Geography Scope 2014 November:

Nothing Personal? Nick Gill, 2016-02-23 In this groundbreaking new study Nick Gill provides a conceptually innovative account of the ways in which indifference to the desperation and hardship faced by thousands of migrants fleeing persecution and exploitation comes about. Features original unpublished empirical material from four Economic and Social Research Council ESRC funded projects. Challenges the consensus that border controls are necessary or desirable in contemporary society. Demonstrates how immigration decision makers are immersed in a suffocating web of institutionalized processes that greatly hinder their objectivity and limit their access to alternative perspectives. Theoretically informed throughout drawing on the work of a range of social theorists including Max Weber, Zygmunt Bauman, Emmanuel Levinas and Georg Simmel.

Dreams in the New Century Gary R. Mormino, 2022-05-17 Eminent historian Gary Mormino illuminates early twenty-first century Florida and its connections to some of the most significant events in contemporary American history, taking stock of a tumultuous decade of change and explaining the state's social, cultural and political intricacies. EU Regional Trade Agreements Maryna Rabinovych, 2021-04-07 This book unveils the potential of utilizing EU Regional Trade Agreements (RTAs) as an instrument of promoting the rule of law to third states. In doing so, the book combines development economics, foreign policy and legal perspectives at three levels of analysis of four sectors to introduce the concept of EU value promoting RTAs. The book demonstrates that the EU RTAs bear considerable potential to be strategized as instruments of promoting the rule of law in third states, requiring however overcoming strict divides between EU political and economic cooperation and values and acquis conditionality in its relations with third countries. This book will be of key interest to scholars and students of European Studies, European Union Law, EU external action, foreign policy, EU trade agreements and Development Studies, as well as to NGOs and think tanks that work on European affairs. Everyday War Greta Lynn

Uehling, 2023-02-15 Everyday War provides an accessible lens through which to understand what noncombatant civilians go through in a country at war. What goes through the mind of a mother who must send her child to school across a minefield or the men who belong to groups of volunteer body collectors in Ukraine? Such questions have been part of the daily calculus of life. Greta Uehling engages with the lives of ordinary people living in and around the armed conflict over Donbas that began in 2014 and shows how conventional understandings of war are incomplete. In Ukraine, landscapes filled with death and destruction prompted attentiveness to human vulnerabilities and the cultivation of everyday interpersonal peace. Uehling explores a constellation of social practices where ethics of care were in operation. People were also drawn into the conflict in an everyday form of war that included provisioning fighters with military equipment; they purchased themselves smuggling insulin and cutting ties to former friends. Each chapter considers a different site where care can produce interpersonal peace or its antipode, everyday war. Bridging the fields of political geography, international relations, peace and conflict studies and anthropology, Everyday War considers where peace can be cultivated at an everyday level. Global Production Networks

Neil M. Coe, Henry Wai-chung Yeung, 2015-04-30 Accelerating processes of economic globalization have fundamentally reshaped the organization of the global economy towards much greater integration and functional interdependence through cross border economic activity In this interconnected world system a new form of economic organization has emerged Global Production Networks GPNs This brings together a wide array of economic actors most notably capitalist firms state institutions labour unions consumers and non government organizations in the transnational production of economic value National and sub national economic development in this highly interdependent global economy can no longer be conceived of and understood within the distinct territorial boundaries of individual countries and regions Instead global production networks are organizational platforms through which actors in these different national or regional economies compete and cooperate for a larger share of the creation transformation and capture of value through transnational economic activity They are also vehicles for transferring the value captured between different places This book ultimately aims to develop a theory of global production networks that explains economic development in the interconnected global economy While primarily theoretical in nature it is well grounded in cutting edge empirical work in the parallel and highly impactful strands of social science literature on the changing organization of the global economy relating to global commodity chains GCC global value chains GVC and global production networks GPN

Rethinking Life at the Margins Michele Lancione, 2016-04-20

Experimenting with new ways of looking at the contexts subjects processes and multiple political stances that make up life at the margins this book provides a novel source for a critical rethinking of marginalisation Drawing on post colonialism and critical assemblage thinking the rich ethnographic works presented in the book trace the assemblage of marginality in multiple case studies encompassing the Global North and South These works are united by the approach developed in the book characterised by the refusal of a priori definitions and by a post human and grounded take on the assemblage of life The result is a nuanced attention to the potential expressed by everyday articulations and a commitment to produce a processual vitalist and non normative cultural politics of the margins The reader will find in this book unique challenges to accepted and authoritative thinking and provides new insights into researching life at the margins Commemorative Spaces of the First World War James Wallis, David C. Harvey, 2017-07-20 This is the first book to bring together an interdisciplinary theoretically engaged and global perspective on the First World War through the lens of historical and cultural geography. Reflecting the centennial interest in the conflict, the collection explores the relationships between warfare and space and pays particular attention to how commemoration is connected to spatial elements of national identity and processes of heritage and belonging. Venturing beyond military history and memory studies, contributors explore conceptual contributions of geography to analyse the First World War as well as reflecting upon the imperative for an academic discussion on the War's centenary. This book explores the War's impact in more unexpected theatres, blurring the boundary between home and fighting fronts, investigating the experiences of the war amongst civilians and often overlooked combatants. It also critically examines the politics of hindsight in the post-war period and offers an historical geographical account of how the First World War has been memorialised within official spaces, in addition to those overlooked and often undervalued alternative spaces of commemoration. This innovative and timely text will be key reading for students and scholars of the First World War and more broadly in historical and cultural geography, social and cultural history, European history, Heritage Studies, military history and memory studies.

A Companion to Experimental Cinema Federico Windhausen, 2022-08-22 An exploration of what experimental cinema was, is, and might become. A Companion to Experimental Cinema is a collection of original essays organized around both theoretical and historical issues of concern to film scholars, programmers, filmmakers, and viewers. Newly commissioned essays written by specialists in the field, along with dialogues conducted with a diverse range of practitioners, focus on core subjects to present an international array of overlapping and contrasting perspectives. This unique text not only provides detailed accounts of particular films and filmmakers but also discusses new approaches of understanding, characterizing, and shaping experimental cinema. The Companion offers readers an accessible point of entry to the material while seeking to contribute to scholarly debates. Essays explore a wide range of topics within the realm of experimental film, including the shift from traditional biography to broader contexts, the increased attention afforded to local and transnational circuits of exchange, and the deepening of theoretical considerations regarding cultural identity and cinematic aesthetics. Key themes and concepts are interwoven throughout the text, offering fresh perspectives on experimental cinema's dialogues with other modes and practices of film and video, its interactions with the non-cinematic arts, its responses to changing technological landscapes, and more. An essential addition to the field, the Companion balances introductory summaries and scholarly dialogue with existing literature. Explores how the study of experimental cinema can benefit from scholarship in other disciplines. Includes numerous analyses of films that are readily available to view via digital media. Discusses both canonical and obscure or neglected works. Examines the effects of the growing diversification of experimental film scholarship. A Companion to Experimental Cinema is a valuable resource for scholars of film studies and art history, curators and programmers, critics and bloggers, filmmakers and artists, and anyone interested in exploring experimental or avant garde cinema The Integration Imperative Michael P. Gillingham, Greg R. Halseth, Chris J. Johnson, Margot W. Parkes, 2016-04-05 The purpose of this work is to develop a better understanding and thinking about the cumulative impacts of multiple natural resource development projects Cumulative impacts are now one of the most pressing but complex challenges facing governments industry communities and conservation and natural resource professionals There has been technical and policy research exploring how cumulative environmental impacts can be assessed and managed These studies however have failed to consider the necessary integration of community environment and health Informed by knowledge and experience in northern British Columbia this book seeks to expand our understanding of the cumulative impacts of natural resource development through an integrated lens The book offers a timely response to a growing imperative proposing integrative response to multiple natural resource developments in a way that addresses converging environment community and health issues Informed by the editors experiences across several complementary areas of expertise we envision this book as appealing to a wide range of researchers educators and practitioners with relevance to a growing audience with appetite for and interest in integrative approaches Population Health David B. Nash, Raymond J. Fabius, Alexis Skoufalos, Janice L. Clarke, Melissa R. Horowitz, 2015-03-16 Preceded by Population health David B Nash et al c2011 Cyber Society, Big Data, and Evaluation Jonathan D. Breul, 2017-01-31 We are living in a cyber society Mobile devices social media the Internet crime cameras and other diverse sources can be pulled together to form massive datasets known as big data which make it possible to learn things we could not begin to comprehend otherwise While private companies are using this macroscopic tool policy makers and evaluators have been slower to adopt big data to make and evaluate public policy Cyber Society Big Data and Evaluation shows ways big data is now being used in policy evaluation and discusses how it will transform the role of evaluators in the future Arguing that big data will play a permanent and growing role in policy evaluation especially since results may be delivered almost in real time the contributors declare that the evaluation community must rise to the challenge or risk being marginalized This volume suggests that evaluators must redefine their tools in relation to big data obtain competencies necessary to work with it and collaborate with professionals already experienced in using big data By adding evaluators expertise for example in theory driven evaluation using repositories making value judgements and applying findings policy makers and evaluators can come to make better informed decisions and policies International Conference on Education and Management Science (ICEMS2014) ,2014-09-24 2014 International Conference on Education and Management Science ICEMS2014 will be held in Beijing China on August 19 20 2014 The main purpose of this conference is to provide a common forum for researchers scientists and students from all over the world to present their recent findings ideas developments and application in the border areas of Education and Management Science It will also report progress and development of methodologies technologies planning and implementation tools and standards in information systems Education is an internal topic It is a process of delivering

Geography Scope 2014 November Introduction

In today's digital age, the availability of Geography Scope 2014 November books and manuals for download has revolutionized the way we access information. Gone are the days of physically flipping through pages and carrying heavy textbooks or manuals. With just a few clicks, we can now access a wealth of knowledge from the comfort of our own homes or on the go. This article will explore the advantages of Geography Scope 2014 November books and manuals for download, along with some popular platforms that offer these resources. One of the significant advantages of Geography Scope 2014 November books and manuals for download is the cost-saving aspect. Traditional books and manuals can be costly, especially if you need to purchase several of them for educational or professional purposes. By accessing Geography Scope 2014 November versions, you eliminate the need to spend money on physical copies. This not only saves you money but also reduces the environmental impact associated with book production and transportation. Furthermore, Geography Scope 2014 November books and manuals for download are incredibly convenient. With just a computer or smartphone and an internet connection, you can access a vast library of resources on any subject imaginable. Whether you're a student looking for textbooks, a professional seeking industry-specific manuals, or someone interested in self-improvement, these digital resources provide an efficient and accessible means of acquiring knowledge. Moreover, PDF books and manuals offer a range of benefits compared to other digital formats. PDF files are designed to retain their formatting regardless of the device used to open them. This ensures that the content appears exactly as intended by the author, with no loss of formatting or missing graphics. Additionally, PDF files can be easily annotated, bookmarked, and searched for specific terms, making them highly practical for studying or referencing. When it comes to accessing Geography Scope 2014 November books and manuals, several platforms offer an extensive collection of resources. One such platform is Project Gutenberg, a nonprofit organization that provides over 60,000 free eBooks. These books are primarily in the public domain, meaning they can be freely distributed and downloaded. Project Gutenberg offers a wide range of classic literature, making it an excellent resource for literature enthusiasts. Another popular platform for Geography Scope 2014 November books and manuals is Open Library. Open Library is an initiative of the Internet Archive, a non-profit organization dedicated to digitizing cultural artifacts and making them accessible to the public. Open Library hosts millions of books, including both public domain works and contemporary titles. It also allows users to borrow digital copies of certain books for a limited period, similar to a library lending system. Additionally, many universities and educational institutions have their own digital libraries that provide free access to PDF books and manuals. These libraries often offer academic texts, research papers, and technical manuals, making them invaluable resources for students and researchers. Some notable examples include MIT OpenCourseWare, which offers free access to course materials from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and the Digital Public Library of America, which provides a vast collection of digitized books and historical documents. In conclusion, Geography Scope 2014 November books and manuals for download have transformed the way we access information. They provide a cost-effective and convenient means of acquiring knowledge, offering the ability to access a vast library of resources at our fingertips. With platforms like Project Gutenberg, Open Library, and various digital libraries offered by educational institutions, we have access to an ever-expanding collection of books and manuals. Whether for educational, professional, or personal purposes, these digital resources serve as valuable tools for continuous learning and self-improvement. So why not take advantage of the vast world of Geography Scope 2014 November books and manuals for download and embark on your journey of knowledge?
