Larry Sultan Here And Home:

Larry Sultan Rebecca Morse, 2014-11-11 This first comprehensive overview of celebrated photographer Larry Sultan's work accompanies a major retrospective and features work from every significant series including Homeland his most recent body of work This first comprehensive overview of celebrated photographer Larry Sultan's work accompanies a major retrospective and features work from every significant series including Evidence 1977 the conceptual project with Mike Mandel which broke ground by demonstrating how context and sequence directly influence our interpretation of photographs Pictures from Home 1982-92 a personal exploration of family and domesticity challenging larger notions of representation through use of contemporary pictures of Sultan's parents contrasted with movie stills from his childhood The Valley 1998-2003 a deliberate inquiry into the subversion of the suburban homes commonly used by the porn industry as sets for films and Homeland 2006-09 Sultan's most recent body of work depicting day laborers posed in evocative California settings suggesting both dislocation and longing Also featured are additional early collaborative works with Mandel selected later career editorial work and writings by and interviews with Sultan elucidating his creative process Before-and-After Photography Jordan Bear, Kate Palmer Albers, 2020-09-25 The before and after trope in photography has long paired images to represent change whether affirmatively as in the results of makeovers social reforms or medical interventions or negatively in the destruction of the environment by the impacts of war or natural disasters This interdisciplinary multi-authored volume examines the central but almost unspoken position of before and after photography found in a wide range of contexts from the 19th century through to the present Packed with case studies that explore the conceptual implications of these images the book's rich language of evidence documentation and persuasion present both historical material and the work of practicing photographers who have deployed and challenged the conventions of the before and after pairing Touching on issues including sexuality race environmental change and criminality Before and After Photography examines major topics of current debate in the critique of photography in an accessible way to allow students and scholars to explore the rich conceptual issues around photography's relationship with time and imagination Formulations Andrew Witt, 2022-01-11 An investigation of mathematics as it was drawn encoded imagined and interpreted by architects on the eve of digitization in the mid twentieth century In Formulations Andrew Witt examines the visual methodological and cultural intersections between architecture and mathematics The linkages Witt explores involve not the mystic transcendence of numbers invoked throughout architectural history but rather architecture's encounters with a range of calculational systems techniques that architects inventively retooled for design Witt offers a catalog of mid twentieth century practices of mathematical drawing and calculation in design that preceded and anticipated digitization as well as an account of the formal compendia that became a cultural currency shared between modern mathematicians and modern architects Witt presents a series of extensively illustrated biographies of method episodes that chart the myriad ways in which mathematics particularly the mathematical notion of modeling and drawing was spliced into the creative practice of design These include early drawing machines that mechanized curvature the incorporation of geometric maquettes theorems made flesh into the toolbox of design the virtualization of buildings and landscapes through surveyed triangulation and photogrammetry formal and functional topology stereoscopic drawing the economic implications of cubic matrices and a strange synthesis of the technological mineral and biological crystallographic design Trained in both architecture and mathematics Witt uses mathematics as a lens through which to understand the relationship between architecture and a much broader set of sciences and visual techniques Through an intercultural exchange with other disciplines he argues architecture adapted not only the shapes and surfaces of mathematics but also its values and epistemic ideals

Lost Days, Endless Nights Andrew Witt, 2025-01-14 A critical study and artist's book on the history of photography and film from Los Angeles Lost Days Endless Nights tells a history from below an account of the lives of the forgotten and dispossessed of Los Angeles the unemployed the precariously employed the evicted the alienated the unhoused the anxious the exhausted Through an analysis of abandoned archival works experimental films and other projects Andrew Witt offers an expansive account of the artists who have lived or worked in Los Angeles delving into the region's history and geography highlighting its racial gender and class conflicts Presented as a series of nine case studies Witt explores how artists as diverse as Agnès Varda Dana Lixenberg Allan Sekula Catherine Opie John Divola Gregory Halpern Paul Sepuya and Guadalupe Rosales have reimagined and reshaped our understanding of contemporary Los Angeles The book features portraits of those who struggle and attempt to get by in the city dock workers students bus riders petty criminals office workers immigrants queer and trans activists Set against the landscape of economic turmoil and environmental crises that shadowed the 1970s Witt highlights the urgent need for a historical perspective of cultural retrieval and counternarrative Extending into the present Lost Days Endless Nights advocates for an approach that actively embraces the works and projects that have been overlooked and evicted from the historical imaginary

Mapping Jewish Identities Laurence J. Silberstein, 2000-07 In his opening remarks Silberstein Jewish studies Lehigh U reflects on the current trend of viewing identity as a mapping process of becoming rather than a fixed construct to be traced Essays by 13 other US and Israeli contributors further advance this non essentialist perspective in regard to Jewish identity viewed through personal narratives photographs Spiegelman's Holocaust Maus comic books the Yiddish question a critique of Zionist ideology Israeli identity and literature Judeo Christian kinship sex differences as discussed in Levinas work and postmodern ideas of individuation without identity c Book News Inc American Jewish Loss After the Holocaust Laura Levitt,2007-11 Many of us belong to communities that have been scarred by terrible calamities And many of us come from families that have suffered grievous losses How we reflect on these legacies of loss and the ways they inform each other are the questions Laura Levitt takes up in this provocative and passionate book An American Jew whose family was not directly affected by the Holocaust Levitt grapples with the challenges of contending with ordinary Jewish loss She suggests that although the memory of the Holocaust may seem to overshadow all other kinds of loss for American Jews it can also open up possibilities for engaging these more personal and everyday legacies Weaving in discussions of her own family stories and writing in a manner that is both deeply personal and erudite Levitt shows what happens when public and private losses are seen next to each other and what happens when difficult works of art or commemoration such as museum exhibits or films are seen alongside ordinary family stories about more intimate losses In so doing she illuminates how through these ordinary stories we may create an alternative model for confronting Holocaust memory in Jewish culture Who's Looking at the Family? Val Williams,Barbican Art Gallery,1994 Handbook of Research on the Relationship Between Autobiographical Memory and Photography Ingham, Mark Bruce Nigel,Milic, Nela,Kantas, Vasileios,Andersdotter, Sara,Lowe, Paul,2023-02-17 Autobiographical memory and photography have been inextricably linked since the first photographs appeared during the 19th century These links have often been described from each other s discipline in ways that often have led to misunderstandings about the complex relationships between them The Handbook of Research on the Relationship Between Autobiographical Memory and Photography covers many aspects of the multiple relationships between autobiographical memory and photography such as the idea that memory and photography can be seen as forms of mental time and the effect photography has on autobiographical memory Covering key topics such as identity trauma and remembrance this major reference work is ideal for industry professionals sociologists psychologists artists researchers scholars academicians practitioners educators and students Train Your Gaze Roswell Angier,2020-09-03 Focusing on the presence of the photographer s gaze as an integral part of constructing meaningful images Roswell Angier combines theory and practice to provide you with the technical advice and inspiration you need to develop your skills in portrait photography Fully updated to take into account advances in creative work and photographic technology this second edition also includes stunning new visuals and a discussion on the role of social media in the practice of portraiture Each chapter includes a practical assignment designed to help you explore various kinds of portrait photography and produce a range of different styles for your creative portfolio The Education of a Photographer Steven Heller,Charles H. Traub,2010-09-21 Ideal for art students at every level Illuminating words about creating great images Published in association with New York s School of Visual Arts What does it mean to become a photographer in the twenty first century

This thoughtful collection of essays illuminates the spirit of the people who make the indelible images of our times. Aspiring and professional photographers especially those in arts programs throughout the United States will appreciate the comprehensive vision of The Education of a Photographer. Classic writings from the twentieth century as well as the thoughts of the most influential talents working today plus essays from designers, editors, and gallery owners make this a compelling look at what drives and inspires photographers to create great work. Allworth Press, an imprint of Skyhorse Publishing, publishes a broad range of books on the visual and performing arts with emphasis on the business of art. Our titles cover subjects such as graphic design, theater, branding, fine art, photography, interior design, writing, acting, film, how to start careers, business, and legal forms, business practices, and more. While we don't aspire to publish a New York Times bestseller or a national bestseller, we are deeply committed to quality books that help creative professionals succeed and thrive. We often publish in areas overlooked by other publishers and welcome the author whose expertise can help our audience of readers.

Ageing and Popular Culture Andrew Blaikie, 1999-03-04 As the grey market perpetuates the quest for eternal youth, the biological realities of deep old age are increasingly denied. Ageing and Popular Culture traces the historical emergence of stereotypes of retirement and documents their recent demise, arguing that although modernisation, marginalisation, and medicalisation created rigid age classifications, the rise of consumer culture has coincided with a postmodern broadening of options for those in the Third Age. With an adroit use of photographs and other visual sources, Andrew Blaikie demonstrates that an expanded leisure phase is breaking down barriers between mid and later life. At the same time, positive ageing also creates new imperatives and new norms with attendant forms of deviance. While baby boomers may anticipate a fulfilling retirement, none relish decline. Has deep old age replaced death as the taboo subject of the late twentieth century? If so, what might be the consequences?

Not Here, Not Now Anthony Dunne, Fiona Raby, 2025-05-06 What it means to design at a time when for many people the future seems to have become an impossibility. When reality fails us, what can designers do? Question design's relationship to reality as Anthony Dunne and Fiona Raby do in this exhilarating yet thoughtful journey to the edges of science, philosophy, and literature to find new ways of thinking about the possible and about the meaning, function, and place of design in that speculative world of not here, not now. A conceptual travelogue of sorts, Not Here, Not Now brings together words, images, and objects that capture in design form some of the ideas encountered along the way. Itself a design experiment, the richly illustrated book explores ways to bring these ideas into conversation with objects through imagined archives, libraries, glossaries, taxonomies, lists, tales, and essays. The design responses in Not Here, Not Now to a stone raft for example, or a vegetable lamb, swatches of imaginary colors, a pocket universe in the home, objects undergoing space-time collapse, are like the most compelling utopias impossible by design, aiming instead to nourish the creative, intellectual, and imaginative ground from which new possibilities still unknown might begin to emerge.

Dwell, 2006-04 At Dwell, we're staging a minor revolution. We think that it's possible to live in a house or apartment by a bold modern architect to own furniture and products that are exceptionally well designed and still be a regular human being We think that good design is an integral part of real life And that real life has been conspicuous by its absence in most design and architecture magazines
