How to Grow a Navy Geoffrey Till, 2022-09-02

This book examines the large but neglected topic of the development of maritime power from both an historical and a contemporary point of view Navies have never been more important than they are now in a century becoming as widely expected increasingly and profoundly maritime The growing competition between China and Russia with the United States and its allies and partners around the world is essentially sea based The sea is also central to the world's globalised trading system and to its environmental health Most current crises are either sea based or have a critical maritime element to them What happens at sea will help shape our future Against that background this book uses both history and contemporary events to analyse how maritime power and naval strength has been and is being developed In a reader friendly way it seeks to show what has worked and what has not and to uncover the recurring patterns in maritime and naval development which explain past present and future success and failure It reflects on the historical experience of all navies but in particular it poses the question of whether China is following the same pattern of naval development illustrated by Britain at the start of the 18th century which led to two centuries of naval dominance This book will be of much interest to students of maritime power naval studies and strategic studies as well as to naval professionals around the world

Education for All

Richard Pring, Geoffrey Hayward, Ann Hodgson, Jill Johnson, Ewart Keep, Alis Oancea, Gareth Rees, Ken Spours, Stephanie

Wilde,2012-08-21 There are two key questions at the heart of the ongoing debate about education and training for all young people irrespective of background ability or attainment What counts as an educated 19 year old today Are the models of education we have inherited from the past sufficient to meet the needs of all young people as well as the social and economic needs of the wider community Education for All addresses these questions in the light of evidence collected over five years by the Nuffield Review of 14 19 Education and Training the most rigorous investigation of every aspect of this key educational phase for decades Written by the co directors of the Nuffield Review Education for All provides a critical comprehensive and thoroughly readable overview of 14 19 education and training and makes suggestions for the kind of education and training that should be provided over the coming decade and beyond The authors acknowledge that much has been achieved by the respective governments massive investment in resources closer collaboration between schools colleges training providers voluntary agencies and employers recognition and promotion of a wider range of qualifications They are also optimistic about the good things that are going on in many secondary classrooms enormous amounts of creativity courageous efforts to meet problems a deep concern and caring for many young people otherwise deprived of hope and opportunity But they argue for a radical reshaping of the future in the light of a broader vision of education a greater respect for more practical and active learning a system of assessment which supports rather than impoverishes learning respect for the professional expertise of the teacher a more unified system of qualifications ensuring progression into higher education and employment the creation of strongly collaborative and local learning systems and a more reflective and participative approach to policy Education for All should be read by everyone working in or with an interest in secondary level education in England and Wales and beyond

Leadership and Diversity Jacky Lumby, Marianne Coleman, 2007-03-01 What makes this book stand out in the crowd is the engaging approach the authors have taken to present their argument and the novel treatment they offer of diversity and diversity management a must read for anyone in a leadership position or interested in investigating education leadership and diversity Gender and Education The authors should be congratulated for tackling the crucial topic of diversity within educational leadership the book makes a major contribution to the small but emergent body of studies in this area Journal of Educational Administration History This book sets out a central aim of stimulating reflection on diversity and implications for leaders in education It also aims to support the development of practice It is a useful book for those involved in educational management and for policy makers at all levels ESCalate The authors challenge the reader to reconsider leadership theory in light of notions of social justice and diversity and to put into place newly articulated frameworks for action The text is richly supported by strong empirical research and a sometimes intricate philosophical approach in making its case for justice and fairness in education and beyond Choice Magazine What do we mean by diversity Why is it an important issue for leaders of schools colleges and universities As society becomes increasingly diverse there is significant international awareness in education about how this impacts on leaders and leadership For decades the emphasis has been placed on increasing the number of leaders with specific attributes such as women or those from ethnic minorities to encourage a true representation of society This far reaching book takes a wider view challenging the reader to recognise the importance of diversity issues and to embed diversity as central within leadership theory and practice Drawing on their extensive research the authors establish a clear understanding of what diversity means and use this to develop a distinct approach to conceiving leadership preparing leaders and acting as leaders They explain how diversity should be a holistic issue which touches every aspect of leadership and is vital to ensuring effective and appropriate leadership for education in pluralist societies The authors explore the history of approaches to addressing inequities in access to leadership positions and the experience of leadership from equal opportunities to diversity and inclusion to capabilities approaches The book also proposes fundamental and concrete changes that leaders can undertake both in their own and their organisation s practice to reflect a real commitment to social justice in a diverse society

THE JOURNAL OF HORTICULTURE, COTTAHE GARDENER, COUNTRY GENTLEMAN, BEE-KEEPER AND POULTRY CHRONICLE. GEORGE W. JOHNSON, 1868 Greening Post-Industrial Cities Corina McKendry, 2017-09-22 City greening has been heralded for contributing to environmental governance and critiqued for exacerbating displacement and inequality Bringing these two disparate analyses into conversation this book offers a comparative understanding of how tensions between growth environmental protection and social equity are playing out in practice Examining Chicago USA Birmingham UK and Vancouver Canada McKendry argues that city greening efforts were closely connected to processes of post industrial branding in the neoliberal economy While this brought some benefits concerns about the unequal distribution of these benefits and greening s limited environmental impact challenged its legitimacy In response city leaders have moved toward initiatives that strive to better address environmental effectiveness and social equity while still spurring growth Through an analysis that highlights how different varieties of liberal environmentalism are manifested in each case this book illustrates that cities though constrained by inconsistent political will and broader political and economic contexts are making contributions to more effective socially just environmental governance Both critical and hopeful McKendry s work will interest scholars of city greening environmental governance and comparative urban politics The Australian Journal ,1866 International Catalogue of Scientific Literature ,1902
