National Labor Relations Board, 2016-05 Decisions and Orders of the National Labor Relations Board , Muslim Women in Contemporary North America Meena Sharify-Funk, 2022-12-06

Muslim Women in Contemporary North America is a provocative study of how strongly held and divergent opinions values and beliefs as well as misconceptions overgeneralizations and political agendas pertaining to Muslim women in the region enter the public frame of reference Interrogating contested topics in a series of case studies from both Canada and the United States this book probes below the surface in pursuit of deeper understanding and more productive dialogue Chapters analyze controversies over clash literature dissident reformists female religious leadership veils and the nature of emancipation in a compelling examination of the ways in which Muslim American and Canadian identities and values are being defined differentiated and projected By pinpointing both sources of dissonance and unexpected patterns of resonance among complex composite and at times overlapping identity constellations this book uncovers the impact of controversies on broader cultural negotiations in the United States and Canada Transforming controversy and cliché into genuine conversation Muslim Women in Contemporary North America is an invaluable resource for scholars and students in the fields of Islamic and Muslim Studies Gender Studies International Relations Political Science and Sociology Greater than Equal Sarah Caroline Thuesen, 2013-08-01 During the half century preceding widespread school integration black North Carolinians engaged in a dramatic struggle for equal educational opportunity as segregated schooling flourished Drawing on archival records and oral histories Sarah Thuesen gives voice to students parents teachers school officials and civic leaders to reconstruct this high stakes drama She explores how African Americans pressed for equality in curricula higher education teacher salaries and school facilities how white officials co-opted equalization as a means of forestalling integration and finally how black activism for equality evolved into a fight for something greater than equal integrated schools that served as models of civic inclusion These battles persisted into the Brown era mobilized black communities narrowed material disparities fostered black school pride and profoundly shaped the eventual movement for desegregation Thuesen emphasizes that the remarkable achievements of this activism should not obscure the inherent limitations of a fight for equality in a segregated society In fact these unresolved struggles are emblematic of fault lines that developed across the South and serve as an urgent reminder of the inextricable connections between educational equality racial diversity and the achievement of first class citizenship Not Paved for Us Camika Royal, 2022-07-19 Winner of the 2024 AERA Outstanding Book Award Not Paved for Us chronicles a fifty year period in Philadelphia education and offers a critical look at how school reform efforts do and do not transform outcomes for Black students and educators This illuminating book offers an extensive expert analysis of a school system that bears the legacy hallmarks and consequences that lie at the intersection of race and education Urban education scholar Camika Royal deftly analyzes decades of efforts aimed at improving school performance within the School District of Philadelphia SDP in a brisk survey spanning every SDP superintendency from the 1960s through 2017 Royal interrogates the history of education and educational reforms recounting city state and federal interventions She covers SDP's connections with the Common School Movement and the advent of the Philadelphia Freedom Schools and she addresses federal policy shifts from school desegregation to the No Child Left Behind and Every Student Succeeds Acts Her survey provides sociopolitical context and rich groundwork for a nuanced examination of why many large urban districts struggle to implement reforms with fidelity and in ways that advance Black students academically and holistically In a bracing critique Royal bears witness to the ways in which positive public school reform has been obstructed through racism and racial capitalism but also via liberal ideals neoliberal practices and austerity tactics Royal shows how despite the well intended actions of larger entities the weight of school reform here as in other large urban districts has been borne by educators striving to meet the extensive needs of their students families and communities with only the slightest material financial and human resources She draws on the experiences of Black educators and community members and documents their contributions Not Paved for Us highlights the experiences of Black educators as they navigate the racial and cultural politics of urban school reform Ultimately Royal names dissects and challenges the presence of racism in school reform policies and practices while calling for an antiracist future

Yesterday, Today, and Tomorrow Roslyn Arlin Mickelson, Stephen Samuel Smith, Amy Hawn Nelson, 2017-11-14 Yesterday Today and Tomorrow provides a compelling analysis of the forces and choices that have shaped the trend toward the resegregation of public schools By assembling a wide range of contributors historians sociologists economists and education scholars the editors provide a comprehensive view of a community s experience with desegregation and economic development Here we see resegregation through the lens of Charlotte North Carolina once a national model of successful desegregation and home of the landmark Swann desegregation case which gave rise to school busing This book recounts the last forty years of Charlotte s desegregation and resegregation putting education reform in political and economic context Within a decade of the Swann case the district had developed one of the nation s most successful desegregation plans measured by racial balance and improved academic outcomes for both black and white students However beginning in the 1990s this plan was gradually dismantled Today the level of resegregation in Charlotte has almost returned to what it was prior to 1971 At the core of Charlotte s story is the relationship between social structure and human agency with an emphasis on how yesterday s decisions and actions define today s choices
