

MARK SCHEME for the October/November 2013 series

0470 HISTORY

0470/13

Paper 1, maximum raw mark 60

This mark scheme is published as an aid to teachers and candidates, to indicate the requirements of the examination. It shows the basis on which Examiners were instructed to award marks. It does not indicate the details of the discussions that took place at an Examiners' meeting before marking began, which would have considered the acceptability of alternative answers.

Mark schemes should be read in conjunction with the question paper and the Principal Examiner Report for Teachers.

Cambridge will not enter into discussions about these mark schemes.

Cambridge is publishing the mark schemes for the October/November 2013 series for most IGCSE, GCE Advanced Level and Advanced Subsidiary Level components and some Ordinary Level components.

History Paper 1 0470 2013:

Urban Nature and Childhoods Iris Duhn, Karen Malone, Marek Tesar, 2020-06-29 This book challenges the notion that nature is a city's opposite and addresses the often overlooked concept of urban nature and how it relates to children's experiences of environmental education. The idea of nature deficit as well as concerns that children in cities lack for experiences of nature speaks to the anxieties that underpin urban living and a lack of natural experiences. The contributors to this volume provide insights into a more complex understanding of urban nature and of children's experiences of urban nature. What is learned if nature is not somewhere else but right here wherever we are? What does it mean for children's environmental learning if nature is a relationship and not an entity? How can such a relational understanding of urban nature and childhood support more sustainable and more inclusive urban living? In raising challenging questions about childhoods and urban nature, this book will stimulate much needed discussion to provoke new imaginings for researchers in environmental education, childhood studies and urban studies. This book was originally published as a special issue of Environmental Education Research. Neonatal Brain Injury and the Search for New Therapies Daniel

Handbook of Research on Human-Computer

Interfaces, Developments, and Applications Rodrigues, João, Cardoso, Pedro, Monteiro, Jânio, Figueiredo, Mauro, 2016-06-29 Human Computer Interaction (HCI) is easy to define yet difficult to predict. Encompassing the management, study, planning and design of the ways in which users interact with computers, this field has evolved from using punch cards to force touch in a matter of decades. What was once considered science fiction is now ubiquitous. The future of HCI is mercurial yet predictions point to the effortless use of high functioning services. The Handbook of Research on Human Computer Interfaces, Developments and Applications is primarily concerned with emerging research regarding gesture interaction, augmented reality and assistive technologies and their place within HCI. From gaming to rehabilitation systems, these new technologies share the need to interface with humans and as computers become thoroughly integrated into everyday life, so does the necessity of HCI research. This handbook of research benefits the research needs of programmers, developers, students and educators in computer science and researchers. Emerging Infectious Diseases, 2013

Oceania and the Victorian Imagination Professor Peter H. Hoffenberg, Professor Richard D. Fulton, 2013-04-28 Oceania or the South Pacific loomed large in the Victorian popular imagination. It was a world that interested the Victorians for many reasons, all of which suggested to them that everything was possible there. This collection of essays focuses on Oceania's impact on Victorian culture, most notably travel, writing, photography, international exhibitions, literature and the world of children. Each of these had significant impact. The literature discussed affected mainly the middle and upper classes, while exhibitions and photography reached down into the working classes as did missionary presentations. The experience of children was central to the Pacific's effects as youthful encounters at exhibitions, chapel, home or school formed lifelong impressions and experience It would be difficult to fully understand the Victorians as they understood themselves without considering their engagement with Oceania While the contributions of India and Africa to the nineteenth century imagination have been well documented examinations of the contributions of Oceania have remained on the periphery of Victorian studies Oceania and the Victorian Imagination contributes significantly to our discussion of the non peripheral place of Oceania in Victorian culture

The Promise of Reconciliation? Chaiwat Satha-Anand,2017-07-05 The Promise of Reconciliation explores the relationship between violence nonviolence and reconciliation in societal conflicts with questions such as In what ways does violence impact the reconciliation process that necessarily follows a cessation of deadly conflict Would an understanding of how conflict has been engaged with violence or nonviolence be conducive to how it could be prevented from sliding further into violence The contributors examine international influences on the peace reconciliation process in Indonesia s Aceh conflict as well as the role of Muslim religious scholars in promoting peace They also examine the effect of violence in southern Thailand where insurgent violence has provided leverage during the fighting but negatively affects post conflict objectives The chapter on Sri Lanka shows that successful violence does not necessarily end conflict Sri Lankan society today is more polarized than it was before its civil war The Vietnam chapter argues that the rise of nonviolent protest in Vietnam reflects a profound loss of state legitimacy which cannot be resolved with force while another chapter on Thailand examines Red Sunday a Thai political movement engaged in nonviolent protest in the face of violent government suppression The book ends with a look at Indonesian cities sites of ethnic conflicts as potential abodes of peace if violence can be curtailed
