Implementing an Inclusive and Equitable Pension Reform Cheolsu Kim, 2012 India is ageing. One response of Indian policy makers has been introduction of the New Pension Scheme (NPS), a defined contribution pension scheme which is mandatory for civil servants and voluntary for the rest of the population. Given the size of the target population, even if take up is modest, NPS savings may soon provide huge amounts of capital to India's economy. However, challenges are abundant. What governance structure will best achieve the ultimate policy goal of serving the needs of savers? What business processes and information technology design will serve members best? How effectively will the NPS attack the problem of old age poverty? In this book, a multi-disciplinary international team comprising of economists, lawyers, pension management experts and capital market experts explore these and other questions. The book proposes significant legal, regulatory and governance reforms for the NPS and other existing pension schemes as well. It finds that current NPS business practices cannot keep pace with potential growth of the system and makes suggestions on how to take better advantage of information technology. Based on review of experience elsewhere and state of the art economic demographic modelling, it warns that the NPS in its current form does not address the retirement income needs of the lifelong very poor, suggesting that it is only one in a range of responses needed to cope with the challenges of population ageing in India.

A new suite of learning and teaching resources that will excite future managers and inspire critical thinking accompanies the text. LEADERSHIP AND ORGANISATIONAL PERFORMANCE Dr. Godwin C. Arikibe, 1901 Leadership is inherent in every being despite one's job profile. But qualitative training and other traits are very important for the right behaviours. Every follower possesses attribute of a leader but because these are somewhat concealed to lead effectively becomes a huge challenge to many. This book is as a result of many years of research. It focused on discovering those behavioural attributes that could combine effectively with the leader's competing roles to enhance his performance. A Competing Value Framework (CVF) was applied to understand the leadership behaviours, characteristics, attributes and roles that could influence a leader even in the face of contingency factors. The result was quite revealing. Leaders that combine their roles with other attributes, skills, achieve behavioural complexity which are performance enhancing behaviours. Furthermore, leaders are distinguished by their unique mental attitude, particularly in four roles they play motivation vision analytic and task master roles Combination of these with other attributes and characteristics enhances the leadership complexity This book is a useful material for those in the ministries academia and organisations of different sizes It s a book every leader must possess to comprehend the behavioural complexities relevant for organisational performance Management Index ,1967 Industrial Refrigeration ,1911 Supplementary Catalogue Being a Classified List of the Books Added to the Library July 23, 1906-Dec.31,1924 Institute of Accountants and Actuaries in Glasgow.
