Children, Young People and Critical Geopolitics Matthew C. Benwell, Peter Hopkins, 2017-05-15 Young people and in particular children have typically been marginalised in geopolitical research positioned as too young to understand or relate to the adult dominated world of international relations Integrating current debates in critical geopolitics and political geography with research in children s geographies childhood studies and youth research this book sets out an agenda for the field of children s and young people s critical geopolitics It considers diverse practices such as play activism media consumption and diplomacy to show how children s and young people s lives relate to wider regional and global geopolitical processes Engaging with contemporary concepts in human geography including ludic geopolitics affect emotional geographies intergenerationality creative diplomacy popular geopolitics and citizenship the authors draw on geopolitical research with children and young people from Europe Asia Australasia Africa and the Americas The chapters highlight the ways in which young people can be enrolled ignored dismissed empowered and represented by the state for geopolitical ends Notwithstanding this state power the research presented also shows how young people have agency and make decisions about their lives which are influenced by wider geopolitical processes The focus on the lives of children and young people problematises and extends what it is we think of when considering the geopolitical which enriches as well as advances critical geopolitical enquiry and deserves to be taken seriously by political geographies more broadly

The Life Cycle of Clusters Dirk Fornahl, Robert Hassink, 2017-04-28 One size fits all cluster policies have been rightly criticized in the literature One promising approach is to focus cluster policies on the specific needs of firms depending on the stage of development emergence growth sustainment or decline their cluster is in In this highly insightful book these stage specific cluster policies are analysed and evaluated Moreover several chapters also focus on smart specialization policies to promote regional development by taking into account the emergence and adaptation of clusters and industries

The Routledge History of Rural America Pamela Riney-Kehrberg, 2016-04-14 The Routledge History of Rural America charts the course of rural life in the United States raising questions about what makes a place rural and how rural places have shaped the history of the nation Bringing together leading scholars to analyze a wide array of themes in rural history and culture this text is a state of the art resource for students scholars and educators at all levels This Routledge History provides a regional context for understanding change in rural communities across America and examines a number of areas where the history of rural people has deviated from the American mainstream Readers will come away with an enhanced understanding of the interplay between urban and rural areas a knowledge of the regional differences within the rural United States and an awareness of the importance of agriculture and rural life to American society The book is divided into four main sections regions of rural America rural lives in context change and development and resources for scholars and teachers Examining the essays on the regions of rural America readers can discover what makes New England different from the South and why the Midwest and Mountain West are quite different places The chapters on rural lives provide an entrance into the social and cultural history of rural peoples women children and men as well as a description of some of the forces shaping rural communities such as immigration race and religious difference Chapters on change and development examine the forces molding the countryside such as rural urban tensions technological change and increasing globalization The final section will help scholars and educators integrate rural history into their research writing and classrooms By breaking the field of rural history into so many pieces this volume adds depth and complexity to the history of the United States shedding light on an understudied aspect of the American mythology and beliefs about the American dream

Rules without Rights Tim Bartley, 2018-02-08

Activists have exposed startling forms of labor exploitation and environmental degradation in global industries leading many large retailers and brands to adopt standards for fairness and sustainability This book is about the idea that transnational corporations can push these standards through their global supply chains and in effect pull factories forests and farms out of their local contexts and up to global best practices For many scholars and practitioners this kind of private regulation and global standard setting can provide an alternative to regulation by territorially bound gridlocked or incapacitated nation states potentially improving environments and working conditions around the world and protecting the rights of exploited workers impoverished farmers and marginalized communities But can private voluntary standards actually create meaningful forms of regulation Are forests and factories around the world actually being made into sustainable ecosystems and decent workplaces Can global norms remake local orders This book provides striking new answers by comparing the private regulation of land and labor in democratic and authoritarian settings Case studies of sustainable forestry and fair labour standards in Indonesia and China show not only how transnational standards are implemented on the ground but also how they are constrained and reconfigured by domestic governance Combining rich multi method analyses a powerful comparative approach and a new theory of private regulation Rules without Rights reveals the contours and contradictions of transnational governance Transformations in Governance is a major new academic book series from Oxford University Press

It is designed to accommodate the impressive growth of research in comparative politics international relations public policy federalism environmental and urban studies concerned with the dispersion of authority from central states up to supranational institutions down to subnational governments and side ways to public private networks It brings together work that significantly advances our understanding of the organization causes and consequences of multilevel and complex governance The series is selective containing annually a small number of books of exceptionally high quality by leading and emerging scholars The series targets mainly single authored or co authored work but it is pluralistic in terms of disciplinary specialization research design method and geographical scope Case studies as well as comparative studies historical as well as contemporary studies and studies with a national regional or international focus are all central to its aims Authors use qualitative quantitative formal modeling or mixed methods A trade mark of the books is that they combine scholarly rigour with readable prose and an attractive production style The series is edited by Liesbet Hooghe and Gary Marks of the University of North Carolina Chapel Hill and Walter Mattli of the University of Oxford

Regime of Obstruction William K. Carroll, 2021-04-23 Rapidly rising carbon emissions from the intense development of Western Canada's fossil fuels continue to aggravate the global climate emergency and destabilize democratic structures The urgency of the situation demands not only scholarly understanding but effective action Regime of Obstruction aims to make visible the complex connections between corporate power and the extraction and use of carbon energy Edited by William Carroll this rigorous collection presents research findings from the first three years of the seven year SSHRC funded partnership the Corporate Mapping Project Anchored in sociological and political theory this comprehensive volume provides hard data and empirical research that traces the power and influence of the fossil fuel industry through economics politics media and higher education Contributors demonstrate how corporations secure popular consent and coopt disorganize or marginalize dissenting perspectives to position the fossil fuel industry as a national public good They also investigate the difficult position of Indigenous communities who while suffering the worst environmental and health impacts from carbon extraction must fight for their land or participate in fossil capitalism to secure income and jobs The volume concludes with a look at emergent forms of activism and resistance spurred by the fact that a just energy transition is still feasible This book provides essential context to the climate crisis and will transform discussions of energy democracy Contributions by Laurie Adkin Angele Alook Clifford Atleo Emilia Belliveau Thompson John Bermingham Paul Bowles Gwendolyn Blue Shannon Daub Jessica Dempsey Emily Eaton Chuka Ejeckam Simon Enoch Nick Graham Shane Gunster Mark Hudson Jouke Huizer Ian Hussey Emma Jackson Michael Lang James Lawson Marc Lee Fiona MacPhail Alicia Massie Kevin McCartney Bob Neubauer Eric Pineault Lise Margaux Rajewicz James Rowe JP Sapinsky Karena Shaw and Zoe Yunker

Ireland and migration in the twenty-first century Mary Gilmartin, 2015-07-29 Considers migration to from and within Ireland in the twenty first century covering the Celtic Tiger era of mass immigration to Ireland as well as the dramatic growth in levels of emigration that has occurred since the Irish economic collapse      Global Governance and India's North-East Ranabir Samaddar, Anita Sengupta, 2019-06-04 This book maps the convergence of governance and connectivity within Asia established through the spatial dynamics of trade capital conflict borders and mobility It situates Indian trade and governance policies within a broader Asian and global context Focussing on India's North East in particular on India's Look and Act East Policy the volume underscores how logistical governance in the region can bring economic and political transformations It explores the projected development of the North East into a gateway of transformative cultural interaction among people just as the Silk Road became a conduit for Buddhism to travel along with musical instruments and tea Comprehensive and topical this book will be useful for scholars and researchers of political studies international relations governance studies development studies international trade and economics and for think tanks working on South and Southeast Asia      Ethical Values and the Integrity of the Climate Change Regime Hugh Breakey, Vesselin Popovski, 2016-05-23 This book investigates the ethical values that inform the global carbon integrity system and reflects on alternative norms that could or should do so The global carbon integrity system comprises the emerging international architecture being built to respond to the climate change This architecture can be understood as an integrity system an inter related set of institutions governance arrangements regulations and practices that work to ensure the system performs its role faithfully and effectively This volume investigates the ways ethical values impact on where and how the integrity system works where it fails and how it can be improved With a wide array of perspectives across many disciplines including ethicists philosophers lawyers governance experts and political theorists the chapters seek to explore the positive values driving the global climate change processes to offer an understanding of the motivations justifying the creation of the regime and the way that social norms impact upon the operation of the integrity system The collection focuses on the nexus between ideal ethics and real world implementation through institutions and laws The book will be of interest to policy makers climate change experts carbon taxation regulators academics legal practitioners and researchers      Breaking up the Global Value Chain Torben Pedersen, Timothy M. Devinney, Laszlo Tihanyi, Arnaldo Camuffo, 2017-08-18 Recent developments are challenging the traditional separation between advanced and emerging economies as host of knowledge and production intensive activities respectively Authors assess whether the co location of R D and manufacturing is critical for development and innovation      The Great Music City Andrea Baker, 2019-03-01 In the 1960s as gentrification took hold of New York City Jane Jacobs predicted that the city would become the true player in the global system Indeed in the 21st century more meaningful comparisons can be made between cities than between nations and states Based on case studies of Melbourne Austin and Berlin this book is the first in depth study to combine academic and industry analysis of the music cities phenomenon Using four distinctly defined algorithms as benchmarks it interrogates Richard Florida's creative cities thesis and applies a much needed synergy of urban sociology and musicology to the concept mediated by a journalism lens Building on seminal work by Robert Park Lewis Mumford and Jane Jacobs it argues that journalists are the cultural branders and street theorists whose ethnographic approach offers critical insights into the urban sociability of music activity

Power Politics in Asia's Contested Waters Enrico Fels, Truong-Minh Vu, 2016-02-19 This volume offers a comprehensive and empirically rich analysis of regional maritime disputes in the South China Sea SCS By discussing important aspects of the rise of China's maritime power such as territorial disputes altered perceptions of geopolitics and challenges to the US led regional order the authors demonstrate that a regional power shift is taking place in Asia Pacific The volume also provides in depth discussions of the responses to Chinese actions by SCS claimants as well as by important non claimant actors

Shareholder Cities Sai Balakrishnan, 2019-10-04 Economic corridors ambitious infrastructural development projects that newly liberalizing countries in Asia and Africa are undertaking are dramatically redefining the shape of urbanization Spanning multiple cities and croplands these corridors connect metropolises via high speed superhighways in an effort to make certain strategic regions attractive destinations for private investment As policy makers search for decentralized and market oriented means for the transfer of land from agrarian constituencies to infrastructural promoters and urban developers the reallocation of property control is erupting into volatile land based social conflicts In Shareholder Cities Sai Balakrishnan argues that some of India's most decisive conflicts over its urban future will unfold in the regions along the new economic corridors where electorally strong agrarian propertied classes directly encounter financially powerful incoming urban firms Balakrishnan focuses on the first economic corridor the Mumbai Pune Expressway and the construction of three new cities along it The book derives its title from a current mode of resolving agrarian urban conflicts in which agrarian landowners are being transformed into shareholders in the corridor cities and the distributional implications of these new land transformations Shifting the focus of the study of India's contemporary urbanization away from megacities to these in between corridor regions Balakrishnan explores the production of uneven urban development that unsettles older histories of agrarian capitalism and the emergence of agrarian propertied classes as protagonists in the making of urban real estate markets Shareholder Cities highlights the possibilities for a democratic politics of inclusion in which agrarian urban encounters can create opportunities for previously excluded groups to stake new claims for themselves in the corridor regions
