Exclusion and Inclusion in International Migration: Power, Resistance and Identity Armağan Teke

Lloyd, 2019-04-30 People on the move face new barriers in a globalizing world Some of these barriers are related with the rise of an increasingly security oriented approach towards international migrants Notwithstanding the forces of globalization states have maintained their monopoly power over whom to admit and whom to deny within their borders In other words they remain the sovereign authority regulating the entry and exit of people However in recent years a number of states have singled out international immigration as the greatest political and social threat to their cultural and national security The securitization of immigration is founded upon the premise that the international movement of people represents an exceptional risk for the survival of the nation and this is often associated with terrorism instability and criminality The securitization of immigration is also based on the idea that the traditional authority vested in states to regulate immigration is somehow insufficient and needs to be enhanced These assumptions correspond with a real policy shift in some countries such as the United States where the government is planning to spend approximately 23 Billion Dollars on border security and immigration enforcement in 2019 alone This edited volume is an exploration of the global landscapes inhabited by refugees and labour migrants although the focus is largely on the former Despite the fact that most of the empirical studies are drawn from within Europe the book also includes research on Nepal Australia the Middle East and Japan in order to reveal the truly global dimensions of migration and the regimes governing this Content INTRODUCTION by Arma an Teke Lloyd PART A Ideology and Governance of Migration CHAPTER 1 Coming to Terms with Liberal Democracy by the Populist Radical Right Parties of Western Europe Evidence from European Parliament Speeches over Minorities and Migration by Caner Tekin CHAPTER 2 A Forest with many trees Mapping migration governance and the dispersion of authority in Europe by Lisa Marie Borrelli Rebecca Mavin and Giorgia Trasciani CHAPTER 3 Policing Migrants in Transit and Upon Arrival The Bordering

Cooley,John Heathershaw,2017-02-07 A penetrating look into the unrecognized and unregulated links between autocratic regimes in Central Asia and centers of power and wealth throughout the West Weak corrupt and politically unstable the former Soviet republics of Kazakhstan Kyrgyzstan Tajikistan and Uzbekistan are dismissed as isolated and irrelevant to the outside world But are they This hard hitting book argues that Central Asia is in reality a globalization leader with extensive involvement in economics politics and security dynamics beyond its borders Yet

Central Asia's international activities are mostly hidden from view with disturbing implications for world security. Based on years of research and involvement in the region, Alexander Cooley and John Heathershaw reveal how business networks, elite bank accounts, overseas courts, third party brokers, and Western lawyers connect Central Asia's supposedly isolated leaders with global power centers. The authors also uncover widespread Western participation in money laundering, bribery, foreign lobbying by autocratic governments, and the exploiting of legal loopholes within Central Asia. Riveting and important, this book exposes the global connections of a troubled region that must no longer be ignored.

Histories of Technology, the Environment and Modern Britain Jon Agar, Jacob Ward, 2018-04-09

Histories of Technology, the Environment and Modern Britain brings together historians with a wide range of interests to take a uniquely wide lens view of how technology and the environment have been intimately and irreversibly entangled in Britain over the last 300 years. It combines for the first time two perspectives with much to say about Britain since the industrial revolution: the history of technology and environmental history. Technologies are modified environments just as nature is to varying extents engineered. Furthermore, technologies and our living and non-living environment are both predominant material forms of organisation and self-organisation that surround and make us. Both have changed over time in intersecting ways. Technologies discussed in the collection include bulldozers, submarine cables, automobiles, flood barriers, medical devices, museum displays, and biotechnologies. Environments investigated include bogs, cities, farms, places of natural beauty, and pollution land and sea. The book explores this diversity but also offers an integrated framework for understanding these intersections.

Magazines and Modern Identities Tim Satterthwaite, Andrew Thacker, 2023-09-21

In the late nineteenth and early twentieth century, ideals of technological progress and mass consumerism shaped the print cultures of countries across the globe. Magazines in Europe, the USA, Latin America, and Asia inflected a shared internationalism and technological optimism. But there were equally powerful countervailing influences of patriotic or insurgent nationalism and of traditionalism that promoted cultural differentiation. In their editorials, images, and advertisements, magazines embodied the tensions between these domestic imperatives and the forces of global modernity. Magazines and Modern Identities explores how these tensions played out in the magazine cultures of ten different countries, describing how publications drew on, resisted, and informed the ideals and visual forms of global modernism. Chapters take in the magazines of Australia, Europe, and North America, as well as China, the Soviet Turkic states, and Mexico. With contributions from leading international scholars, the book considers the pioneering developments in European and North American periodicals in the modernist period whilst expanding the field of enquiry to take in the vibrant magazine cultures of east Asia and Latin America The construction of these magazines modern ideals was a complex dialectical process in dialogue with international modernism but equally responsive to their local cultures and the beliefs and expectations of their readers Magazines and Modern Identities captures the diversity of these ideals in periodicals that both embraced and criticised the globalised culture of the technological era
