Ioffe, 2014-10-05 What are the factors of Lukashenka's longevity at the helm of power This question is addressed in the context of Belarusian history and identity not as an outcome of a form of government deceitfully imposed on an allegedly benighted people whom better positioned and informed outsiders seek to enlighten and liberate

The Politics of Sustainability in the Arctic Ulrik Pram Gad, Jeppe Strandsbjerg, 2018-10-04 The Politics of Sustainability in the Arctic argues that sustainability is a political concept because it defines and shapes competing visions of the future In current Arctic affairs prominent stakeholders agree that development needs to be sustainable but there is no agreement over what it is that needs to be sustained In original conservationist discourse the environment was the sole referent object of sustainability however as sustainability discourses have expanded the concept has been linked to an increasing number of referent objects such as society economy culture and identity This book sets out a theoretical framework for understanding and analysing sustainability as a political concept and provides a comprehensive empirical investigation of Arctic sustainability discourses Presenting a range of case studies from Greenland Norway Canada Russia Iceland and Alaska the chapters in this volume analyse the concept of sustainability and how actors are employing and contesting this concept in specific regions within the Arctic In doing so the book demonstrates how sustainability is being given new meanings in the postcolonial Arctic and what the political implications are for postcoloniality nature and development more broadly Beyond those interested in the Arctic this book will also be of great value to students and scholars of sustainability sustainable development and identity and environmental politics

The European Union and the Black Sea Sinem Akgul Acikmese, Dimitrios Triantaphyllou, 2017-10-02 The idea for this book is derived from the scantiness of academic references on the European Union's policies towards the Black Sea relative to this region's officially stated significance for the EU Even though the EU plays a vital role in Black Sea political agendas the EU's cooperation with the region is not extensively covered by academic discussions and literature This is mostly due to the fact that the EU's focus on foreign affairs is mainly associated with the Balkans as part the current and potential expansion and the Middle East as a direct consequence of the upheaval of the Arab Spring The Black Sea region is crucially important for the EU because of the opportunities and challenges that the region presents both politically and socio economically Contributions to this book mostly focus on specific issues of EU Black Sea cooperation from conflict to the environment to democracy and how these particular relationships are perceived within the region as well as through the lenses of stakeholders such as Russia Turkey and the USA Overall the collection focuses on projecting a more efficient role and a holistic strategy for the EU in its approach towards the Black Sea region testifying to the need for a strong EU presence For this reason the Black Sea area remains the neighbourhood too close to yet still far from the European Union This book was originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Balkan and Near Eastern Studies

Experiencing 11 November 2018 Shanti Sumartojo, 2020-11-10 In a unique collection of international and interdisciplinary research this book focuses on commemorative events around the world on the same day 11 November 2018 the centenary of Armistice Day the end of the First World War It argues that we need to move beyond discourse narrative and how historical events are represented to fully understand what commemoration does socially politically and culturally Adopting an experiential reframing treats sensory affective and emotional feelings as fundamental to how we collectively understand shared histories and through them shared identities The volume features 15 case studies from ten countries covering a variety of settings and national contexts specific to the First World War Together the chapters demonstrate that a new conceptualisation of commemoration is needed one that attends to how it feels

The Meritocracy Trap Daniel Markovits, 2020-09-08 A revolutionary new argument from eminent Yale Law professor Daniel Markovits attacking the false promise of meritocracy It is an axiom of American life that advantage should be earned through ability and effort Even as the country divides itself at every turn the meritocratic ideal that social and economic rewards should follow achievement rather than breeding reigns supreme Both Democrats and Republicans insistently repeat meritocratic notions Meritocracy cuts to the heart of who we are It sustains the American dream But what if both up and down the social ladder meritocracy is a sham Today meritocracy has become exactly what it was conceived to resist a mechanism for the concentration and dynastic transmission of wealth and privilege across generations Upward mobility has become a fantasy and the embattled middle classes are now more likely to sink into the working poor than to rise into the professional elite At the same time meritocracy now ensnares even those who manage to claw their way to the top requiring rich adults to work with crushing intensity exploiting their expensive educations in order to extract a return All this is not the result of deviations or retreats from meritocracy but rather stems directly from meritocracy's successes This is the radical argument that Daniel Markovits prosecutes with rare force Markovits is well placed to expose the sham of meritocracy Having spent his life at elite universities he knows from the inside the corrosive system we are trapped within Markovits also knows that if we understand that meritocratic inequality produces near universal harm we can cure it When The Meritocracy Trap reveals the inner workings of the meritocratic machine it also illuminates the first steps outward towards a new world that might once again afford dignity and prosperity to the American people

Sand, Snow, and Stardust Gretchen Heefner, 2025-05-05 A vivid tour of US military efforts to understand survive and command harsh environments worldwide and beyond Deserts the Arctic outer space these extreme environments are often seen as inhospitable places at the edges of our maps But from the 1940s through the 1960s spurred by the diverse and unfamiliar regions the US military had navigated during World War II the United States defense establishment took a keen interest in these places dispatching troops to the Aleutian Islands North Africa the South Pacific and beyond To preserve the country's status as a superpower after the war to pave runways and build bridges engineers had to understand and then conquer dunes permafrost and even the surface of the moon Sand Snow and Stardust explores how the US military generated a new understanding of these environments and attempted to master them intending to cement America's planetary power Operating in these regions depended as much on scientific and cultural knowledge as on military expertise and technology From General George S Patton learning the hard way that the desert is not always hot to the challenges of constructing a scientific research base under the Arctic ice to the sheer implausibility of modeling Martian environments on Earth Gretchen Heefner takes us on a wry expedition into the extremes and introduces us to the people who have shaped our insight into these extraordinary environments Even decades after the first manned space flight plans for human space exploration and extraplanetary colonization are still based on what we know about stark habitats on Earth An entertaining survey of the relationship between environmental history and military might Sand Snow and Stardust also serves as a warning about the further transformation of the planet whether through desertification melting ice caps or attempts to escape it entirely
