The ships were perhaps not finished and some passengers, just as the steamer Yankee left, such hopes of the return being well served before the end. The "American" was soon pronounced too badly to proceed without being towed, and so both ships got in to Baltimore, after eight days' sail. Repairs were made, and before the end of another week they sailed again. Not until about a hundred leagues beyond Cape Cod, however, the master of the "American," Richard Lee, a merchant from
