The Mathematical Coloring Book Alexander Soifer, 2008-10-13 This is a unique type of book at least I have never encountered a book of this kind The best description of it I can give is that it is a mystery novel developing on three levels and imbued with both educational and philosophical moral issues If this summary description does not help understanding the particular character and allure of the book possibly a more detailed explanation will be found useful One of the primary goals of the author is to interest readers in particular young mathematicians or possibly pre mathematicians in the fascinating world of elegant and easily understandable problems for which no particular mathematical knowledge is necessary but which are very far from being easily solved In fact the prototype of such problems is the following If each point of the plane is to be given a color how many colors do we need if every two points at unit distance are to receive distinct colors More than half a century ago it was established that the least number of colors needed for such a coloring is either 4 or 5 or 6 or 7 Well which is it Despite efforts by a legion of very bright people many of whom developed whole branches of mathematics and solved problems that seemed much harder not a single advance towards the answer has been made This mystery and scores of other similarly simple questions form one level of mysteries explored In doing this the author presents a whole lot of attractive results in an engaging way and with increasing level of depth

Menahem Max Schiffer: Selected Papers Volume 1 Peter Duren, Lawrence Zalcman, 2013-10-17 This two volume set presents over 50 of the most groundbreaking contributions of Menahem M Schiffer All of the reprints of Schiffer's works herein have extensive annotation and invited commentaries giving new clarity and insight into the impact and legacy of Schiffer's work. A complete bibliography and brief biography make this a rounded and invaluable reference.

Metrizable Barrelled Spaces J C Ferrando, M Lopez Pellicer, L M Sanchez Ruiz, 1995-09-28 This text draws together a number of recent results concerning barrelled locally convex spaces from general facts involving cardinality and dimensionality to barrelledness of some familiar vector valued or scalar valued normed spaces of functional analysis and providing a study of some of these spaces. Throughout the exposition the authors show the strong relationship between barrelledness properties and vector valued measure theory.

Data Literacy Neil Smalheiser, 2017-09-05 Data Literacy: How to Make Your Experiments Robust and Reproducible provides an overview of basic concepts and skills in handling data which are common to diverse areas of science. Readers will get a good grasp of the steps involved in carrying out a scientific study and will understand some of the factors that make a study robust and reproducible. The book covers several major modules such as experimental design, data cleansing and preparation, statistical analysis, data management and reporting. No specialized knowledge of statistics or computer programming is needed to fully understand the concepts presented. This book is a valuable source for biomedical and health sciences graduate students and researchers in general who are interested in handling data to make their research reproducible and more efficient. Presents the content in an informal tone and with many examples taken from the daily routine at laboratories. Can be used for self studying or as an optional book for more technical courses. Brings an interdisciplinary approach which may be applied across different areas of sciences.
