Monetary and Capital Markets Department, 2022-09 In response to a request from the Central Bank of the Congo BCC the Monetary and Capital Markets Department of the International Monetary Fund IMF conducted a Financial Sector Stability Review FSSR mission virtually during January 5-28, 2022. The FSSR performed a diagnostic of the financial system, reviewed progress in implementing previous IMF technical assistance (TA) recommendations and developed a draft Technical Assistance Roadmap to help strengthen the BCC's capacity in the areas covered by the FSSR. The FSSR also for the first time covered gender inclusion in financial supervision. It identified five macrofinancial vulnerabilities pertaining to: i) the quality of the banking system's capital base; ii) the difficulty in evaluating nonperforming loans following the COVID-19 financial support measures; iii) risks related to financial dollarization; iv) the impact on correspondent banking relationships of de-risking; and v) intragroup exposures as bank subsidiaries in the DRC place surplus funds with parent companies abroad. The BCC's adoption of COVID-19 exit measures in December 2021, including specific reporting requirements, should provide momentum for additional TA in the near term to help the BCC analyze banks' asset quality going forward. The Lawyer's Business
