Redesigning Manufacturing M. Beverland, B. Nielsen, V. Pryce, Ellen Hellmann, 2015-05-13 Manufacturing in the UK has an image problem Although this image problem is more fiction than fact it nonetheless has an impact on the sector s ability to attract staff capital and policy interest This book redresses this situation by focusing on the real successes of the sector and the strategies used by makers to achieve sustainable results Asia in International Relations Pinar Bilgin, L.H.M. Ling, 2017-02-01 Asia in International Relations decolonizes conventional understandings and representations of Asia in International Relations IR This book opens by including all those geographical and cultural linkages that constitute Asia today but are generally ignored by mainstream IR Covering the Indian subcontinent Turkey the Mediterranean Iran the Arab world Ethiopia and Central Northeast Southeast Asia the volume draws on rich literatures to develop our understanding of power relations in the world s largest continent Contributors de colonize de imperialize and de Cold War the region to articulate an alternative narrative about Asia world politics and IR This approach reframes old problems in new ways with the possibility of transforming them rather than recycling the same old approaches with the same old intractable outcomes
America Ascendant Stanley B. Greenberg, 2015-11-03 America is poised to lead the 21st Century as it led the 20th That will happen because the country is at a tipping point in the battle for its own renewal a renewal that will allow America to be exceptional again Our economy is on the move fueled by revolutions in energy immigration innovation big data and advanced manufacturing America s energy independence has set off shockwaves Just as important are the social transformations that are making the country ever more racially and culturally diverse younger a home to immigrants and the metropolitan centers that foster a rising economic and cultural dynamism While most other countries struggle profoundly with immigration and religious and racial differences America s on a path to multicultural identity Those revolutions in the economy society and culture and are also producing a new American majority that embraces new values and new politics Republicans are waging a counter revolution and that is why America looks gridlocked and why the country is turning to Democrats to take on the country s growing challenges The economic and social transformations leave people struggling to earn enough and reach the middle class Families are under stress Government is corrupted by big money The American public is demanding the country address the dark side of our progress and reforms are starting to happen That is why Democrats will get to lead an era of reform and renewal comparable to the progressive era that mitigated the excesses of the Industrial Revolution In this incisive book expert strategist Greenberg draws on years of research and polling to illuminate how America is far from being gridlocked and he articulates a powerful vision of how American politics and America can be renewed

Asymmetric Crisis in Europe and Possible Futures Johannes Jäger, Elisabeth Springler, 2015-04-10 The crisis in Europe is often discussed as a crisis of European integration or a crisis of national economies within Europe Both the methodological Europeanism and methodological nationalism miss out the important links between economic and political processes at different spatial scales within Europe and therefore asymmetries and phenomena of uneven development In addition a discussion of possible scenarios which systematically addresses the implications of anti crisis policies is missing This volume seeks to close this gap by systematically integrating the analysis of economic policy or technical solutions to the crisis within a broader framework of political economy It argues that combining critical political economy approaches and post Keynesian perspectives allows for a systematic understanding of the economic and political dimensions of the crisis Although both approaches have the capacity to deal with asymmetries and uneven development the heterogeneity in Europe has been an often largely neglected dimension of analysis However this recent crisis has shown that this is an essential dimension which has to be addressed in order to better understand the dynamics of European development and integration Hence this book aims to deal with asymmetries in Europe and to bridge the gap between the two perspectives This work will initiate an integrative debate that is crucial for a deeper understanding of the current crisis and is an important resource for all students and scholars of IPE European political economy and European politics

A History of Civilization in 50 Disasters

Gale Eaton, 2016-01-04 2016 IBPA Benjamin Franklin Silver Award Winner The earth shakes and cracks open Volcanoes erupt Continents freeze bake and flood Droughts parch the land Wildfires and hundred year storms consume anything in their paths Invisible clouds of disease and pestilence probe for victims Tidal waves sweep ashore from the vast sea The natural world is a dangerous place but one species has evolved a unique defense against the hazards civilization Civilization rearranges nature for human convenience Clothes and houses keep us warm agriculture feeds us medicine fights our diseases It all works most of the time But key resources lie in the most hazardous places so we choose to live on river flood plains on the slopes of volcanoes at the edge of the sea above seismic faults We pack ourselves into cities Petri dishes for germs Civilization thrives on the edge of disaster And what happens when natural forces meet molasses holding tanks insecticides deepwater oil rigs nuclear power plants We learn the hard way how to avoid the last disaster and maybe how to create the next one What we don't know can indeed hurt us This book's white knuckled journey from antiquity to the present leads us to wonder at times how humankind has survived And yet as Author Gale Eaton makes clear civilization has advanced not just in spite of disasters but in part because of them Hats off to human resilience ingenuity and perseverance They've carried us this far may they continue to do so into our ever hazardous future The History in 50 series explores history by telling thematically linked stories Each book includes 50 illustrated narrative accounts of people and events some well known others often overlooked that together build a rich connect the dots mosaic and challenge conventional assumptions about how history unfolds Dedicated to the premise that history is the greatest story ever told Includes a mix of greatest hits with quirky surprising provocative accounts Challenges readers to think and engage Includes a glossary of technical terms sources by chapter teaching resources as jumping off points for student research and endnotes Fountas Pinnell Level Z

Growing Community Forests Ryan Bullock, Gayle Broad, Lynn Palmer, M.A. (Peggy) Smith, 2017-10-13 Canada is experiencing an unparalleled crisis involving forests and communities across the country While municipalities policy makers and industry leaders acknowledge common challenges such as an overdependence on US markets rising energy costs and lack of diversification no common set of solutions has been developed and implemented Ongoing and at times contentious public debate has revealed an appetite and need for a fundamental rethinking of the relationships that link our communities governments industrial partners and forests towards a more sustainable future The creation of community forests is one path that promises to build resilience in forest communities and ecosystems This model provides local control over common forest lands in order to activate resource development opportunities benefits and social responsibilities Implementing community forestry in practice has proven to be a complex task however there are no road maps or well developed and widely tested models for community forestry in Canada But in settings where community forests have taken hold there is a rich and growing body of experience to draw on The contributors to Growing Community Forests include leading researchers practitioners Indigenous representatives government representatives local advocates and students who are actively engaged in sharing experiences resources and tools of significance to forest resource communities policy makers and industry

The Complacent Class Tyler Cowen, 2017-02-28 A Wall Street Journal and Washington Post Bestseller Tyler Cowen's blog Marginal Revolution is the first thing I read every morning And his brilliant new book The Complacent Class has been on my nightstand after I devoured it in one sitting I am at round the clock Cowen saturation right now Malcolm Gladwell Since Alexis de Tocqueville restlessness has been accepted as a signature American trait Our willingness to move take risks and adapt to change have produced a dynamic economy and a tradition of innovation from Ben Franklin to Steve Jobs The problem according to legendary blogger economist and best selling author Tyler Cowen is that Americans today have broken from this tradition we're working harder than ever to avoid change We're moving residences less marrying people more like ourselves and choosing our music and our mates based on algorithms that wall us off from anything that might be too new or too different Match.com matches us in love Spotify and Pandora match us in music Facebook matches us to just about everything else Of course this matching culture brings tremendous positives music we like partners who make us happy neighbors who want the same things We're more comfortable But according to Cowen there are significant collateral downsides attending this comfort among them heightened inequality and segregation and decreased incentives to innovate and create The Complacent Class argues that this cannot go on forever We are postponing change due to our near sightedness and extreme desire for comfort but ultimately this will make change when it comes harder The forces unleashed by the Great Stagnation will eventually lead to a major fiscal and budgetary crisis impossibly expensive rentals for our most attractive cities worsening of residential segregation and a decline in our work ethic The only way to avoid this difficult future is for Americans to force themselves out of their comfortable slumber to embrace their restless tradition again

The Life Cycle of Clusters Dirk Fornahl, Robert Hassink, 2017-04-28 One size fits all cluster policies have been rightly criticized in the literature One promising approach is to focus cluster policies on the specific needs of firms depending on the stage of development emergence growth sustainment or decline their cluster is in In this highly insightful book these stage specific cluster policies are analysed and evaluated Moreover several chapters also focus on smart specialization policies to promote regional development by taking into account the emergence and adaptation of clusters and industries

Handbook on the Geographies of Money and Finance Ron Martin, Jane Pollard, 2017-03-31 The aim of this timely work which appears in the wake of the worst global financial crisis since the late 1920s is to bring together high quality research based contributions from leading international scholars involved in constructing a geographical perspective on money Topics covered include the crisis the spatial circuits of finance regulation mainstream financial markets banking equity etc through to the various alternative and disruptive forms of money that have arisen in recent years It will be of interest to geographers political scientists sociologists economists planners and all those interested in how money shapes and reshapes socio economic space and conditions local and regional development

Transport Justice Karel Martens, 2016-07-01 Transport Justice develops a new paradigm for transportation planning based on principles of justice Author Karel Martens starts from the observation that for the last fifty years the focus of transportation planning and policy has been on the performance of the transport system and ways to improve it without much attention being paid to the persons actually using or failing to use that transport system There are far reaching consequences of this approach with some enjoying the fruits of the improvements in the transport system while others have experienced a substantial deterioration in their situation The growing body of academic evidence on the resulting disparities in mobility and accessibility have been paralleled by increasingly vocal calls for policy changes to address the inequities that have developed over time Drawing on philosophies of social justice Transport Justice argues that governments have the fundamental duty of providing virtually every person with adequate transportation and thus of mitigating the social disparities that have been created over the past decades Critical reading for transport planners and students of transportation planning this book develops a new approach to transportation planning that takes people as its starting point and justice as its end

In Sickness and in Wealth Carol Chan, 2018-08-10 Villagers in Indonesia hear a steady stream of stories about the injuries abuses and even deaths suffered by those who migrate in search of work So why do hundreds of thousands of Indonesian workers continue to migrate every year Carol Chan explores this question from the perspective of the origin community and provides a fascinating look at how gender faith and shame shape these decisions to migrate Villagers evaluate men's and women's migrations differently leading to different ideas about which kinds of human or financial flows should be encouraged and which should be discouraged or even criminalized Despite routine and well documented instances of exploitation of Indonesian migrant workers some villagers still emphasize that a migrant's success or failure ultimately depends on that individual's morality fate and destiny Indonesian villagers construct strategies for avoiding migration related risks that are closely linked to faith and belief in supernatural agency These strategies shape the flow of migration from the country and help to ensure the continued confidence Indonesian people have in migration as an act of promise and hope
