Anderson, 2015-03-24 Understanding Cultural Geography Places and Traces offers a comprehensive introduction to perhaps the most exciting and challenging area of human geography By focusing on the notion of place as a key means through which culture and identity is grounded the book showcases the broad range of theories methods and practices used within the discipline This book not only introduces the reader to the rich and complex history of cultural geography but also the key terms on which the discipline is built From these insights the book approaches place as an ongoing composition of traces highlighting the dynamic and ever changing nature of the world around us The second edition has been fully revised and updated to incorporate recent literature and up to date case studies It also adopts a new seven section structure and benefits from the addition of two new chapters Place and Mobility and Place and Language Through its broad coverage of issues such as age race scale nature capitalism and the body the book provides valuable perspectives into the cultural relationships between people and place Anderson gives critical insights into these important issues helping us to understand and engage with the various places that make up our lives Understanding Cultural Geography is an ideal text for students being introduced to the discipline through either undergraduate or postgraduate degree courses The book outlines how the theoretical ideas empirical foci and methodological techniques of cultural geography illuminate and make sense of the places we inhabit and contribute to This is a timely update on a highly successful text that incorporates a vast foundation of knowledge an invaluable book for lecturers and students America Ascendant Stanley B. Greenberg, 2015-11-03 America is poised to lead the 21st Century as it led the 20th That will happen because the country is at a tipping point in the battle for its own renewal a renewal that will allow America to be exceptional again Our economy is on the move fueled by revolutions in energy immigration innovation big data and advanced manufacturing America s energy independence has set off shockwaves Just as important are the social transformations that are making the country ever more racially and culturally diverse younger a home to immigrants and the metropolitan centers that foster a rising economic and cultural dynamism While most other countries struggle profoundly with immigration and religious and racial differences America s on a path to multicultural identity Those revolutions in the economy society and culture and are also producing a new American majority that embraces new values and new politics Republicans are waging a counter revolution and that is why America looks gridlocked and why the country is turning to Democrats to take on the country s growing challenges The economic and social transformations leave people struggling to earn enough and reach the middle class Families are under stress Government is corrupted by big money The American public is demanding the country address the dark side of our progress and reforms are starting to happen That is why Democrats will get to lead an era of reform and renewal comparable to the progressive era that mitigated the excesses of the Industrial Revolution In this incisive book expert strategist Greenberg draws on years of research and polling to illuminate how America is far from being gridlocked and he articulates a powerful vision of how American politics and America can be renewed The Routledge Handbook of Financial Geography Janelle

The Complacent Class Tyler Cowen, 2017-02-28

A Wall Street Journal and Washington Post Bestseller Tyler Cowen's blog Marginal Revolution is the first thing I read every morning And his brilliant new book The Complacent Class has been on my nightstand after I devoured it in one sitting I am at round the clock Cowen saturation right now Malcolm Gladwell Since Alexis de Tocqueville restlessness has been accepted as a signature American trait Our willingness to move take risks and adapt to change have produced a dynamic economy and a tradition of innovation from Ben Franklin to Steve Jobs The problem according to legendary blogger economist and best selling author Tyler Cowen is that Americans today have broken from this tradition we re working harder than ever to avoid change We re moving residences less marrying people more like ourselves and choosing our music and our mates based on algorithms that wall us off from anything that might be too new or too different Match com matches us in love Spotify and Pandora match us in music Facebook matches us to just about everything else Of course this matching culture brings tremendous positives music we like partners who make us happy neighbors who want the same things We re more comfortable But according to Cowen there are significant collateral downsides attending this comfort among them heightened inequality and segregation and decreased incentives to innovate and create The Complacent Class argues that this cannot go on forever We are postponing change due to our near sightedness and extreme desire for comfort but ultimately this will make change when it comes harder The forces unleashed by the Great Stagnation will eventually lead to a major fiscal and budgetary crisis impossibly expensive rentals for our most attractive cities worsening of residential segregation and a decline in our work ethic The only way to avoid this difficult future is for Americans to force themselves out of their comfortable slumber to embrace their restless tradition again

Asia in International Relations Pinar

Bilgin, L.H.M. Ling, 2017-02-01 Asia in International Relations decolonizes conventional understandings and representations of Asia in International Relations IR This book opens by including all those geographical and cultural linkages that constitute Asia today but are generally ignored by mainstream IR Covering the Indian subcontinent Turkey the Mediterranean Iran the Arab world Ethiopia and Central Northeast Southeast Asia the volume draws on rich literatures to develop our understanding of power relations in the world's largest continent Contributors de-colonize de-imperialize and de-Cold War the region to articulate an alternative narrative about Asia world politics and IR This approach reframes old problems in new ways with the possibility of transforming them rather than recycling the same old approaches with the same old intractable outcomes

Growing Community Forests Ryan Bullock, Gayle Broad, Lynn Palmer, M.A. (Peggy) Smith, 2017-10-13 Canada is experiencing an unparalleled crisis involving forests and communities across the country While municipalities policy makers and industry leaders acknowledge common challenges such as an overdependence on US markets rising energy costs and lack of diversification no common set of solutions has been developed and implemented Ongoing and at times contentious public debate has revealed an appetite and need for a fundamental rethinking of the relationships that link our communities governments industrial partners and forests towards a more sustainable future The creation of community forests is one path that promises to build resilience in forest communities and ecosystems This model provides local control over common forest lands in order to activate resource development opportunities benefits and social responsibilities Implementing community forestry in practice has proven to be a complex task however there are no road maps or well developed and widely tested models for community forestry in Canada But in settings where community forests have taken hold there is a rich and growing body of experience to draw on The contributors to Growing Community Forests include leading researchers practitioners Indigenous representatives government representatives local advocates and students who are actively engaged in sharing experiences resources and tools of significance to forest resource communities policy makers and industry

How Global Migration Changes the Workforce Diversity Equation Anthony Forsyth, Hina Sheikh, Francesca Sperotti, 2015-06-18 This volume explores some of the ways that a dialogue between diversity researchers and migration researchers can deepen the understanding of both It moves across economics sociology political science labour relations and legal studies demonstrating that the value of this dialogue cuts across disciplines The book particularly underlines the challenges faced in host societies including exclusion to the point of hyper precarity anti migrant attitudes and the widespread organizational

One Nation Undecided Peter H. Schuck, 2019-08-06 At a time of deep social and political division along comes a much needed book to steer us toward solutions to five very difficult national problems There could be no better guide for this endeavor than Peter Schuck one of the clearest and most thoughtful legal and policy scholars of this or any generation Robert E Litan author of Trillion Dollar Economists

Transport Justice Karel Martens, 2016-07-01 Transport Justice develops a new paradigm for transportation planning based on principles of justice Author Karel Martens

starts from the observation that for the last fifty years the focus of transportation planning and policy has been on the performance of the transport system and ways to improve it without much attention being paid to the persons actually using or failing to use that transport system There are far reaching consequences of this approach with some enjoying the fruits of the improvements in the transport system while others have experienced a substantial deterioration in their situation The growing body of academic evidence on the resulting disparities in mobility and accessibility have been paralleled by increasingly vocal calls for policy changes to address the inequities that have developed over time Drawing on philosophies of social justice Transport Justice argues that governments have the fundamental duty of providing virtually every person with adequate transportation and thus of mitigating the social disparities that have been created over the past decades Critical reading for transport planners and students of transportation planning this book develops a new approach to transportation planning that takes people as its starting point and justice as its end Australia's Refugee Politics in the 21st Century Kim Huynh, 2023-06-23 Boat arrivals have defined and divided 21st century Australia This book examines the Stop the Boats era from between the 2013 and 2022 federal elections During this time the dominant political view has been that to accept a single boat family or person is to risk being overwhelmed by many others It follows that government must do whatever it takes to command Australia's borders and deter unauthorized arrivals that is Stop the Boats This book sets out the key political events and arguments for and against Australia's assurance that anyone who comes without permission will never be able to stay It examines the impact of this commitment on regional and international relations on those who seek refuge in Australia and on those who call it home This volume serves as a valuable political history and analysis for scholars policymakers students journalists and anyone who is interested in questions of contemporary exclusion and belonging

Emotional States Eleanor Jupp, Jessica Pykett, Fiona M. Smith, 2016-10-14 What is the political allure value and currency of emotions within contemporary cultures of governance What does it mean to govern more humanely Since the emergence of an emotional turn in human geography over the last decade the notion that our emotions matter in understanding an array of social practices spatial formations and aspects of everyday life is no longer seen as controversial This book brings recent developments in emotional geography into dialogue with social policy concerns and contemporary issues of governance It sets the intellectual scene for research into the geographical dimensions of the emotionalized states of the citizen policy maker and public service worker and highlights new research on the emotional forms of governance which now characterise public life An international range of empirical field studies are used to examine issues of regulation modification governance and potential manipulation of emotional affects professional and personal identities and political technologies Contributors provide analysis of the role of emotional entanglements in policy strategy policy implementation service delivery citizenship and participation as well as considering the emotional nature of the research process itself It will be of interest to researchers and students within social policy human geography politics and related disciplines Redesigning

Manufacturing M. Beverland, B. Nielsen, V. Pryce, Ellen Hellmann, 2015-05-13 Manufacturing in the UK has an image problem. Although this image problem is more fiction than fact, it nonetheless has an impact on the sector's ability to attract staff, capital, and policy interest. This book redresses this situation by focusing on the real successes of the sector and the strategies used by makers to achieve sustainable results.

Our Changing Land Dawn Mannay, 2016-06-15 an invaluable companion for researchers, postgraduate students, and other academics with an interest in Wales and Welsh life. Origination Andy Pike, 2015-03-24 Origination: The Geographies of Brands and Branding offers innovative theoretical and conceptual frameworks relating to the ways that actors create meaning and value in commodity brands and branding through processes of geographical association. Provides innovative conceptualization and theorization to facilitate an understanding of the geographical dimensions of brands and branding. Challenges current interpretations of brands as vehicles of homogenization in globalization. Establishes the theoretical and conceptual foundations of a more geographically sensitive approach through rigorous empirical examination of the under-researched geographical differentiation of commodity brands and branding. Presents innovative new research and analysis of the socio-spatial biographies of the Newcastle Brown Ale, Burberry, and Apple brands. Forges strong new connections between political and cultural economy approaches within geography. Provides a distinctive and incisive conceptual and theoretical framework capable of engaging other branded commodities and their branding in other times and places.

Deepening Neoliberalism, Austerity, and Crisis Julien Mercille, Enda Murphy, 2015-07-07 From bank bailouts to austerity, Europe's and Ireland's response to the economic crisis has been engineered specifically to shift the burden of paying for the crisis onto ordinary citizens while investors, financiers, bankers, and the privileged are protected. The authors expose the class-based nature of Ireland's crisis resolution.

Migration in Performance Caleb Johnston, Geraldine Pratt, 2019-02-08 This book follows the travels of Nanay, a testimonial theatre play developed from research with migrant domestic workers in Canada as it was recreated and restaged in different places around the globe. This work examines how Canadian migration policy is embedded across and within histories of colonialism in the Philippines and settler colonialism in Canada. Translations between scholarship and performance, and between Canada and the Philippines, became more uneasy as the play travelled internationally, raising pressing questions of how decolonial collaborations might take shape in practice. This book examines the strengths and limits of existing framings of Filipina migration and offers rich ideas of how care of children and elderly and each other might be rethought in radically new ways within less violently unequal relations that span different colonial histories and complex triangulations of racialised migrants settlers and Indigenous peoples This book is a journey towards a new way of doing and performing research and theory It is part of a growing interdisciplinary exchange between the performing arts and social sciences and will appeal to researchers and students within human geography and performance studies and those working on migration colonialisms documentary theatre and social reproduction
