Practical Handbook Business in Africa Thomas Schmidt, Kay Pfaffenberger, Stefan Liebing, 2023-11-16 Africa is a continent on the upswing developing great economic momentum. If German companies want to participate in Africa's upswing, they need to be familiar with some special features. This book shows the way to successful business in Africa. It is a practical yet scientifically based guide for all entrepreneurs and economically interested parties who want to be successful in Africa. It combines the experience of many companies with the scientific perspective and findings of the Centre for Business and Technology in Africa at Flensburg University of Applied Sciences. In the 2nd edition, new developments on the African continent are taken up and current answers are given to the classical questions which each actor must answer for itself: which wants to be economically successful in Africa, WHY Africa is interesting for the business, WHERE the largest chances of success exist, HOW to proceed and WHICH approaches for the future organization of the economic relations between Germany and Africa are promising. The book describes how to invest in Africa and bundles the current experiences of managers of large corporations and family businesses with a long history on the continent. The Difference that Gender

Makes to International Peace and Security Sara E. Davies, Nicole George, Jacqui True, 2018-10-29 Fifteen years after the adoption of UN Security Council Resolution 1325 which establishes the Women Peace and Security agenda, there is now a need to assess the impacts of gender equality efforts and to understand why and how gender equality reforms have advanced to the extent that they have. This book examines how international peace and security is re-envisioned from a gender perspective by mostly focusing on the nuances presented by the Asia Pacific region. It argues that despite the diversity of political, socio-cultural and economic systems in the Asia Pacific, women and girls in the region continue to experience similar forms of insecurities. Several countries in the Asia Pacific have demonstrated relative peace and stability. In addition, women's leadership and participation in peacebuilding are and continue to be increasingly recognized in the region too. However, as the chapters in this book demonstrate, applying a critical gender analysis allows for the interrogation of veneers of political order which can then mask or normalise everyday gendered insecurities. The analysis of country cases such as Myanmar, Cambodia and Fiji underscores a rethinking of the political order in the Asia Pacific which leaves existing gender inequalities intact. The chapters in this book were originally published in a special issue in the International Feminist Journal of Politics.

Heathershaw, 2017-02-07 A penetrating look into the unrecognized and unregulated links between autocratic regimes in Central Asia and centers of power and wealth throughout the West Weak corrupt and politically unstable the former Soviet republics of Kazakhstan Kyrgyzstan Tajikistan and Uzbekistan are dismissed as isolated and irrelevant to the outside world But are they This hard hitting book argues that Central Asia is in reality a globalization leader with extensive involvement in economics politics and security dynamics beyond its borders Yet Central Asia s international activities are mostly hidden from view with disturbing implications for world security Based on years of research and involvement in the region Alexander Cooley and John Heathershaw reveal how business networks elite bank accounts overseas courts third party brokers and Western lawyers connect Central Asia s supposedly isolated leaders with global power centers The authors also uncover widespread Western participation in money laundering bribery foreign lobbying by autocratic governments and the exploiting of legal loopholes within Central Asia Riveting and important this book exposes the global connections of a troubled region that must no longer be ignored Navigating East Asian Maritime Conflicts: Technological Change,

Environmental Challenges, Global and Regional Responses Paul Midford, Jennifer L. Futures Warwick Anderson, Miranda Johnson, Barbara Brookes, 2018-11-30 How when and why has the Pacific been a locus for imagining different futures by those living there as well as passing through What does that tell us about the distinctiveness or otherwise of this sea of islands Foregrounding the work of leading and emerging scholars of Oceania Pacific Futures brings together a diverse set of approaches to and examples of how futures are being conceived in the region

Technological Innovation in Legacy Sectors William B. Bonvillian, Charles Weiss, 2015-08-18 The American economy faces two deep problems expanding innovation and raising the rate of quality job creation Both have roots in a neglected problem the resistance of Legacy economic sectors to innovation While the U S has focused its policies on breakthrough innovations to create new economic frontiers like information technology and biotechnology most of its economy is locked into Legacy sectors defended by technological economic political social paradigms that block competition from disruptive innovations that could challenge their models Americans like to build technology covered wagons and take them out west to open new innovation frontiers we don't head our wagons back east to bring innovation to our Legacy sectors By failing to do so the economy misses a major opportunity for innovation which is the bedrock of U S competitiveness and its standard of living Technological Innovation in Legacy Sectors uses a new unifying conceptual framework to identify the shared features underlying structural obstacles to innovation in major Legacy sectors energy air and auto transport the electric power grid buildings manufacturing agriculture health care delivery and higher education and develops approaches to understand and transform them It finds both strengths and obstacles to innovation in the national innovation environments a new concept that combines the innovation system and the broader innovation context for a group of Asian and European economies Manufacturing is a major Legacy sector that presents a particular challenge because it is a critical stage in the innovation process By increasingly offshoring production the U S is losing important parts of its innovation capacity Innovate here produce here where the U S took all the gains of its strong innovation system at every stage is being replaced by innovate here produce there which threatens to lead to produce there innovate there To bring innovation to Legacy sectors authors William Bonvillian and Charles Weiss recommend that policymakers focus on all stages of innovation from research through implementation They should fill institutional gaps in the innovation system and take measures to address structural obstacles to needed disruptive innovations In the specific case of advanced manufacturing the production ecosystem can be recreated to reverse jobless innovation and add manufacturing led innovation to the U S s still strong research oriented innovation system

The Essence of Desperation Bryan

Riddle,2018-01-05 Counterinsurgency is a doctrine premised on winning the population of a nation state over to the government s side Counterinsurgency is also associated with a continuing presence of military forces for long periods and significant aid expenditures As such it is a curious strategy to employ in the midst of wars seen as failing and when the population has turned against the conflict This book examines counterinsurgency s emergence in Vietnam Iraq and Afghanistan in order to understand how it is employed in the midst of these perceived war fighting failures In doing so it thinks of strategy as narrative that describes how actions will result in better future effects In so doing this book traces the ways in which the strategy making process overcomes fragmentation to produce consensus It concludes that through the examination of how actors analogies and narratives are produced and deployed into strategy debates the reasons for counterinsurgency s emergence in crisis periods can be determined This approach enables a better understanding of the dynamics of policy making and how geostrategic change occurs

The Biological Weapons Taboo Michelle Bentley,2023

The non use of biological weapons has been described as the great mystery of biological warfare The Biological Weapons Taboo solves that mystery by analysing the bioweapons taboo in the first comprehensive study of the concept Bentley explains precisely why bioweapons are perceived as repulsive and how this sentiment is consequently expressed in the form of political behaviours including the refusal to engage in biological aggression Drawing on extensive archival evidence this volume looks back on United States foreign policy decision making particularly in relation to the Geneva Protocol and the Biological Weapons Convention to demonstrate how and why the taboo has comprised a decisive factor in shaping both biowarfare strategy and political rhetoric and why the taboo needs to be recognised as a necessary consideration in the study of bioweapons In analysing a taboo the volume also takes the debate on international norms forward by questioning and challenging the wider analytic comprehension of taboo itself Rejecting current definitions of the concept as inadequate Bentley proposes a new and original model of understanding based on the normative characteristics of disgust stigmatization and fetishization

Tin and Global Capitalism, 1850-2000 Mats Ingulstad, Andrew Perchard, Espen Storli, 2014-09-04 For most of the twentieth century tin was fundamental for both warfare and welfare The importance of tin is most powerfully represented by the tin can an invention which created a revolution in food preservation and helped feed both the armies of the great powers and the masses of the new urban society The trouble with tin was that economically viable deposits of the metal could only be found in a few regions of the world predominantly in the southern hemisphere while the main centers of consumption were in the industrialized north The tin trade was therefore a highly politically charged economy in which states and private enterprise competed and cooperated to assert control over deposits smelters and markets Tin provides a particularly telling illustration of how the interactions of business and governments shape the evolution of the global economic trade the tin industry has experienced extensive state intervention during times of war encompasses intense competition and cartelization and has seen industry centers both thrive and fail in the wake of decolonization The history of the international tin industry reveals the complex interactions and interdependencies between local actors and international networks decolonization and globalization as well as government foreign policies and entrepreneurial tactics By highlighting the global struggles for control and the constantly shifting economic geographical and political constellations within one specific industry this collection of essays brings the state back into business history and the firm into the history of international relations
