Introduction to Climate Change Economics and Policy Felix R. FitzRoy, Elissaios Papyrakis, 2016-04-14 The 2nd edition of An Introduction to Climate Change Economics and Policy explains the key scientific economic and policy issues related to climate change in a completely up to date introduction for anyone interested and students at all levels in various related courses including environmental economics international development geography politics and international relations FitzRoy and Papyrakis highlight how economists and policymakers often misunderstand the science of climate change underestimate the growing threat to future civilization and survival and exaggerate the costs of radical measures needed to stabilize the climate In contrast they show how direct and indirect costs of fossil fuels particularly the huge health costs of local pollution actually exceed the investment needed for transition to an almost zero carbon economy in two or three decades using available technology Telling tales Angela Lait, 2017-10-03 Telling tales explores the narrative construction of identity within organisations and how this is resisted and challenged by writing coming from other lifestyles Since the early 1990s US inspired changes in workplace culture have radically altered the experience of UK workers This book argues that the corporate communication supporting these changes which seeks to align employee behaviour and attitudes with emerging organisational market values is having a powerful and harmful effect on those whose identity rests in opposing qualitatively based occupational standards By focusing on accountability measures introduced to the public sector post 1997 by New Labour as a means to raise productivity and lower cost and with forensic attention to a supporting transformational identity discourse author Angela Lait shows how workers struggle to achieve the satisfaction and fulfilment at work that was once the mainstay of their professional middle class identity Reading these identity problems into and across business self help manuals fiction Ian McEwan's Saturday the writing of celebrity chefs Nigella Lawson Jamie Oliver et al and autobiography the argument traces a sickness recovery dialectic in which sufferers find resistance and solace through engagement with particular types of creative labour These are most notably cookery gardening and writing which each employ alternative language and narrative forms that order experience according to more regulated rhythms and rituals and more productive and stable relationships than are possible in paid employment Telling tales is a highly readable engaging broad ranging and interdisciplinary story that will have strong appeal to academics particularly in literature sociology organisational and cultural studies It will also resonate with anyone trying to reconcile the conflicting work and personal needs of a hectic twenty four seven modern world
