Geography Paper 1 June 2013:

The War Lawyers Craig Jones, 2020 Over the last 20 years the world's most advanced militaries have invited a small number of military legal professionals into the heart of their targeting operations spaces which had previously been exclusively for generals and commanders. These professionals trained and hired to give legal advice on an array of military operations have become known as war lawyers. The War Lawyers examines the laws of war as applied by military lawyers to aerial targeting operations carried out by the US military in Iraq and Afghanistan and the Israel military in Gaza. Drawing on interviews with military lawyers and others, this book explains why some lawyers became integrated in the chain of command whereby military targets are identified and attacked, whether by manned aircraft, drones and/or ground forces, and with what results. This book shows just how important law and military lawyers have become in the conduct of contemporary warfare and how it is understood. Jones argues that circulations of law and policy between the US and Israel have bolstered targeting practices considered legally questionable, contending that the involvement of war lawyers in targeting operations enables legitimises and sometimes even extends military violence.

The Global Automotive Industry Paul Nieuwenhuis, Peter Wells, 2015-08-06 The automotive industry is still one of the world's largest manufacturing sectors but it suffers from being very technology focused as well as being relatively short term focused. There is little emphasis within the industry and its consultancy and analyst supply network on the broader social and economic impacts of automobility and of the sector that provides it. The Global Automotive Industry addresses this need and is a first port of call for any academic, official or consultant wanting an overview of the state of the industry. An international team of specialist researchers, both from academia and business, review and analyse the key issues that make vehicle manufacturing still the world's premier manufacturing sector, closely tied in with the fortunes of both established and newly emerging economies. In doing so, it covers issues related to manufacturing, both established practices as well as new developments; issues relating to distribution, marketing and retail; vehicle technologies and regulatory trends; and crucially, labour practices and the people who build cars. In all this, it explains both how the current situation arose and also likely future trajectories, both in terms of social and regulatory trends, as the technological marketing and labour practice responses to those leading in many cases to the development of new business models. Key features: Provides a global overview of the automotive industry covering its current state and considering future challenges; Contains contributions from international specialists in the automotive sector; Presents current research and sets this in an historical and broader industry context; Covers threats to the industry including globalization, economic and environmental sustainability. The Global Automotive Industry is a must-have reference for researchers and practitioners in the automotive industry and is an excellent source of information for business schools, governments and graduate and undergraduate students in automotive engineering.

Globalization Development and Social Justice Ann El Khoury, 2015-03-27 Are there existing alternatives to corporate globalization What are the prospects for and commonalities between communities and movements such as Occupy the World Social Forum and alternative economies

Globalization Development and Social Justice advances the proposition that another globalization is not only possible but already exists. It demonstrates that there are multiple pathways towards development with social justice and argues that enabling propositional agency rather than oppositional agency such as resistance is a more effective alternative to neoliberal globalization. El Khoury develops a theory of infraglobalization that emphasizes creative constitution not just contestation of global and local processes. The book features case studies and examples of diverse economic practice and innovative emergent political forms from the Global South and North. These case studies are located in the informal social economy and community development as well as everyday practices from prefigurative politics to community cooperatives and participatory planning. This book makes an important contribution to debates about the prospects for and practices of a transformative grassroots globalization and to critical debates about globalization and development strategies. It will be of interest to students and scholars of international relations, globalization, social movement studies, political and economic geography, sociology, anthropology, and development studies.

Altmetrics for Information Professionals Kim Johan Holmberg, 2015-09-03. The goal of any research assessment is to evaluate the value or quality of the research in comparison to other research. As quality is highly subjective and difficult to measure, citations are used as a proxy. Citations are an important part of scholarly communication and a significant component of research evaluation with the assumption being that highly cited work has influenced the work of many other researchers and hence it is more valuable. Recently we have seen new online data sources being researched for this purpose and disruptive ideas with the power to change research assessment and perhaps even science as a whole have been born. Altmetrics is the new research area that investigates the potential of these new data sources as indicators of the impact that research has made on the scientific community and beyond and thus possibly also as indicators of the societal impact of research. This book will present some of these new data sources, findings from earlier altmetrics research, and the disruptive ideas that may radically change scholarly communication. Presents some of the key ideas and innovations in earlier research that have been driving the evolution from bibliometrics to webometrics and with the advent of social media to altmetrics. Discusses the shortcomings and pitfalls of bibliometrics in research evaluation and the potential of altmetrics to overcome some of these shortcomings. Presents some of the most important data sources of altmetrics, the aggregators, and the different stakeholders. Reviews current research about altmetrics and discusses possible future trends. Presents a way to measure and aggregate altmetrics according to the level of impact or type of impact they represent.
