INTRODUCTION

LEGISLATION

More than a 100 European countries in the world have signed European and national laws on manual handling and lifting. These regulations are mostly in the workplace and for employers. The most important European Regulations (1984, 1986 and 1989) apply to most workplaces. However, some countries, for example, the Netherlands, have extended the number of workplaces where these regulations apply.

TYPES OF INJURY

The back is a series of bones with a thin supporting cartilage between them and ligaments, which support the spine. There is a protection mechanism to warn you about potential harm to your back.

The types of injury that occur are:

1. Strains, both immediate and those that occur over time due to repeated movements.

Anywhere in the musculo-skeletal system can be injured.

The purpose of a risk assessment is to:

1. Identify hazardous practices by looking at the Task, Individual, Load and the Environment. Then to decide what can be changed to the situation, to look at the existing conditions and to decide if further action is necessary.

The person carrying out the assessment should be:

1. Able to use the 'Four components of Health and Safety at Work' (Legislation, Risk, Safe Manual Handling, Department, Organisation, Policy and any arrangements or systems).
2. Able to use the processes being carried out.
3. Competent to carry out the task.

The assessment should be written down and the recommendations used upon future assessment procedures.
