Matisse's Poets Kathryn Brown, 2017-09-21 Throughout his career Henri Matisse used imagery as a means of engaging critically with poetry and prose by a diverse range of authors Kathryn Brown offers a groundbreaking account of Matisse's position in the literary cross currents of 20th century France and explores ways in which reading influenced the artist's work in a range of media This study argues that the livre d'artiste became the privileged means by which Matisse enfolded literature into his own idiom and demonstrated the centrality of his aesthetic to modernist debates about authorship and creativity By tracing the compositional and interpretive choices that Matisse made as a painter print maker and reader in the field of book production this study offers a new theoretical account of visual art's capacity to function as a form of literary criticism and extends debates about the gendering of 20th century bibliophilia Brown also demonstrates the importance of Matisse's self placement in relation to the French literary canon in the charged political climate of the Second World War and its aftermath Through a combination of archival resources art history and literary criticism this study offers a new interpretation of Matisse's artist's books and will be of interest to art historians, literary scholars and researchers in book history and modernism. Rackham's Poultry Directory, 1900 Ronsard's Philosophic Thought Isidore Silver, 1992 Ronsard and the Hellenic Renaissance in France Isidore Silver, 1981 Cosmos Les Mondes, 1879 The Three Voyages of William Barents to the Arctic Regions, (1594, 1595, and 1596) Gerrit de Veer, 2024-06-18 Reprint of the original first published in 1876 The Three Voyages of William Barents to the Arctic Regions, (1594, 1595, and 1596) Gerrit de Veer, 1876 Works Issued by the Hakluyt Society, 1876 Traité pratique de vinification, ou Guide des propriétaires, vignerons, ... Deuxième édition ... augmentée Henri MACHARD, 1865 The Three Voyages of William Barents: To the Arctic Regions (1594-1596) Gerrit de Veer, 2011-01-01

The three voyages undertaken by the Dutch towards the close of the sixteenth century with a view to the discovery of a north east passage to China are deservedly placed among the most remarkable exploits of that enterprising nation while the ten months residence of the adventurous seamen at the furthest extremity of the inhospitable region of Novaya Zemlya within little more than fourteen degrees of the North Pole and their homeward voyage of upwards of seventeen hundred geographical miles in two small open boats are events full of romantic interest. The republication by the Hakluyt Society of the narrative of these three voyages is most appropriate at this particular juncture when public attention is so painfully absorbed by apprehensions as to the fate of Franklin and his companions. At all times would this work be read with interest as giving in plain and simple language which vouches for its truth the first account of a forced winter residence in the Arctic Regions patiently and resolutely endured and successfully terminated but at the present moment it acquires a far deeper importance from its representation faint perhaps and wholly inadequate to the reality of the hardships which must have been undergone by our missing countrymen happy if some of them shall have survived like Gerrit de Veer to tell the tale of their sufferings and of their final deliverance from their long captivity. In adverting to the causes which led to these three expeditions it would be quite superfluous to enter upon the general history of Arctic discovery. All that is requisite for the proper elucidation of the present subject is an investigation of the actual state of our knowledge respecting the precise field of the labours of our Dutch navigators previously to the date of their adventurous undertaking. Three centuries have now elapsed since the first attempt was made to discover a north east passage to China and India. The circumstances under which this took place cannot be better detailed than in the words of Clement Adams in his account of the new Navigation and discovery of the kingdom of Muscouia by the north east in the year 1553 which is printed by Hakluyt in the first volume of his Principal Navigations. At what time our merchants perceived the commodities and wares of England to be in small request with the countries and people about vs and neere vnto vs and that those merchandizes which strangers in the time and memorie of our auncesters did earnestly seeke and desire were nowe neglected and the price thereof abated although by vs carried to their owne portes and all forreine merchandises in great accompt and their prises wonderfully raised certaine graue citizens of London and men of great wisdom and careful for the good of their country began to think with themselves how this mischief might be remedied Neither was a remedie as it then appeared wanting to their desires for the auoyding of so great an inconuenience for seeing that the wealth of the Spaniards and Portugales by the discouerie and search of new trades and countreys was marueilously increased supposing the same to be a course and meane for them also to obtaine the like they thereupon resolved upon a newe and strange nauigation And whereas at the same time one Sebastian Cabota 1 a man in those dayes very renowned happened to bee in London they began first of all to deale and consult diligently with him and after much speech and conference together it was at last concluded that three shippes should bee prepared and furnished out for the search and discouerie of the northerne part of the world to open a way and passage to our men for trauaile to newe and vnknown kingdomes And whereas many things seemed necessary to bee regarded in this so hard and difficult a matter they first make choyse of certaine graue and wise persons in maner of a senate or companie which should lay their heads together and giue their iudgements and prouide things requisite and profitable for all occasions by this companie it was thought expedient that a certaine summe of money should publicuely bee collected to serue for the furnishing of so many shippes And lest any priuate man should bee too much oppressed and charged a course was taken that euery man willing to be of the societie should disburse the portion of twentie and five pounds a piece so that in short time by this meanes the summe of sixe thousand pounds being gathered the three shippes were bought the most part whereof they prouided to be newly built and trimmed
