Hudson,1826 Redreaming the Renaissance Mary Lindemann,Deanna Shemek,2024-05-17 Redreaming the Renaissance seeks to remedy the dearth of conversations between scholars of history and literary studies by building on the pathbreaking work of Guido Ruggiero to explore the cross fertilization between these two disciplines using the textual world of the Italian Renaissance as proving ground In this volume these disciplines blur as they did for early moderns who did not always distinguish between the historical and literary significance of the texts they read and produced Literature here is broadly conceived to include not only belles lettres but also other forms of artful writing that flourished in the period including philosophical writings on dreams and prophecy life writing religious debates menu descriptions and other food writing diaries news reports ballads and protest songs and scientific discussions The twelve essays in this collection examine the role that the volume's dedicatee has played in bringing the disciplines of history and literary studies into provocative conversation as well as the methodology needed to sustain and enrich this conversation

In Defense of Partisan Criticism Omar Swartz,2005 In Defense of Partisan Criticism is a far reaching exploration of the legal philosophical and rhetorical basis for understanding social justice in the United States Through a thoughtful investigation of key political social and legal events in the history of the United States Omar Swartz develops a compelling argument for engaged political scholarship by American academics and offers readers a critical understanding of the place of race and class in American cultural history Central to this understanding is an awareness of the communication imagination the power of citizens to name the constraints placed upon them by U S political and legal institutions and to counter those constraints with narratives constructing a more socially just society based upon a wider sense of human identification and partisan engagement than is currently practiced in the normative U S public sphere

The Broadview Anthology of British Literature: Concise Volume B - Second Edition Joseph Black, Leonard Conolly, Kate Flint, Isobel Grundy, Don LePan, Roy Liuzza, Jerome McGann, Anne Lake Prescott, Barry Qualls, Claire Waters, 2013-08-20

In all six of its volumes, The Broadview Anthology of British Literature presents British literature in a truly distinctive light. Fully grounded in sound literary and historical scholarship, the anthology takes a fresh approach to many canonical authors and includes a wide selection of work by lesser-known writers. The anthology also provides wide-ranging coverage of the worldwide connections of British literature and it pays attention throughout to issues of race, gender, class, and sexual orientation. It includes comprehensive introductions to each period, providing in each case an overview of the historical and cultural as well as the literary background. It features accessible and engaging headnotes for all authors, extensive explanatory annotations, and an unparalleled number of illustrations and contextual materials. Innovative, authoritative, and comprehensive, The Broadview Anthology of British Literature has established itself as a leader in the field. The full anthology comprises six bound volumes together with an extensive website component; the latter has been edited, annotated, and designed according to the same high standards as the bound book component of the anthology and is accessible by using the passcode obtained with the purchase of one or more of the bound volumes. The two-volume Broadview Anthology of British Literature Concise Edition provides an attractive alternative to the full six-volume anthology. Though much more compact, the Concise Edition nevertheless provides instructors with substantial choice, offering both a strong selection of canonical authors and a sampling of lesser-known works. With an unparalleled number of illustrations and contextual materials, accessible and engaging introductions, and full explanatory annotations, this edition of the acclaimed Broadview Anthology provides concise yet wide-ranging coverage for British literature survey courses. Sylvia Townsend Warner, Stevie Smith, J. M. Coetzee, Eavan Boland, and Zadie Smith are among those given full author entries for the first time. There are also new selections by a number of authors who were already included in the anthology among them Seamus Heaney, Margaret Atwood, and Carol Ann Duffy. There are new contextual materials as well, including material on The Natural, the Supernatural, and the Sublime in the Age of Romanticism, section and material on The New Art of Photography in The Victorian Era. The new edition concludes with a new section offering a range of poetry, fiction, and non-fiction prose under the heading Literature, Politics, and Cultural Identity in the Late Twentieth and Early Twenty-first Centuries. The Concise edition will also now include a substantial website component providing for much greater flexibility. And an increasing number of works from the full six-volume anthology or from its website component are being made available in stand-alone Broadview Anthology of British Literature editions. Tennyson's In Memoriam for example which was previously included in these pages will now be available both as part of a stand alone Broadview Anthology of British Literature edition of Tennyson's selected poetry and as part of the website component of the anthology's Concise Edition     Jean Jacques Rousseau: Musique Et Theatre. The Prosecutor Brian A. Grosman, 1978-12-15 Every day decisions made by prosecutors before trial takes place critically affect the rights of citizens yet these decisions remain a grey area in the administration of criminal justice In fact there are considerable and important differences between what the prosecutor does and what the legal literature and judicial decisions say he should do Very little is known about the powers wielded by prosecutors and the factors which influence their exercise of discretion This inquiry focuses on the decision making role of the prosecutor in pre trial determinations Professor Grosman describes and analyses the prosecutor's informal relations with the police and defence lawyers and the significance these relationships have for the accused and for the fair administration of justice Other areas examined include the decision to begin prosecution the negotiated guilty plea and the prosecutor's administrative bias The study concludes with recommendations for judicial and legislative reform Professor Grosman has added a preface to this edition outlining the changes that have occurred in recent years A lucid and revealing description of the prosecutor's attitudes to criminal
