Remote Sensing of Night-time Light Christopher Elvidge,Xi Li,Yuyu zhou,Changyong Cao,Timothy A. Warner,2021-08-09 Satellite images acquired at night provide a visually arresting perspective of the Earth and the human activities that light up the otherwise mostly dark Earth. These night time light satellite images can be compiled into a geospatial time series that represent an invaluable source of information for both the natural and social sciences. Night time light remote sensing has been shown to be particularly useful for a range of natural science and social science applications including studies relating to urban development, demography, sociology, fishing activity, light pollution and the consequences of civil war. Key sensors for these time series include the Defense Meteorological Satellite Program's Operational Linescan System (DMSP OLS) and the Suomi National Polar-orbiting Partnership Satellite's Visible Infrared Imaging Radiometer Suite (Day/Night Band). Suomi NPP VIIRS DNB. An increasing number of alternative sources are also available including high spatial resolution and multispectral sensors. This book captures key methodological issues associated with pre-processing night time light data, documents state-of-the-art analysis methods and explores a wide range of applications. Major sections focus on NPP VIIRS DNB processing, inter-calibration between NPP VIIRS and DMSP OLS applications associated with socio-economic activities, applications in monitoring urbanization and fishing activity monitoring. The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of the International Journal of Remote Sensing.

The Applicability of Night Time Remote Sensing Data in Indian Context to Analyze Urban Dynamics

Avanesh Kumar Singh, 2017-01-15. Urbanization is a basic element of human society's dynamics. It is a process of transformation from traditional rural economies to modern commercial one that comes with changes at spatial, social, economical and environmental level. Urbanization not only concentrates people, less than 3% of the globe is urbanized, it also creates hot spots for energy consumption, natural resource consumption and emission of pollutants and greenhouse gases and act as nodes linking communication and transport infrastructure themselves, all too often a source of pressure on the surrounding environment. Herald Martin, 2010.

Night Time Traveller: The Diary of a Lucid Dreamer Darren J Lamb, 2016-07-02. I have always had so many questions about what really happens when we dream. This book is very much a beginner looking into this fascinating world. All my life I have had very vivid dreams that in those waking moments led me to think, 'Did that really happen to me?' This book is my journey into dreams and being in that half-asleep, half-awake state where we seem to see things that may or may not be there. A journey into learning what lucid dreams are all about and if they can help us in everyday life. Including all the weird and wacky stuff that goes on in my head. Like aliens, spirit guides etc.

Reclaiming the Night-Time Economy Bianca Fileborn, 2016-11-03. This book explores young adults' experiences and understandings of sexualised violence within licensed venues. Although anecdotally common, unwanted sexual attention in pubs and clubs has been the focus of relatively little criminological analysis. This text provides the first exploration of how and why unwanted sexual attention occurs in licensed venues. Using wide-ranging research from over two hundred participants, Fileborn argues that what counts as unwanted sexual attention is highly context dependent and situated within a complex assemblage of a venue's culture, environment and community. Dealing with issues such as the roles gender, sexuality, space and social belonging play in shaping young adults experiences this book recounts how young people make sense of unwanted sexual attention within a culturally complex alcohol fuelled and sexually charged environment A thorough and thought provoking text this book will be of particular interest to scholars of criminology sociology and political science Report of the Board of State Commissioners for the General Supervision of Charitable, Penal, Pauper, and Reformatory Institutions Michigan. Department of Labour and Industry,1915 Imaginings of Time in Lydgate and Hoccleve's Verse Karen Elaine Smyth,2016-05-13 Using empirical research to explore medieval writers imaginings of time this study presents a new morphology by which to study narratives of time in fifteenth century literary culture focusing on poems of John Lydgate and Thomas Hoccleve Karen Smyth begins with an overview of medieval time keeping devices and considers collective and individual attitudes and perceptions of time She then examines a range of Middle English authors appropriations and innovations in relation to such perceptions identifying competitions of tradition and innovation allowing for an interrogation of commonly accepted medieval theories of time An empirically based morphology emerges and is used to examine narratives of time in Lydgate and Hoccleve s work Through a series of close readings of selected short poems and Lydgate s Troy Book Fall of Princes and Siege of Thebes and of Hoccleve s Regiments of Princes and Series Karen Smyth looks at expressions of time and examples of the authors negotiation of time consciousness illustrating how both poets manipulate a range of cultural narratives of time in order to create multiple and sometimes competing temporalities within a single poem Smyth simultaneously draws attention to Lydgate s and Hoccleve s underestimated artistic skills and lays out a means to re evaluate medieval cultural attitudes towards time Documents Accompanying the Journal of the House of Representatives Michigan,1887
