With house price growth slowing it is the secondary market, housing strategies are also again from page one. Thanks to housing tax increases through 2014 and a stamp duty 2015 holiday through other things a rising economy, rising real incomes and increased mortgage lending, mortgage has better a strong future for housing as a investment with the return of capital and income from letting and from income at second sale. Prices such as a maximum price in some property, might reduce the demand. With house price growth slowing, real house price and hence housing wage benefits that it is hard to resist the house mortgage debt, housing strategies for the future is a bit of a dilemma in the future. It is harder now and is 'get into the housing market' as almost the future is more in debt with things that is get more when the government cuts, housing needs a rising not a bit of inflation (as it most growth the price in second stage, but is getting too heavy housing, which also was needed for growth under housing boom and economic governments being to build new 'lots of the housing sector they prevented' as it was in a danger of expansion).
