Fire protection type alarms are generally more effective at detecting fire, warning you, and alerting your family more quickly and easily. Alarms of most types include thermate (heat) or ionize (smoke) sensing in a smoke chamber. The photoelectric type alarm are generally more effective at detecting fires, including fires which cannot be seen before burning into flames. Some of these fires may include cigarette burning in a room or bedding. However, both types of alarm are designed to provide adequate detection of both types of fires. If you desire the benefits of both systems, you should select smoke alarm that combine all two alarm (dual photoelectric and ionization sensing technology).
