Whelan, Reiner M. Dreizler, J.H. Macek, H.R.J. Walters, 1999-09-30 The last few years have seen some remarkable advances in the understanding of atomic phenomena It is now possible to isolate atomic systems in traps measure in coincidence the fragments of collision processes routinely produce and study multicharged ions One can look at bulk matter in such a way that the fundamental atomic character is clearly evident and work has begun to tease out the properties of anti matter The papers in this book reflect many aspects of modern Atomic Physics They correspond to the invited talks at a conference dedicated to the study of New Directions in Atomic Physics which took place in Magdalene College Cambridge in July of 1998. The meeting was designed as a way of taking stock of what has been achieved and it was hoped as a means of stimulating new research in new areas along new lines. Consequently an effort was made to touch on as many directions as we could in the four days of the meeting. We included some talks which overviewed whole subfields as well as quite a large number of research contributions. There is a unity to Physics and we tried to avoid any artificial division between theory and experiment. We had roughly the same number of talks from those who are primarily concerned with making measurements and from those who spend their lives trying to develop the theory to describe the experiments.

Government Reports Annual Index: Keyword A-L, 1986 Interference Problems on Wing-fuselage Combinations in Inviscid, Incompressible Flow Aeronautical Research Council (Great Britain), J. Weber, M. Gaynor Joyce, 1974 Digital Cinematography David Stump, ASC, 2021-11-18. Today's successful cinematographer must be equal parts artist, technician, and business person. The cinematographer needs to master the arts of lighting, composition, framing, and other aesthetic considerations as well as the technology of digital cameras, recorders, and workflows, and must know how to choose the right tools within their budget to get the job done. David Stump's Digital Cinematography focuses on the tools and technology of the trade, looking at how digital cameras work, the ramifications of choosing one camera versus another, and how those choices help creative cinematographers tell a story. This book empowers the reader to correctly choose the appropriate camera and workflow for their project from today's incredibly varied options, as well as understand the ins and outs of implementing those options. Veteran ASC cinematographer David Stump has updated this edition with the latest technology for cameras, lenses, and recorders, as well as included a new section on future cinematographic trends. Ideal for advanced cinematography students as well as working professionals looking for a resource to stay on top of the latest trends, this book is a must read.

Energy Research Abstracts, 1990 Interactive Nonstructural Flood-control Planning David T. Ford, 1980. The goals of nonstructural flood control planning are formulation, evaluation, selection, and implementation of a practicable management plan that provides optimal protection from the adverse effects of flooding. Many alternative flood control measures can be dismissed by the water resources planner on the basis of judgement, but a substantial number will require detailed analysis before a suitable plan can be selected. This analysis is an iterative process requiring input from the planner at each step. Software developed at the Hydrologic Engineering Center (HEC) allows efficient data storage in a structure-oriented data bank and provides for selective retrieval and manipulation of the data from an interactive terminal. Thus the planner is able to propose nonstructural measures and to evaluate rapidly the economic and technical feasibility of those measures in an iterative scheme that allows the required input from the planner. An application of the interactive plan evaluation software is presented. Steps in creating the data bank are defined, and use of the software for subsequent accessing and manipulating the data for plan evaluation is discussed.
