implications by the sender carried out at high speed impact our understanding of the communication process Simply put until now the default case in communication theory is the belief that we consciously reason and then we act However that may not be entirely true Rationalist Bias in Communication Theory applies social intuition theory to human communication This book explores how research has missed accounting for a critical fact about human communication in the theories of communication namely that we as humans can respond to one another and to all kinds of stimuli faster than we can deliberate By applying intuitive cognition to communication a new light can be shed on the communication process which is what the chapters prove and discuss This book is valuable for social scientists practitioners researchers academicians and students interested in new theories in communication theory Global Discourse in Fractured Times Yahya R.
