Why Do Linguistics? Fiona English, Tim Marr, 2015-01-29 What do we need to know about language and why do we need to know it This book shows how viewing the world through a linguistics lens can help us to understand how we communicate with each other and why we do it in the ways we do Above all this book is about noticing It is about encouraging readers to pay attention to the language that surrounds them The book addresses fundamental linguistic questions such as Where do people's beliefs about language come from Who decides what language

we should speak How do we choose the best way to express what we mean It introduces a set of practical tools for language analysis and using examples of authentic communicative activity including overheard conversations Facebook posts and public announcements shows how this kind of analysis works and what it can tell us about social interaction Exploring language and language use from a social intercultural and multilingual perspective the authors demonstrate the relevance of linguistics in understanding day to day interaction This book will help readers not only to become informed active observers of language for its own sake but also to be able to take on and challenge some of the misconceptions assumptions and prejudices that so often underlie public discussion of language issues The Asylum Speaker Katrijn Maryns,2014-06-03

Drawing on first hand ethnographic data field interviews with interpreters interviewers and decision makers observations and off record comments The Asylum Speaker examines discursive processes in the asylum procedure and the impact these processes may have on the determination of refugee status The book starts from the assumption that far reaching legal decisions often have to be made on very limited grounds Unable to submit any evidence to substantiate their case the only chance that many asylum seekers have is to argue their case during the oral hearings with public officials at the different asylum agencies Maryns investigates the performance of the asylum seeker during these interviews and analyzes the relationship between narrative structuring and gradations of linguistic competence She explores a number of related questions first how the interaction between applicants and public officials proceeds second how this interaction forms the discursive input into long and complicated textual trajectories and third how the outcome of these discursive processes affects the assessment of asylum applications Maryns demonstrates how propositional aspects play a crucial role in the asylum procedure whereas little attention is paid to narrative linguistic diversity and multilingual speaker repertoires Her analysis reveals how insufficient insight into the linguistic structure and narrative features of the asylum account often results in a deficient processing of important details Identity and Language Learning Bonny Norton,2013-09-27

Identity and Language Learning draws on a longitudinal case study of immigrant women in Canada to develop new ideas about identity investment and imagined communities in the field of language learning and teaching Bonny Norton demonstrates that a poststructuralist conception of identity as multiple a site of struggle and subject to change across time and place is highly productive for understanding language learning Her sociological construct of investment is an important complement to psychological theories of motivation The implications for teaching and teacher education are profound Now including a new comprehensive Introduction as well as an Afterword by Claire Kramsch this second edition addresses the following central questions Under what conditions do language learners speak listen read and write How are relations of power implicated in the negotiation of identity How can teachers address the investments and imagined identities of learners The book integrates research theory and classroom practice and is essential reading for students teachers and researchers in the fields of language learning and teaching TESOL applied linguistics and literacy Children's Peer Cultures in Dialogue

Nicola Nasi, 2024-09-15 Contemporary schools are enlivened by a multitude of children with rather disparate linguistic cultural and socioeconomic backgrounds These children spend most of their school hours in interaction with other children engaging in multifarious activities conflict gossip play humor task related activities that gradually come to constitute the local culture and social organization of their peer group The book illustrates the multimodal and sequential organization of these mundane peer choreographies describing the resources through which children co ordinate their social actions in the complex linguistic and socio material landscape of diverse classrooms Moving beyond the focus on teacher led socialization in previous literature the analyses shed light on the relevance of everyday peer practices to the negotiation of children s social roles and identities and to their overall developmental trajectories in the community The volume adopts an interdisciplinary perspective and addresses scholars from different academic fields including sociology linguistics anthropology social and developmental psychology and education

Teaching and Learning in Multilingual Contexts

Agnieszka Otwinowska, Gessica De Angelis, 2014-01-06 It is clearly illogical to search for one good universal solution for multilingual education when educational contexts differ so widely due to demographic and social factors The situation is further complicated by the motivations of learners and teachers and by attitudes towards multilingualism and otherness The studies in this volume seek to investigate not only whether certain solutions and practices are good but also when and for whom they make sense The book covers a wide range of Western multilingual contexts and uncovers common themes and practices shared aims and preoccupations and often similar solutions within seemingly diverse contexts In addition to chapters based on empirical data this book offers theoretical contributions in the shape of a discussion of the appropriateness of L1 L_n terminology when discussing complex multilingual realities and looks at how the age factor works in classroom settings
