Euphrates and introduced a body of troops through the deserted channel yet danger even from this quarter had been foreseen and guarded against if proper caution had been used Each side of the river was lined with walls and gates were placed at the end of the streets which led down to the water side so that as Herodotus himself remarks if the Persians had been on their guard the attempt might have been defeated by merely closing the gates and the assailants might have been cut off entirely by missile weapons But to return to Plat a the Spartans were notoriously unskilled even among the Greeks in this branch of warfare Military engines they had none a want arising probably from their national poverty for the ram was known and was employed some say invented by Pericles at the siege of Samos some years before the Peloponnesian war broke out It is remarkable that from this time downwards to the invention of gunpowder no material discovery was made in this branch of the military art except the introduction of moving towers Lines of circumvallation as they were the earliest continued to be the surest means of overcoming the pertinacious resistance of stone and mortar Such was the case even at Rome after the vast influx of wealth from conquered provinces had facilitated the construction of the largest and most expensive machines and the vast scale upon which those temporary enclosures were completed exhibits most strikingly the laboriousness of the Roman legionaries This however is foreign to our present subject If the reader has any curiosity respecting these works he will find some remarkable ones described in C sar s Commentaries To be continue in this ebook
