Beacons in the Landscape Ian Brown, 2009-07-20 Of all Britain's great archaeological monuments the Iron Age hillforts have arguably had the most profound impact on the landscape if only because there are so many yet we know very little about them Were they recognised as being something special by those who created them or is the hillfort purely an archaeologists construct How were they constructed who lived in them and to what uses were they put This book which is richly illustrated with photography of sites throughout England and Wales addresses these and many other questions After discussing the difficult issue of definition and the great excavations on which our knowledge is based Ian Brown investigates in turn hillforts origins their architecture and the role they played in Iron Age society He also discusses the latest theories about their location social significance and chronology The book provides a valuable synthesis of the rich vein of research carried out in Britain on hillforts over the last thirty years Hillforts great variability poses many problems and this book should help guide both the specialist and non specialist alike though the complex literature Furthermore it has an important conservation objective Land use in the modern era has not been kind to these monuments with a significant number either disfigured or lost Public consciousness of their importance needs raising if their management is to be improved and their future assured      Landscape Architecture ,1922      Carl Sauer on Culture and Landscape William M. Denevan,Kent Mathewson,2009-05-01 Perhaps one of the most distinctive and studied geographers of the twentieth century Carl O Sauer 1889 1975 had influence that extends well beyond the confines of any one discipline With a focus on historical and cultural geography Sauer s essays have garnered praise from poets natural historians and social scientists alike who continue to explore Sauer s work In Carl Sauer on Culture and Landscape editors William M Denevan and Kent Mathewson have compiled thirty seven of Sauer s original works including rare early writings articles in now largely inaccessible publications and transcriptions of key oral presentations that remain little known A student of the relationships between land and life people and places Sauer helped establish landscape studies in cultural geography and paved the way for paradigmatic shifts in the scholarly assessment of Native American history By strongly advocating a land ethic a responsible stewardship of the sustaining earth for his own and for future generations Carl Sauer supplied an esthetic rationale and a historical perspective to the environmental movement The volume opens with two extended essays on Sauer s critics and his works Essays by prominent geographers and other authorities on Sauer introduce each section of the book adding a contemporary element to the presentation and interpretation of Sauer s life and scholarship in areas such as soil conservation man in nature and cultivated plants A complete bibliography of his publications and an extensive compilation of commentaries on his life and work make this an indispensable reference Carl Sauer on Culture and Landscape sheds new light on Sauer s contributions to the history of geographic thought sustainable land use and the importance of biological and cultural diversity all of which remain key issues today      Summary of and Index to Waagen Algernon Graves,1912

Exchange for the Flower, Nursery and Garden Center Trade ,1925      Modern Painters; Their Superiority in the Art of Landscape Painting to All the Ancient Masters Proved ... from the Works of Modern Artists, Especially from Those of J.M.W. Turner Painters,1846      Florists Exchange and Horticultural Trade World ,1925      A Neolithic and Bronze Age Landscape in Northamptonshire Jan Harding,Frances Healy,2013-01-15 The Raunds Area Project investigated more than 20 Neolithic and Bronze Age monuments in the Nene Valley From c 5000 BC to the early 1st millennium cal BC a succession of ritual mounds and burial mounds were built as settlement along the valley sides increased and woodland was cleared Starting as a regular stopping place for flint knapping and domestic tasks first the Long Mound and then Long Barrow the north part of the Turf Mound and the Avenue were built in the 5th millennium BC With the addition of the Long Enclosure the Causewayed Ring Ditch and the Southern Enclosure there was a chain of five or six diverse monuments stretched along the river bank by c 3000 cal BC Later a timber platform the Riverside Structure was built and the focus of ceremonial activity shifted to the Cotton Henge two concentric ditches on the occupied valley side From c 2200 cal BC monument building accelerated and included the Segmented Ditch Circle and at least 20 round barrows almost all containing burials at first inhumations then cremations down to c 1000 cal BC by which time two overlapping systems of paddocks and droveways had

The English Landscape in the Twentieth Century Trevor Rowley,2006-01-01 Trevor Rowley s new study is a highly topical account of the changes that have taken place and that continue to take place on the country around us

Landscape Bionomics Biological-Integrated Landscape Ecology Vittorio Ingegnoli,2015-03-03 Landscape Bionomics or Bio integrated Landscape Ecology radically transforms the main principles of traditional Landscape Ecology by recognizing the landscape as a living entity rather than merely the spatial distribution of species and communities on the territory often analysed in separate themes water species pollution etc To be more exact the landscape is identified as the life organization integrating a set of plants animals and human communities and its system of natural semi natural and human cultural ecosystems in a certain spatial configuration This new perspective inevitably leads to significant changes in how to assess and manage the environment This book represents the culmination of an endeavor begun by the author with the support of Richard Forman and Zev Naveh more than a dozen years ago It builds on the author s previous successful publication Landscape Ecology A Widening Foundation by addressing a range of additional topics and discussing the new theoretical and methodological concepts that have emerged during the past decade of research Particular attention is paid to the fact that interventions in the landscape can be made with the best intentions yet cause serious damage Against this background the author explains the need to study landscape units by applying methods comparable to those used in clinical diagnosis hence ecologists can be viewed as the physicians of ecological systems

Ecological Landscape Design and Planning Jala Makhzoumi,Gloria Pungetti,2003-09-02 The authors of this book offer an holistic methodological approach to the design and planning of landscape based on both research and practical experience

Albrecht Altdorfer and the Origins of Landscape Christopher S. Wood,Albrecht Altdorfer,1993-12 Altdorfer s landscapes offer a densely textured interpretation of that quintessentially German place the forest interior As Wood explains however these scenes far from doctrinally innocent the forest that Altdorfer painted drew and etched is both a refuge from Christian rites and a mythical setting of idolatry In producing his landscapes Altdorfer flaunted and exaggerated the formal principles of a regional pictorial tradition Wood demonstrates that the abrasive surface effects incessant ornamental movement and structural impenetrability of these pictures make them the incunabula of a self resistance to literal readings Altdorfer s landscapes also resemble the exactly contemporary pastorals and allegories of Giovanni Bellini Lorenzo Lotto and Giorgione Because of Altdorfer s influence on the next generation of German and Netherlandish artists his work forms a crucial link between Northern religious imagery and the modern development of landscape of a genre

The Changing Landscape of a Utopia Shmuel Burmil,Ruth Enis,2011 This book appears on the 100 year celebration of the kibbutz movement a century since the establishment of the first kibbutz Deganya Alef in 1910 The kibbutz started as a farming community and over the years has defined and developed its unique ideology of social and economic aspects of self rule equality mutual responsibility and common ownership of the means of production The kibbutz that some define as an utopian community has gradually developed into a community with diverse means of production including leading international industries The book describes the development of the unique system of zoning with landscape and gardens that strongly reflect the ideology This uniqueness was developed while rooted in the Western international tradition of landscape architecture with planners and designers educated mainly in central Europe The book describes the different periods and styles in the development of the kibbutz landscape as well as some of the main landscape issues and elements such as the dominant tree species and the circle It also describes in detail some of the key people involved in the development of the kibbutz landscape and gardens landscape gardeners landscape architects and kibbutz gardeners The dramatic political and economic changes that occurred in Israel have not bypassed the kibbutz for they caused changes in kibbutz ideology and the community s social and economic structures These changes and the changes that they have caused and are still causing in the kibbutz landscape are carefully detailed in the last chapter The dramatic changes in the kibbutz landscape have also led to a discussion of the need for landscape conservation as well and some examples are described

Park and Cemetery and Landscape Gardening, 1924 The European Landscape Convention Michael Jones, Marie Stenseke, 2011-02-09 This important and insightful book provides for the first time a broad presentation of ongoing research into public participation in landscape conservation management and planning following the 2000 European Landscape Convention which came into force in 2004 The book examines both the theory of participation and what lessons can be learnt from specific European examples It explores in what manner and to what extent the provisions for participation in the European Landscape Convention have been followed up and implemented It also presents and compares different experiences of participation in selected countries from northern southern eastern and western Europe and provides a critical examination of public participation in practice However while the book s focus is necessarily on Europe many of the conclusions drawn are of global relevance The book provides a valuable reference for researchers and advanced students in landscape policies and management as well as for professionals and others interested in land use planning and environmental management
