – there has been a growing level of concern behind which airport should be expanded to keep up with passenger numbers. There are now two huge international airports in Dubai – this was done to cope with the huge number of air traffic which now flies into the Middle Eastern city. On the other hand, plans for an expansion at London Heathrow have come under scrutiny from campaigners who are against the expansion.

Despite the growing rate of air travel – there have been major tragedies like the two Malaysian Airline crashes and Air Asia crash, as well as many more. Some flights have still never been found and it is still unclear what happened even though so much technology exists nowadays. It is inevitable that with more planes in the air – there is going to be more news about plane crashes. One such reason for the particular growth is the cost, which is relatively cheap compared to previous decades ago.

To sum up – I do wholeheartedly agree with the statement and in my opinion this recent trend and phenomena is set to grow even further in the foreseeable future.
