Minorities Of Europeanization The New Others Of European Social Identity:

Minorities of Europeanization Hakan Ovunc Ongur, 2014-11-13 What are the societal effects of Europeanization How successful is the EU's project to create an overarching European identity representative of all its citizens transcending national boundaries and including those previously excluded as national minorities This study addresses these questions by adapting the Social Identity Theory's SIT concept of social identity to the discussions of European identity offering a novel approach that remedies previous definitional and ontological problems of the term The conceptualization of a European social identity is generated here to invite a reconsideration of conventional understandings of how minorities group identities are formed Presenting itself as a challenge to nations and nationality the European integration process has yet to achieve its supra national ideal falling instead into the trap of nationalizing those who are subsumed under the category of minorities in practice arguably because of a faulty theoretical understanding of the term The new Others of Europeanization have been chosen specifically to emphasize despite the EU's united in diversity rhetoric the marked lack of united destiny and common heritage of selected European nationals Among these new Others Russophones in the Baltic states the Roma people populations of the Western Balkans immigrants and guest workers and Muslims residing in European countries have all been excluded from Europe's new social identity Through in depth historical analysis this book aims to correct this problem providing both European studies and broader political science literatures with a new understanding of minorities that is more dynamic both in practice and theory

THE HISTORICAL FORMATION OF

GERMANY'S EUROPEAN IDENTITY Dr. Melek Aylin Özoflu, 2024-06-17 The European integration process aimed to foster a sense of common European identity enhancing the European public's sense of belonging and identification with the European community This goal is vividly reflected in Jean Monnet's 1952 statement We are not bringing together states we are uniting people In this context forming a collective European identity has emerged as a process in the making boosted often by the symbols of solidarity such as common currency motto flag and anthem This book delves into the historical process of European identity formation in Germany presenting a unique case where its post war national identity was constructed hand in hand with the European identity resulting in relatively higher levels of identification compared to other member states While doing this it leverages the core principles of Social Identity Theory SIT to enlighten the temporal dimensions of identity i e past present and future reflecting upon the continuity within the Europeanization and EU ization processes This book provides readers with a deeper understanding of the historical foundations of the European identity and its successful blossoming in Germany Its extensive literature review contributes significantly to European studies making it an essential read for scholars and enthusiasts alike

The Evolving Psyche of Law in Europe Magdalena Smieszek, 2021-06-04 The book applies an interdisciplinary analytical framework based on social psychology theories of inclusion and exclusion to a discussion of legal discourse and the development of legal frameworks in Europe concerning migrants asylum seekers refugees and European citizens It adopts a psycho historical perspective to discuss the evolution of international and European law with regard to the rights of citizens and asylum seeking non citizens from the law's inception following the Second World War up to present day laws and policies The book reveals the embracing of a European identity based on human rights as the common feature in European treaties and institutions one that is focused on European citizens and has inclusionary objectives However a cognitive dissonance can also be found as this common identity making runs counter to national proclivities as well as securitized threat perception oriented perspectives that can produce exclusionary manifestations concerning persons seeking asylum In particular a view of inclusion and exclusion via legal categorizations of status as well as distributions of social and economic rights draws attention to the links between social psychology and international law What emerges in the analysis a process of creating value is present both at its psychological roots and the expressions of value in the law Fundamentally speaking the emergence of laws and policies that center on human beings and human dignity when understood from a psychological and emotion based perspective has the potential to transcend the dissonances identified

Policy Analysis in Turkey Güneş Ertan, Caner Bakir, 2018-06-06 This volume provides the first comprehensive overview of the state of policy analysis in Turkey for an international audience Noting Turkey's traditionally strong highly centralised state the book documents the evolution of policy analysis in the country providing an in depth review of the context constraints and dominant modes of policy analysis performed by both state and non state actors The book examines the role of committees experts international actors bureaucrats as well as public opinion in shaping policy analysis in the country through their varying ideas interests and resources In doing so it presents the complex decision making mechanisms that vary significantly among policy making actors and institutions documenting the key yet unexamined aspects of policy analysis in Turkey It will be a valuable resource for those studying policy analysis within Turkey and as a comparison with other volumes in the International Library of Policy Analysis Series The EU and Member State Building Soeren Keil,Zeynep Arkan,2014-12-05 This book critically examines the process of statebuilding by the EU focusing on its attempts to build Member States in the Western Balkan region This book analyses the European Union s policies towards and the impact they have upon the states of the Western Balkans and assesses how these affect the nature of EU foreign policy To this end it focuses on the tools and mechanisms that the EU employs in its enlargement policy and examines the new instruments of direct intervention in Bosnia and Kosovo political coercion in the case of Croatia and Serbia in relation to the International Criminal Tribunal for the former Yugoslavia and stricter conditionality in the Western Balkan countries The book discusses the key aim of this special form of statebuilding which is to establish functional liberal democratic states in Albania Bosnia and Herzegovina Croatia Kosovo Macedonia Montenegro and Serbia in order for them to join the EU and to cope with the responsibilities and pressures of membership in the future However the authors argue that while the EU sees itself as an international actor that promotes and protects liberal democratic values norms and principles its experiences in the Western Balkans demonstrate how the EU s actions in the region have undermined the basic principles of democratic decision making such as the European support for impositions in Bosnia and international law Kosovo and have consequently contributed to new tensions see police reform in Bosnia and the tensions between Kosovo and Serbia and dependencies This book will be of much interest to students of statebuilding EU politics global governance and IR Security Studies in general

Europe Thomas M. Wilson,2023-11-30 This two volume encyclopedia profiles the contemporary culture and society of every country in Europe Each country receives a chapter encompassing such topics as religion lifestyle and leisure standard of living cuisine gender roles relationships dress music visual arts and architecture This authoritative and comprehensive encyclopedia provides readers with richly detailed entries on the 45 nations that comprise modern Europe Each country profile looks at elements of contemporary life related to family and work including popular pastimes customs beliefs and attitudes Students can make cross cultural comparisons for instance a student could compare social customs in Denmark with those in Norway compare Greece s cuisine with that of Italy and contrast the architecture of Paris with Amsterdam and Barcelona Culture and society are changing in each region and nation of Europe due to many political and economic forces both inside and outside of each nation s borders This encyclopedia considers many of the transformations connected to globalization as well as traditions that still hold strong to provide a complete assessment of the processes that make European societies and cultures distinctive Considering Space Dominik Bartmanski,Henning Füller,Johanna Hoerning,Gunter Weidenhaus,2023-09-15 Considering Space demonstrates what has changed in the perception of space within the social sciences and how useful indeed indispensable this category is today While the seemingly deterritorializing effects of digitalization might suggest that space is a secondary consideration this book proves such a presumption wrong with territories borders distances proximity geographical ecologies land use physical infrastructures as well as concepts of space all being shown still to matter perhaps more than ever before Seeking to show how society can and should be perceived as spatial it will appeal to scholars of sociology geography architecture and urban studies The Open Access version of this book available at www.taylorfrancis.com has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4.0 license Funded by the Deutsche Forschungsgemeinschaft DFG German Research Foundation Projektnummer 290045248 SFB 1265 Europeanization and Statebuilding as Everyday Practices Vjosa Musliu, 2021-05-17 This book provides a critical understanding of Europeanization and statebuilding in the Western Balkans using the notion of everyday practices This volume argues that it is everyday and mundane events that provide the entry points to showcase a broader set of practices of Europeanization in countries outside the EU It does this by tracing notions of Europeanization in the everyday statebuilding of Kosovo Europe Day celebrations in Bosnia and Herzegovina urban politics in Tirana and space and place making in Skopje In doing so the book shows that everyday events tell us that as much as it is about changing structures institutions and economic models Europeanization is also about changing behaviours and ideas in populations at large At the same time the work shows that countries outside the EU use everyday events to perform their belonging to Europe This book will be of much interest to students of European Studies Balkan politics statebuilding and International Relations generally The Religious Roots of Contemporary European Identity Lucia Faltin, Melanie J. Wright, 2007-11-01 This volume provides a coherent critical examination of current issues related to the religious roots of contemporary i.e. post 1990 European identity This book has taken a multi and interdisciplinary approach analysing the religious roots of Europe's identity today with a focus on the secular context of religious communities This will serve the readers to perceive their own identity in a wider context of shared values reaching beyond a particular faith or non religious framework Active Borders in Europe Karel B. Müller, 2023-01-01 This book explores how identities public spheres and collective memories are being transformed in cross border areas contributing to the broad sociological context of Europeanization Offering case studies on the German Czech Austrian and Czech Polish German borderlands the book introduces original primary data on cross border cooperation This data is interpreted using the concept of active borders which approaches borders as a source of multicultural competence and cognitive capacity In turn the authors argue that Europeans need to treat borders both territorial and symbolic as specific cultural forms Active borders allow an unprecedented level of cross border cooperation and integration and foster a better understanding of differences rather than re embedding them or constructing others Accordingly the authors contend that active borders promote more dynamic open and resilient societies and represent crucial prerequisites for the success of the European integration project Europe and the Post-Yugoslav Space Branislav Radeljic, 2016-04-22 Charting the path from intervention to integration Europe and the Post Yugoslav Space examines the role of Europeanization on the development of the countries of the former Yugoslavia Slovenia Croatia Macedonia Montenegro Serbia Bosnia and Herzegovina and Kosovo may have a shared history but their experiences views and attitudes to European integration vary dramatically Opinion within each state is often equally as keenly divided as to the benefits of active membership The debate within each country and their comparative differences in approach provide fascinating case studies on the importance and relevance of the EU and the effectiveness of Europeanization A wide range of contributors with significant experience gained within the EU as well as their country of origin use their expert understanding of the language and cultures of the countries concerned to provide detailed and rich insights into the troubled history and potential of the post Yugoslav space

Perceptions of the European Union's Identity in International Relations Anna Skolimowska, 2018-12-07 This book examines the perception of European Union's identity by the main actors in international relations Analysing issues related to public discourse in third countries as demonstrated by amongst others their political elites civil society and think tanks the book highlights a normative gap with regards to the European Union's self definition perception and its perception in the international environment It also shows that the European Union's perception of normative power in international relations is not shared consistently by the main principal actor yet is differentiated relative to geographical area and scope of activities undertaken by the EU It demonstrates that the perception of the EU's normative identity is a source of the crisis of the European Union as an effective and significant player in the international arena This book will be of key interest to scholar and students of European Union politics European politics studies European integration identity politics and international relations

Romania and the Quest for European Identity Cristian Cercel, 2019-03-15 Exploring the largely positive representations of Romanian Germans predominating in post 1989 Romanian society this book shows that the underlying reasons for German prestige are strongly connected with Romania's endeavors to become European The election in 2014 of Klaus Iohannis as Romania's president was hailed as evidence that the country chose a European future that Iohannis belonged to Romania's tiny German minority was also considered to have played a part in his success Cercel argues that representations of Germans in Romania descendants of twelfth century and eighteenth century colonists become actually a symbolic resource for asserting but also questioning Romania's European identity Such representations link Romania's much desired European belonging with German presence whilst German absence is interpreted as a sign of veering away from Europe Investigating this case of discursive self colonization and this apparent symbolic embrace of the German Other in Romania the book offers a critical study of the discourses associated with Romania's postcommunist Europeanization to contribute a better understanding of contemporary West East relationships in the European context This fresh and insightful approach will interest postgraduates and scholars interested in Central Eastern and Southeastern Europe and in German minorities outside Germany It should also appeal to scholars of memory studies and those interested in the study of otherness in general Cultural Borders of Europe Mats Andrén, Thomas Lindkvist, Ingmar Söhrman, Katharina Vajta, 2017-08-01 The cultural borders of Europe are today more visible than ever and with them comes a sense of uncertainty with respect to liberal democratic traditions whether treated as abstractions or concrete realities cultural divisions challenge concepts of legitimacy and political representation as well as the legal bases for citizenship Thus an understanding of such borders and their consequences is of utmost importance for promoting the evolution of democracy Cultural Borders of Europe provides a wide ranging exploration of these lines of demarcation in a variety of regions and historical eras providing essential insights into the state of European intercultural relations today Stereotypes and Violence Oliver Betts, Andrew Fuyarchuk, Biba Hadziavdic, Hilde Hoffmann, Barbara Manthe, Benjamin Nickl, Bojan Perovic, Sylvia Sadzinski, Victoria Shmidt, 2017-04-20 Stereotypes are dangerous especially when they are used by demagogues Slogans which remind the historian of darker times in human history however reappear again in a growing number As companions of the rise of right wing forces in Europe they make up ground in more and more regions and gain momentum in the political debate It consequently seems to be more than important to focus on and closer analyze the interrelationship between stereo types and violence in modern societies The fourth volume of Global Humanities tries to achieve such a broader analysis and provides reading in the fields of history political science gender and media studies The authors show and emphasize in which ways the two above named factors are interacting with each other and influencing the popular opinion in modern nation states Topics that are covered include Anti Italian riots in Zurich at the end of the 19th century a discussion of the interrelationship of racism and violence in Germany since the 1980s and an analysis of gender based violence in Serbia In addition the persistence of stereo types in entertainment is closely studied by taking a look on Sinti and Roma depictions in current European films Everyday Life in the Balkans David W. Montgomery, 2018-11-26 Everyday Life in the Balkans gathers the work of leading scholars across disciplines to provide a broad overview of the countries of Albania Bosnia and Herzegovina Bulgaria Croatia Greece Kosovo Macedonia Romania Serbia and Turkey This region has long been characterized as a place of instability and political turmoil from World War I through the Yugoslav Wars and even today as debate continues over issues such as the influx of refugees or the expansion of the European Union However the work gathered here moves beyond the images of war and post socialist stagnation which dominate Western media coverage of the region to instead focus on the lived experiences of the people in these countries Contributors consider a wide range of issues including family dynamics gay rights war memory religion cinema fashion and politics Using clear language and engaging examples Everyday Life in the Balkans provides the background context necessary for an enlightened conversation about the policies economics and culture of the region Ethnicity and Intercultural Dialogue at the European Union Eastern Border Mircea Brie, Sorin Sipos, 2014-09-26 Ethnicity and religious confession are concepts around which discussion and controversy arise generating emotions and feelings of extreme intensity Each of us belongs to such a community By default there is pressure on us to be subjective Intercultural dialogue can be successfully provided where a community that is aware of the Other comes to communicate cooperate and build the structure of a multicultural society Diversity throughout Central and South Eastern Europe can lead to either cooperation or conflict Presently we face discrimination marginalization low status minorities peripheral societies and the inequitable distribution of resources that leads to unequal distribution of authority and power Discourses on Türkiye in the European Parliament Sezgi Erdoğan, 2025-02-12 This book analyses how Türkiye and Europe were discursively constructed through the representations of Türkiye in the European Parliament EP between 2007 and 2015 By providing an in depth analysis of the discursive representations of Türkiye in the EP the book discusses the European perception of Turkish identity and in turn reveals the different visions of Europe that these EP discourses relationally construct in Türkiye's de-Europeanization process compared to its Europeanization process in the 1997-2007 term This book will be of interest to scholars and students of Political Sociology International Relations Discourse Analysis European Studies Turkish Studies and Identity Studies

Religion, Secularism and Politics Jeffrey Haynes, Guy Ben-Porat, 2018-10-24 Political debates in many Mediterranean countries today are increasingly framed in dichotomous terms highlighting divisions between religious and secular worldviews The role of religion in public life or put another way the public return of religion is a pertinent and controversial political question everywhere in the Mediterranean region How do we explain this phenomenon On the one hand we can point to both economic and demographic changes while on the other we can trace the impact of continuing secularisation Together these two sets of developments produce new challenges to existing political arrangements This book examines the contemporary interaction of religion and politics in the Mediterranean region with a specific focus on democratization and democracy and the role in this context of selected religious actors Individual contributions focus on several European countries France Italy and Turkey while others are concerned with states in the Middle East and North Africa Egypt Israel Morocco and Tunisia Among European countries France is widely regarded as a highly secular country with over 50% of people regarding themselves as without religion Morocco on the other hand is a much more religious country measured by the fact that an estimated 94.5% of Moroccans self identify themselves as Muslims The specific country studies were selected because whether they are religious or not each case has current controversies involving both religious and secular actors which impact upon key political relationships centrally involving religion secularization and democratization democracy This book was published as a special issue of Mediterranean Politics
