Congress. House. Committee on Appropriations. Subcommittee on Commerce, Justice, Science, and Related Agencies,2015 Maritime Mobilities Jason Monios,Gordon Wilmsmeier,2017-12-01 The central concerns of mobilities research exploring the broader context and human aspects of movement are fundamental to an understanding of the maritime freight transport sector Challenges to the environment attempts at more sustainable practices changes in the geoeconomic system political power labour economic development and governance issues are all among the topics covered in this book The aim of this volume is to address issues of maritime transport not only in the simple context of movement but within the mobilities paradigm The goal is to examine negative system effects caused by blockages and inefficiencies examine delays and wastage of resources identify negative externalities explore power relations and identify the winners and losers in the globalised trade system with a particular focus on the maritime network Maritime Mobilities therefore aims to build a bridge between traditional maritime academic approaches and the mobilities paradigm This volume is of great importance to those who study industrial economics shipping industries and transport geography The Palgrave Handbook of Disciplinary and Regional Approaches to Peace Oliver Richmond,Sandra Pogodda,Jasmin Ramovic,2016-03-15 In this handbook a diverse range of leading scholars consider the social cultural economic political and developmental underpinnings of peace This handbook is a much needed response to the failures of contemporary peacebuilding missions and narrow disciplinary debates both of which have outlined the need for more interdisciplinary work in International Relations and Peace and Conflict studies Scholars students and policymakers are often disillusioned with universalist and northern dominated approaches and a better understanding of the variations of peace and its building blocks across different regions is required Collectively these chapters promote a more differentiated notion of peace employing comparative analysis to explain how peace is debated and contested Future North Janike Kampevold Larsen, Peter Hemmersam, 2018-04-09 The changing Arctic is of broad political concern and is being studied across many fields This book investigates ongoing changes in the Arctic from a landscape perspective It examines settlements and territories of the Barents Sea Coast Northern Norway the Russian Kola Peninsula Svalbard and Greenland from an interdisciplinary design based and future oriented perspective The Future North project has travelled Arctic regions since 2012 mapped landscapes and settlements documented stories and practices and discussed possible futures with local actors Reflecting the multidisciplinary nature of the project the authors in this book look at political and economic strategies urban development land use strategies and local initiatives in specific locations that are subject to different forces of change This book explores current material conditions in the Arctic as effects of industrial and political agency and social initiatives It provides a combined view on the built environment and urbanism as well as the cultural and material landscapes of the Arctic The chapters move beyond single disciplinary perspectives on the Arctic and engage with futures cultural landscapes and communities in ways that build on both architectural and ethnographic participatory methods Geographical Data

Science and Spatial Data Analysis Lex Comber, Chris Brunsdon, 2020-12-02 We are in an age of big data where all of our everyday interactions and transactions generate data Much of this data is spatial it is collected some where and identifying analytical insight from trends and patterns in these increasing rich digital footprints presents a number of challenges Whilst other books describe different flavours of Data Analytics in R and other programming languages there are none that consider Spatial Data i e the location attached to data or that consider issues of inference linking Big Data Geography GIS Mapping and Spatial Analytics This is a learning by doing textbook building on the previous book by the same authors An Introduction to R for Spatial Analysis and Mapping It details the theoretical issues in analyses of Big Spatial Data and developing practical skills in the reader for addressing these with confidence Local and Regional Development Andy Pike, Andrés

Rodriguez-Pose, John Tomaney, 2016-07-15 Actors and institutions in localities and regions across the world are seeking prosperity and well being amidst tumultuous and disruptive shifts and transitions generated by an increasingly globalised knowledge intensive capitalism global financial instability volatility and crisis concerns about economic social and ecological sustainability climate change and resource shortages new multi actor and multi level systems of government and governance and a re ordering of the international political economy state austerity and retrenchment and new and reformed approaches to intervention policy and institutions for local and regional development Local and Regional Development provides an accessible critical and integrated examination of local and regional development theory institutions and policy in this changing context Amidst its rising importance the book addresses the fundamental issues of what kind of local and regional development and for whom its purposes principles and values frameworks of understanding approaches and interventions and integrated approaches to local and regional development throughout the world The approach provides a theoretically informed critical analysis of contemporary local and regional development in an international and multi disciplinary context grounded in concrete empirical analysis from experiences in the global North and South It concludes by identifying what might constitute holistic inclusive progressive and sustainable local and regional development and reflecting upon its limits and political renewal

Organic Food and Farming in China Steffanie Scott,Zhenzhong Si,Theresa Schumilas,Aijuan Chen,2018-10-03 Despite reports of food safety and quality scandals China has a rapidly expanding organic agriculture and food sector and there is a revolution in ecological food and ethical eating in China s cities This book shows how a set of social economic cultural and environmental conditions have converged to shape the development of a formal organic sector created by top down state developed standards and regulations and an informal organic sector created by bottom up grassroots struggles for safe healthy and sustainable food This is generating a new civil movement focused on ecological agriculture and quality food Organic movements and markets have typically emerged in industrialized food systems that are characterized by private land ownership declining small farm sectors consolidated farm to retail chains predominance of supermarket retail standards and laws to safeguard food safety and an active civil society sector The authors contrast this with the Chinese context with its unique version of capitalism with social characteristics collective farmland ownership and predominance of smallholder agriculture and emerging diverse marketing channels China s experience also reflects a commitment to domestic food security evolving food safety legislation and a civil society with limited autonomy from a semi authoritarian state that keeps shifting the terrain of what is permitted The book will be of great interest to advanced students and researchers of agricultural and food systems and policy as well as rural sociology and Chinese studies

Intergenerational Mobilities Lesley Murray,Susan Robertson,2016-10-04 Drawing from work on mobilities and geographies of the lifecourse this collection is concerned with the ways in which age as a relational concept is constructed and played out in mobile urban space With studies of ageing and mobility often focusing on discrete age groups most notably children and older people this study seeks to fill a gap in existing literature by exploring mobility in relation to the lifecourse and generation looking not only at the margins Whilst some generations are increasingly mobile others are less so and this disparity in mobility opportunity is relational as age is relational This book addresses gaps in knowledge in relational geographies of ageing whilst contributing to literature on mobility and transport in particular the burgeoning field of mobility in justice Here mobility is considered in its broadest sense for example in relation to the movement or lack of movement of bodies and to computer mediated intergenerational communications Through focusing on urban mobile spaces from very local spaces of medical care to global spaces of migration that are the context for intergenerational mobilities this collection explores these interdependencies and considers ways in which intergenerational mobilities are conceptualised and researched

Russia's Geoeconomic Strategy for a Greater Eurasia Glenn Diesen,2017-07-06 This book explains how Russia is adjusting to its ongoing realignment towards Asia while engaging in a parallel assessment of Russia s interactions with other significant actors in the region China the US the EU and NATO Growing Community Forests Ryan Bullock, Gayle Broad, Lynn Palmer, M.A. (Peggy) Smith, 2017-10-13 Canada is experiencing an unparalleled crisis involving forests and communities across the country While municipalities policy makers and industry leaders acknowledge common challenges such as an overdependence on US markets rising energy costs and lack of diversification no common set of solutions has been developed and implemented Ongoing and at times contentious public debate has revealed an appetite and need for a fundamental rethinking of the relationships that link our communities governments industrial partners and forests towards a more sustainable future The creation of community forests is one path that promises to build resilience in forest communities and ecosystems This model provides local control over common forest lands in order to activate resource development opportunities benefits and social responsibilities Implementing community forestry in practice has proven to be a complex task however there are no road maps or well developed and widely tested models for community forestry in Canada But in settings where community forests have taken hold there is a rich and growing body of experience to draw on The contributors to Growing Community Forests include leading researchers practitioners Indigenous representatives government representatives local advocates and students who are actively engaged in sharing experiences resources and tools of significance to forest resource communities policy makers and industry Improving Research-Based Knowledge of College Promise Programs Laura W. Perna, Edward J. Smith, 2020-03-20 Also known as free tuition and free college programs college promise programs are an emerging approach for increasing higher education attainment of people in particular places To maximize the effectiveness of their efforts and investments program leaders and policymakers need research based evidence to inform program design implementation and evaluation With the goal of addressing this knowledge need this volume presents a collection of research studies that examine several categories and variations of college promise programs These theoretically grounded empirical investigations use varied data sources and analytic techniques to examine the effects of college promise programs that have different design features and operate in different places Individually and collectively the results of these studies have implications for the design and implementation of promise programs if these programs are to create meaningful improvements in attainment for people from underserved groups The authors efforts also provide a useful foundation for the next generation of college promise research Intergenerational Space Robert Vanderbeck, Nancy Worth, 2015-06-03 Intergenerational Space offers insight into the transforming relationships between younger and older members of contemporary societies The chapter selection brings together scholars from around the world in order to address pressing questions both about the nature of contemporary generational divisions as well as the complex ways in which members of different generations are and can be involved in each other's lives These questions include how do particular kinds of spaces and spatial arrangements e.g. cities neighbourhoods institutions leisure sites facilitate and limit intergenerational contact and encounters What processes and spaces influence the intergenerational negotiation and contestation of values beliefs and social memory producing patterns of both continuity and change And if generational separation and segregation are in fact significant social problems across a range of contexts as a significant body of research and commentary attests how can this be ameliorated The chapters in this collection make original contributions to these debates drawing on original research from Belgium China Finland Poland Senegal Singapore Tanzania Uganda the United States and the United Kingdom Our Social World Jeanne H. Ballantine,Keith A. Roberts,Kathleen Odell

Korgen,2016-11-30 Inspire your students to develop their sociological imaginations in Our Social World Focused on deep learning rather than memorization this book encourages readers to analyze evaluate and apply information about the social world to see the connection between the world and personal events from a new perspective and to confront sociological issues on a day to day basis Organized around the Social World Model a conceptual framework used across chapters to see the complex links between various micro to macro levels of the social system students will develop the practice of using three levels of analysis and to view sociology as an integrated whole rather than a set of discrete subjects The European Union and the Geopolitics of the Arctic Andreas Rasputnik,2018-01-26 The Arctic is a region that has seen exponential growth as a space of geopolitical interest over the past decade This insightful book is the first to analyse the European Union s Arctic policy endeavours of the early 21st Century from a critical geopolitical perspective Social Transformation and
