Transboundary River Basin Disputes Chukwuebuka Edum,2023-12-22 This book examines the role legal rules play in the resolution of disputes in transboundary river basins When states fail to resolve disputes over shared water resources many cast such failures on inadequate or ineffective legal rules With this view in mind this book examines the role that legal rules do and can play in aiding the peaceful settlement of disputes and furthering cooperation between different parties Building on the interactional theory of law this book formulates three analytical frameworks the effect of norm generating processes the effects of water related agreements and or arrangements in the basins and the effect of international water It uses these frameworks to assess the role of law in the processes of cooperation and peaceful settlement of disputes on transboundary river basin by drawing on four illustrative case studies the Jordan River Basin the Nile River Basin the Mekong River Basin and the Indus River Basin In doing so this book presents a unique perspective on the multi functional role of legal rules in those processes Tapping into the global discussion on water security and water related conflicts this book stimulates readers to explore broader or interdisciplinary perspectives for understanding water related issues This book will be of great interest to students and scholars interested in water resource management water law environmental politics conflict resolution and sustainable development more generally The Local Configuration of New Research Fields Martina Merz,Philippe

Sormani,2015-10-27 This new Yearbook addresses the question of how policy place and organization are made to matter for a new research field to emerge Bringing together leading historians sociologists and organizational researchers on science and technology the volume answers this question by offering in depth case studies and comparative perspectives on multiple research fields in their nascent stage including molecular biology and materials science nanotechnology and synthetic biology The Yearbook brings to bear the lessons of constructivist ethnography and the practice turn in Science and Technology Studies STS more broadly on the qualitative comparative and critical inquiry of new research fields In doing so it offers unprecedented insights into the complex interplay of national research policies regional clusters particular research institutions and novel research practices in and for any emerging field of techno science It systematically investigates national and regional differences including the variable mobilization of such differences and probes them for organizational topicality and policy relevance      Shakespeare's Dark Lady John Hudson,2014-03-15 Amelia Bassano Lanier is proved to be a strong candidate for authorship of Shakespeare s plays Hudson looks at the fascinating life of this woman believed by many to be the dark lady of the sonnets and presents the case that she may have written Shakespeare s plays      New Mobilities and Social Changes in Russia's Arctic Regions Marlene Laruelle,2016-07-22 This book provides the first in depth multidisciplinary study of re urbanization in Russia s Arctic regions with a specific focus on new mobility patterns and the resulting birth of new urban Arctic identities in which newcomers and labor migrants form a rising part of It is an invaluable reference for all those interested in current trends in circumpolar regions showing how the Arctic region is becoming more diverse culturally but also more integrated into globalized trends in terms of economic development urban sustainability and migration      The Assessment of Learning in Engineering Education John Heywood,2016-02-23 Explores how we judge engineering education in order to effectively redesign courses and programs that will prepare new engineers for various professional and academic careers Shows how present approaches to assessment were shaped and what the future holds Analyzes the validity of teaching and judging engineering education Shows the integral role that assessment plays in curriculum design and implementation Examines the sociotechnical system s impact on engineering curricula      The War Lawyers Craig Jones,2020 Over the last 20 years the world s most advanced militaries have invited a small number of military legal professionals into the heart of their targeting operations spaces which had previously been exclusively for generals and commanders These professionals trained and hired to give legal advice on an array of military operations have become known as war lawyers The War Lawyers examines the laws of war as applied by military lawyers to aerial targeting operations carried out by the US military in Iraq and Afghanistan and the Israel military in Gaza Drawing on interviews with military lawyers and others this book explains why some lawyers became integrated in the chain of command whereby military targets are identified and attacked whether by manned aircraft drones and or ground forces and with what results This book shows just how important law and military lawyers have become in the conduct of contemporary warfare and how it is understood Jones argues that circulations of law and policy between the US and Israel have bolstered targeting practices considered legally questionable contending that the involvement of war lawyers in targeting operations enables legitimises and sometimes even extends military violence      Ethical Trade, Gender and Sustainable Livelihoods Kiah Smith,2014-03-21 Fair and ethical trade is often criticized for being highly gendered and for institutionalizing the ethical values of consumers the priorities of NGOs and governments and most of all food retailers But little is known about how women smallholder farmers experience diverse ethical standards or whether and how standards reflect their values local cultural and environmental contexts or priorities for achieving sustainable livelihoods Linking gender smallholder livelihoods and global ethical trade regulations this book reveals that multiple understandings of social justice environmental sustainability and well being or ethicality exist in parallel to those institutionalized in ethical trade schemes Through an in depth case study of smallholder subsistence and French bean farming in Kenya the book grounds the analysis of livelihoods gender and ethical trade in women smallholders perspectives links the macro level of markets with the micro level of livelihoods and engenders relations of power structure and agency in food networks It brings together disparate bodies of theory to illustrate the knowledge strategies and values of women smallholder farmers that are often beyond the scope of ethical trade regulations It also provides a challenging new vision for doing food systems research The South China Sea

C. J. Jenner, Tran Truong Thuy, 2016-09-01 The history of the South China Sea is a catalyst of international cooperation and conflict Security in the Indo Asia Pacific is largely governed by command of these strategic waters More than half of global shipping transits the South China Sea which also holds significant reserves of oil gas and minerals as well as some of the largest fisheries in the world Drawing on a team of field leading researchers Jenner and Thuy provide an empirical study of the global ocean s most contested sea space The volume s four parts offer an insightful analysis of the significance of the South China Sea to the international order sub national agents of influence on relations between states the disputes over sovereignty through the analytical prism of international law and the conflictful region s prospects The primary source based conclusion elucidates the agency of history and strategy in the South China Sea Smart Development in Smart Communities

Gilberto Antonelli, Giuseppe Cappiello, 2016-09-13 The concept of smart cities has become one of the most significant new lines of thinking to emerge in the social sciences in recent years both from the research and policy angles To date the focus in smart specialization has been on what regions as a whole can do to bring about innovation but it hasn t necessarily addressed the role cities play within the field This book aims to address that gap drawing together a team of leading contributors to illustrate this process with particular focus on cities Smart Development in Smart Communities discusses the cross fertilization between smart specialization and cities in fostering smart development and its interactions with the macro micro and meso economic framework from both a theoretical and applied perspective Specific topics covered by the book include human capital formation and utilization centralized decentralized industrial policies innovation policies collective learning and the role of public utilities in sustaining smart development processes This book tackles some of the most important questions that must be faced when investigating how structural change and innovation processes are shaping local and global economic development It will be of interest to academics and researchers in the area of Development Economics Urban Studies and Public Management Rural Politics in Contemporary China Emily T. Yeh, Kevin

O'Brien, Jingzhong Ye, 2016-01-22 This collection provides an overview of China s rural politics bringing scholarship on agrarian politics from various social science disciplines together in one place The twelve contributions spanning history anthropology sociology environmental studies political science and geography address enduring questions in peasant studies including the relationship between states and peasants taxation social movements rural urban linkages land rights and struggles gender relations and environmental politics Taking rural politics as the power inflected processes and struggles that shape access and control over resources in the countryside as well as the values ideologies and discourses that shape those processes the volume brings research on China into conversation with the traditions and concerns of peasant studies scholarship It provides both an introduction to those unfamiliar with Chinese politics as well as in depth new research for experts in the field This book was published as a special issue of the Journal of Peasant Studies

North Africa and the Making of Europe Muriam Haleh Davis, Thomas Serres, 2018-02-22 This innovative edited collection brings together leading scholars from the USA the UK and mainland Europe to examine how European identity and institutions have been fashioned through interactions with the southern periphery since 1945 It highlights the role played by North African actors in shaping European conceptions of governance culture and development considering the construction of Europe as an ideological and politico economic entity in the process Split up into three sections that investigate the influence of colonialism on the shaping of post WWII Europe the nature of co operation dependence and interdependence in the region and the impact of the Arab Spring North Africa and the Making of Europe investigates the Mediterranean space using a transnational interdisciplinary approach This in turn allows for historical analysis to be fruitfully put into conversation with contemporary politics The book also discusses such timely issues such as the development of European institutions the evolution of legal frameworks in the name of antiterrorism the rise of Islamophobia immigration and political co operation Students and scholars focusing on the development of postwar Europe or the EU s current relationship with North Africa will benefit immensely from this invaluable new study

Inside the Enemy's Computer Clement Guitton, 2017-08-01 Attribution tracing those responsible for a cyber attack is of primary importance when classifying it as a criminal act an act of war or an act of terrorism Three assumptions dominate current thinking attribution is a technical problem it is unsolvable and it is unique Approaching attribution as a problem forces us to consider it either as solved or unsolved Yet attribution is far more nuanced and is best approached as a process in constant flux driven by judicial and political pressures In the criminal context courts must assess the guilt of criminals mainly based on technical evidence In the national security context decision makers must analyse unreliable and mainly non technical information in order to identify an enemy of the state Attribution in both contexts is political in criminal cases laws reflect society s prevailing norms and powers in national security cases attribution reflects a state s will to maintain increase or assert its power However both processes differ on many levels The constraints which reflect common aspects of many other political issues constitute the structure of the book the need for judgement calls the role of private companies the standards of evidence the role of time and the plausible deniability of attacks
