Missing Element English Edition:

On the Bullet Train with Emily Brontë Judith Pascoe, 2019-01-23 While teaching in Japan Judith Pascoe was fascinated to discover the popularity that Emily Brontë's novel Wuthering Heights has enjoyed there. Nearly 100 years after its first formal introduction to the country, the novel continues to engage the imaginations of Japanese novelists, filmmakers, manga artists, and others, resulting in numerous translations, adaptations, and dramatizations. On the Bullet Train with Emily Brontë is Pascoe's lively account of her quest to discover the reasons for the continuous Japanese embrace of Wuthering Heights, including quite varied and surprising adaptations of the novel. At the same time, the book chronicles Pascoe's experience as an adult student of Japanese. She contemplates the multiple Japanese translations of Brontë, as contrasted to the single or non-existent English translations of major Japanese writers. Carrying out a close reading of a distant country's Wuthering Heights, Pascoe begins to see American literary culture as a small island on which readers are isolated from foreign literature. In this and in her previous book The Sarah Siddons Audio Files, Pascoe's engaging narrative innovates a new scholarly form involving immersive research practice to attempt a cross-cultural version of reader response criticism. On the Bullet Train with Emily Brontë will appeal to scholars in the fields of 19th-century British literature, adaptation studies, and Japanese literary history.

Linguistic Attractors David L. Cooper, 1999-06-15 The interdisciplinary linguistic attractor model portrays language processing as linked sequences of fractal sets and examines the changing dynamics of such sets for individuals as well as the speech community they comprise. Its motivation stems from human anatomic constraints and several artificial neural network approaches. It uses general computation theory to 1) demonstrate the capacity of Cantor-like fractal sets to perform as Turing Machines, 2) better distinguish between models that simply match outputs (emulation) and models that match both outputs and internal dynamics (simulation), and 3) relate language processing to essential computation steps executed in parallel. Measure and information theory highlight the key variables driving linguistic dynamics, while catastrophe and game theory help predict the possible topologies of language change. It introduces techniques to isolate and measure attractors and to interpret their stability and relative content within a system. Important results include the capability to distinguish the sequence of related sound changes and to make point-to-point comparisons of different texts using common metrics. Other techniques allow quantifiable ambiguity landscapes illustrating the forces that propel different languages in different directions.

Security Community Practices in the Western Balkans Sonja Stojanović Gajić, Filip Ejduš, 2018-07-04 In the early 1990s the Western Balkans were the scene of prolonged and bloody inter-ethnic wars. Numerous issues remain unresolved: Bosnia is a dysfunctional state, Kosovo a disputed territory, Macedonia a fragile republic; however, it is hard now to imagine the renewal of inter-state armed conflict. Investigating the causes and mechanisms driving peaceful transformation in the Balkans, this book examines developments in the region and contributes to discussions on security community building. Focusing on how different professional communities work together in the creation of regional peace and security it sheds new light on how diplomats policemen soldiers and others brought about the transformation from conflict to peace through their everyday practices Conducted collaboratively by a research community based within the region this volume will be highly relevant to scholars and researchers studying the Balkans regional security security communities and policymakers A Public Betrayed Adam Gamble,Takesato Watanabe,2004-07-01 In his new book Adam Gamble reveals how the Japanese media have dangerously overstepped their boundaries and distorted even wiped out honest news

Nonverbal Communication across Disciplines Fernando Poyatos,2002-03-22 This volume based on the first two identifies the verbal and nonverbal personal and environmental components of narrative and dramaturgic texts and the cinema recreated in the first through the reading act according to gaze mechanism and punctuation and traces the coding decoding processes of the characters semiotic communicative itinerary between writer creator and reader recreator In our total experience of a play or film we depend on the sensory and intellectual relationships between performers audience and the environment of both in a temporal dimension starting on the way to the theater and ending as one comes out Two chapters discuss the speaking face and body of the characters and the explicit and implicit at times unstageable paralanguage kinesics and quasiparalinguistic and extrasomatic and environmental sounds in the novel the theater and the cinema and the functions of personal and environmental silences Another shows the functions limitations and problems of punctuation systems in the creative recreative processes and how a few new symbols and modifications would avoid some ambiguities The stylistic communicative and technical functions of nonverbal repertoires in the literary text are then identified as enriching critical analysis and offering new perspectives in translation Finally literary anthropology developed by the author in the 1970s is presented as an interdisciplinary area based on synchronic and diachronic analyses of the literatures of the different cultures as a source of anthropological and ethnological data Nearly 1200 quotes from 170 authors and 291 works are added to those in the first two volumes

Nonverbal Communication Across Disciplines: Narrative literature, theater, cinema, translation Fernando Poyatos,2002-01-01 Part of a three volume set which takes a cross cultural approach to the subject of nonverbal communication The teaching of Latin and Greek in the secondary school Charles Edwin Bennett,George Prentice Bristol,1901 The Pleasures of Memory in Shakespeare's Sonnets John S. Garrison,2024-01-13 This imaginative and richly detailed study explores the deep connection between desire and recollection in Shakespeare s poetry Drawing on cognitive science the early modern memory arts and psychoanalysis as well as works by contemporary authors the book shows how Shakespeare s Sonnets treat memory as a form of poetic narrative Routledge students of language and linguistics French subject islands Elodie Winckel, 2024-06-20 This book examines extractions out of the subject which is traditionally considered to be an island for extraction There is a debate among linguists regarding whether the subject island constraint is a syntactic phenomenon or an illusion caused by cognitive or pragmatic factors The book focusses on French that provides an interesting case study because it allows certain extractions out of the subject despite not being a typical null subject language The book takes a discourse based approach and introduces the Focus Background Conflict constraint which posits that a focused element cannot be part of a backgrounded constituent due to a pragmatic contradiction The major novelty of this proposal is that it predicts a distinction between extractions out of the subject in focalizing and non focalizing constructions The central contribution of this book is to offer the detailed results of a series of empirical studies corpus studies and experiments on extractions out of the subject in French These studies offer evidence for the possibility of extraction out of the subject in French But they also reveal a clear distinction between constructions While extractions out of the subject are common and highly acceptable in relative clauses this is not the case for interrogatives and clefts Finally the book proposes a Head Driven Phrase Structure Grammar HPSG analysis of subject islands It demonstrates the interaction between information structure and syntax using a representation of information structure based on Minimal Recursion Semantics MRS

Germanic syntax Stefan Müller, 2023-04-25 This book is an introduction to the syntactic structures that can be found in the Germanic languages The analyses are couched in the framework of HPSG light which is a simplified version of HPSG that uses trees to depict analyses rather than complicated attribute value matrices The book is written for students with basic knowledge about case constituent tests and simple phrase structure grammars advanced BA or MA level and for researchers with an interest in the Germanic languages and or an interest in Head Driven Phrase Structure Grammar Sign Based Construction Grammar without having the time to deal with all the details of these theories The Teaching of Latin and Greek in the Secondary School Charles Edwin Bennett, George Prentiss Bristol, 1899 *The Teaching of Latin and Greek in the Secondary School, by Charles E.
