S. McDonald,2013-09-24 Whether acting as a military officer or civilian officeholder George Washington did not possess a reputation for glad handing easy confidences or even much warmth His greatest attributes as a commander might well have been his firm command over his own emotions and the way in which he held himself above if not apart from the men he led Understanding the full range of Washington s leadership which embraced all shades of persuasion and coercion as well as multiple modes of command and solicitude requires the examination of his influence on the lives careers and characters of the members of a diverse fraternity of younger men In Sons of the Father leading scholars analyze Washington s relationships with men such as Daniel Morgan Anthony Wayne Thomas Jefferson James Monroe Henry Knox Nathanael Greene Gouverneur Morris Alexander Hamilton and the Marquis de Lafayette The men on whom this volume focuses were not all his closest associates Yet all are important figures in that their interactions with Washington provide glimpses into various aspects of his capacities for management motivation control and the cultivation of talent The essays in this volume demonstrate Washington s consistency in treating all these men differently for different reasons at different times It was perhaps part of his genius to recognize the individuality of the men with whom he interacted as well as the shifting requirements of changing circumstances Contributors Fred Anderson University of Colorado Boulder Theodore J Crackel University of Virginia William M Ferraro University of Virginia Jack P Greene Johns Hopkins University John W Hall University of Wisconsin Madison Peter R Henriques George Mason University Mary Jo Kline University of Virginia Stuart Leibiger La Salle University L Scott Philyaw Western Carolina University Thomas Rider United States Military Academy Brian Steele University of Alabama at Birmingham Mary Stockwell Louisiana State University Shreveport Mark Thompson University of North Carolina at Pembroke Teaching Primary Humanities Russell Grigg,2014-05-22 As primary subjects are increasingly being taught on an interdisciplinary level Russell Grigg and Sioned Hughes have created an innovative new text Teaching Primary Humanities This new text explores current debate encourages reflection and provides clear guidance on planning teaching and assessing the humanities from the Early Years to Key Stage 2 Through a blend of theory and real life examples Grigg and Hughes demonstrate the contribution that history geography and religious education can make to enhancing children s thinking literacy numeracy and ICT skills Whether you are a trainee or a practitioner this book will develop your knowledge of how young children s understanding of place time and community can be fostered through a play based curriculum It will also benefit teachers of older children looking to encourage more independent learning in their schools About the authors Dr Russell Grigg is Head of the South West Wales Centre of Teacher Education He is a trained primary inspector for England and Wales He has written widely in the field of history and primary education including Wales in the Victorian Age and Becoming an Outstanding Primary Teacher Dr Sioned Hughes is Senior Lecturer in Initial Teacher Training at the South West Wales Centre of Teacher Education She has published many educational materials especially in primary geography Her work on Patagonia was recognised by the Welsh Books Council as the Bestselling Children s Book in 2011 Bowker's Law

Books and Serials in Print ,1995 Handbook of Behavioral and Cognitive Geography Daniel R. Montello,2018-04-27

This comprehensive Handbook summarizes existing work and presents new concepts and empirical results from leading scholars in the multidisciplinary field of behavioral and cognitive geography the study of the human mind and activity in and concerning space place and environment It provides the broadest and most inclusive coverage of the field so far including work relevant to human geography cartography and geographic information science Reading Without Maps? Den Tandt Christophe (ed.),2005 Among the intellectual debates of the last forty years the critique of cultural canons has attracted the highest share of public attention stirring academic educational and media controversies on both sides of the Atlantic Postmodernism feminism postcolonialism and multiculturalism have refashioned the attitudes of educators and audiences towards cultural memory opening up curricula to subjects and traditions previously excluded from the humanities Predictably these new critical practices have triggered heated responses from commentators fearing that culture and education might thereby be deprived of their capacity to provide audiences and learners with proper groundings and landmarks The present volume gathers contributions that throw light on multiple aspects of this reconfiguration of cultural memory It brings together essays focusing on the dynamics of canon formation in several fields literature drama film and music Contributors examine how writers and communities find their bearings in a cultural landscape more complex than that previously envisaged by advocates of the Great Tradition Specifically the present essays throw light on the status of modernist writing drama in English or popular genres within the new canonical topography elaborated at the turn of the twenty first century
