Research in the field of aging and health has shown that older people are more likely to be alone than younger people, and that older people have more difficulty in finding a new partner (see Figure 1). This is not surprising, since older people are more likely to be widowed, divorced, or separated than younger people, and they are more likely to have a history of divorce or separation than younger people. This is not surprising, since older people are more likely to have a history of divorce or separation than younger people, and they are more likely to have a history of divorce or separation than younger people.

After this, participants were assigned to one of two treatment and two control groups in order to address the different combinations of the number of faces viewed and time that the gaze is maintained. During face viewing and subsequent judgment, the faces were to all appear to be identical as created by the software. The faces were displayed for 10 seconds and the target face was highlighted for 10 seconds. The faces were displayed for 10 seconds and the target face was highlighted for 10 seconds.
