History Pmemorandum November 2014:

Needs and Opportunities in the Modern History of the U.S. Navy Michael J. Crawford, 2018 This is a compilation of a series of papers presented in conjunction with a year long lecture series sponsored by the Naval History and Heritage Command Provided by publisher

Flight Risk Forrest L. Marion, 2018-10-15 From the 1920s Afghanistan maintained a small air arm that depended heavily upon outside assistance Starting in 2005 the United States led an air advisory campaign to rebuild the Afghan Air Force AAF In 2007 a formal joint combined entity led by a U S Air Force brigadier general began air advisor work with Afghan airmen Between 2007 and 2011 these efforts made modest progress in terms of infrastructures personnel and aircraft accessions and various training courses But by 2010 advisors increasingly viewed AAF command and control C2 as a problem area that required significant improvement if a professional air force was to be built In the spring of 2011 major institutional changes to AAF C2 procedures were being introduced when nine U S air advisors were killed The attack was the worst single incident loss of U S Air Force personnel in a deployed location since 1996 and the worst insider attack since 2001 From the day of that tragic event the cultural chasm between Afghanistan and the West became more apparent This dilemma continues with no end in sight to an air advisory mission of uncertain long term value

A Military History of the Cold War, 1962-1991 Jonathan M. House, 2020-09-24 Study of the Cold War all too often shows us the war that wasn't fought The reality of course is that many hot conflicts did occur some with the great powers weapons and approval others without It is this reality and this period of quasi war and semiconflict that Jonathan M House plumbs in A Military History of the Cold War 1962 1991 a complex case study in the Clausewitzian relationship between policy and military force during a time of global upheaval and political realignment This volume opens a new perspective on three fraught decades of Cold War history revealing how the realities of time distance resources and military culture often constrained and diverted the inclinations or policies of world leaders In addition to the Vietnam War and nuclear confrontations between the USSR and the United States this period saw dozens of regional wars and insurgencies fought throughout Asia Africa and Latin America Cuba Pakistan Indonesia Israel Egypt and South Africa pursued their own goals in ways that drew the superpowers into regional disputes Even clashes ostensibly unrelated to the politics of East West confrontation such as the Nigerian Biafran conflict the Falklands Malvinas War and the Indonesian occupation of East Timor involved armed forces weapons and tactics developed for the larger conflict and thus come under House's scrutiny His study also takes up nontraditional or specialized aspects of the period including weapons of mass destruction civil military relations civil defense and control of domestic disorders The result is a single integrated survey and analysis of a complex period in geopolitical history which fills a significant gap in our knowledge of the organization logistics operations and tactics involved in conflict throughout the Cold War

The Clairmont Family Letters, 1839 - 1889 Sharon Joffe, 2016-08-05 This book is the second of two volumes in an edited collection that brings together the unpublished letters of the extended Clairmont family for the first time The letters housed in the Carl H Pforzheimer Collection of Shelley and His Circle at the New York Public Library inform our understanding of the Shelley Godwin circle through the experiences and thoughts of their descendants The correspondence also enables us to see into the contemporary social history of nineteenth century families living in Europe and Australia dealing with subjects such as the conflicts in Europe woes in the European financial markets and the effects of Australian pioneer life on immigrants to that country The Clairmont Family Letters 1839 1889 improves upon scholarship made by other Shelley and Clairmont collections and is furnished with editorial notes and apparatus from Dr Sharon Joffe These volumes will be of significant interest to scholars in British Romanticism Illusions of Victory Carter Malkasian, 2017-07-19 In the immediate aftermath of the 2007 Surge of American troops in Iraq the defeat of al Qaeda in Iraq AQI in Anbar Province was widely hailed as one of America's signature victories US Marines and soldiers fought for years there in grinding battles such as Fallujah and Ramadi that define the experience of Iraq Eventually the fractious tribal sheiks in that province with the help of American troops united in an Awakening that dealt AQI a stunning defeat The Awakening's success argued that the United States could intervene in a war-torn country and with the right strategy bring stability and peace It seemed to exemplify snatching victory from the jaws of defeat A decade later the situation in Anbar Province is dramatically different In 2014 much of Anbar fell to the AQI's successor organization the Islamic State which swept through the region with shocking ease In Illusions of Victory Carter Malkasian looks at the wreckage to explain why the Awakening's initial promise proved misleading and why victory was unsustainable Malkasian begins by tracing the origins of the Awakening then turns his attention to what happened in its wake After the United States left Iraq's Shi'a government sidelined Sunni leaders throughout the country AQI brought back to life as the Islamic State expanded in northern and western Iraq and quickly found a receptive audience among marginalized Sunnis In short order the progress that had resulted from the Awakening fell apart Malkasian draws many lessons from Anbar Chief among them the most stunning of victories may not last The fact that the leading model of success fell apart severely damages the idea that the United States can send the military to a country for a few years and create lasting peace Even the most successful example was bound to deeper social sectarian and religious forces insensitive to temporary boots on the ground From today's perspective rather than decisive success Anbar exemplifies how intervention itself is a costly long-term project The most brilliant victory could not escape this wisdom America and Romania in the Cold War Paschalis Pechlivanis, 2019-03-26 This book examines the US foreign policy of differentiation towards the socialist regimes of Eastern Europe as it was implemented by various administrations towards Ceausescu's Romania from 1969 to 1980 Drawing from multi-archival research from both US and Romanian sources this is the first comprehensive analysis of differentiation and shows that Washington's Eastern European policy in the 1970s was more nuanced than the common East vs West narrative suggests By examining systemic Cold War factors such as the rise of détente between the two superpowers and the role of agency the study deals with the dynamics that shaped the evolution of American Romanian relations after Bucharest's opening towards the West and the subsequent embrace of this initiative by Washington as an instrument to undermine the unity of the Soviet bloc Furthermore it revises interpretations about Carter's celebrated human rights policy based on the Romanian case pointing towards a remarkable continuity between the three administrations under examination Nixon Ford and Carter By doing so this study contributes to the field by highlighting a largely neglected aspect of US foreign policy and uncovers the subtleties of Washington's relations with one of the most vigorous actors of the Eastern European bloc This book will be of much interest to students of Cold War Studies US foreign policy Eastern European politics and International Relations in general

The History of the Black Watch (Royal Highland Regiment) of Canada: Volume 3, 1946-2022 Roman Johann Jarymowycz, 2023-05-15 In three volumes spanning centuries Lieutenant Colonel Roman Jarymowycz recounts the story of the Black Watch Royal Highland Regiment of Canada the oldest Highland regiment in the country He traces its history from the roots when soldiers settlers and militia volunteers rallied to defend the southern borders of their adopted country against invasion from the United States Drawing on diaries letters classified documents and the regimental archive Jarymowycz weaves the strands of a complex story into an epic narrative of a resolute collective of officers and men Since its birth in 1862 as the 5th Battalion Volunteer Militia Rifles of Canada thousands of citizens have served in the unit In addition to securing Canada's borders Black Watch soldiers have fought in the South African War both world wars and the Korean War They have bolstered NATO operations and United Nations peacekeeping missions and they provided aid to the civil power during the 1997 Quebec and Eastern Ontario ice storm disaster and the COVID 19 pandemic The Montreal based battalion continues to serve Canada in its traditional role as a reserve infantry unit and to this day Black Watch soldiers frequently deploy on dangerous missions abroad Volume 3 relates the regiment's post Second World War story Canada's commitments to NATO and the United Nations led to the creation of two regular battalions of the Black Watch while retaining the reserve battalion in Montreal From 1953 to 1970 in Korea Germany Cyprus and Canada the regular battalions served with devotion and courage The thousands of men who were based at Camp Aldershot Nova Scotia and the Regimental Depot in Sussex New Brunswick then moved to establish a Regular Force Home Station in the newly constructed Camp Gagetown NB These units earned a reputation second to none in efficiency training fighting ability readiness and strength This monumental history of Canada's oldest Highland regiment is at once a record of Scottish heritage a portrait of Montreal rising as an industrial giant and an examination of the emergence of a military culture from the Western Front

A History of Force Feeding Ian Miller, 2016-08-17 This book is Open Access under a CC BY license It is the first monograph length study of the force feeding of hunger strikers in English Irish and Northern Irish prisons It examines ethical debates that arose throughout the twentieth century when governments authorised the force feeding of imprisoned suffragettes Irish republicans and convict prisoners It also explores the fraught role of prison doctors called upon to perform the procedure Since the Home Office first authorised force feeding in 1909 a number of questions have been raised about the procedure Is force feeding safe Can it kill Are doctors who feed prisoners against their will abandoning the medical ethical norms of their profession And do state bodies use prison doctors to help tackle political dissidence at times of political crisis

Canada's Residential Schools: The History, Part 2, 1939 to 2000 Truth and Reconciliation Commission of Canada, 2015-12-09 Between 1867 and 2000 the Canadian government sent over 150 000 Aboriginal children to residential schools across the country Government officials and missionaries agreed that in order to civilize and Christianize Aboriginal children it was necessary to separate them from their parents and their home communities For children life in these schools was lonely and alien Discipline was harsh and daily life was highly regimented Aboriginal languages and cultures were denigrated and suppressed Education and technical training too often gave way to the drudgery of doing the chores necessary to make the schools self sustaining Child neglect was institutionalized and the lack of supervision created situations where students were prey to sexual and physical abusers Legal action by the schools former students led to the creation of the Truth and Reconciliation Commission of Canada in 2008 The product of over six years of research the Commission s final report outlines the history and legacy of the schools and charts a pathway towards reconciliation Canada s Residential Schools The History Part 2 1939 to 2000 carries the story of the residential school system from the end of the Great Depression to the closing of the last remaining schools in the late 1990s It demonstrates that the underfunding and unsafe living conditions that characterized the early history of the schools continued into an era of unprecedented growth and prosperity for most Canadians A miserly funding formula meant that into the late 1950s school meals fell short of the Canada Food Rules Overcrowding poor sanitation and a failure to adhere to fire safety rules were common problems throughout this period While government officials had come to view the schools as costly and inefficient the churches were reluctant to countenance their closure It was not until the late 1960s that the federal government finally wrested control of the system away from the churches Government plans to turn First Nations education over to the provinces met with opposition from Aboriginal organizations that were seeking Indian Control of Indian Education Following parent led occupation of a school in Alberta many of the remaining schools came under Aboriginal administration The closing of the schools coincided with a growing number of convictions of former staff members on charges of sexually abusing students These trials revealed the degree to which sexual abuse at the schools had been covered up in the past Former students who came to refer to themselves as Survivors established regional and national organizations and provided much of the leadership for the campaign that led to the federal government issuing in 2008 an apology to the former students and their families

Unjust Restitution Michael Kingsley Brown, 2025-02-04 The question of economic justice for Black Americans remains unresolved and continues to be the subject of contentious political debate In Unjust Restitution Michael K Brown examines the meaning of racial equality during three transformative periods in American history when significant changes to economic status and opportunity appeared to be a real possibility in the US Reconstruction the New Deal and the Great Society Political leaders believed slavery and Jim Crow degraded Black people and enacted policies to rehabilitate formerly subjugated individuals Black Americans challenged this conception and repudiated the idea that they were damaged people in need of repair Repeatedly Black people s vision of economic justice was based on anti privilege egalitarianism the idea that a just restitution for their oppression required abolishing the political and legal privileges whites had acquired Black opposition reveals what was at stake at each historical moment and what might constitute economic justice in the twenty first century Equality of opportunity can be a just restitution for continuing durable racial inequality only if it changes the structure of people s economic opportunities
