A Critical History of Soul Train on Television Christopher P. Lehman, 2014-11-26 As a wildly popular local dance show Soul Train provided a venue for Chicago's soul singers and political activists and gave African American teenagers their first significant chance to see and identify with their peers on television. The subsequent national series garnered even more popularity, establishing producer and host Don Cornelius as one of the most successful pioneers of African American television production. This work discusses Cornelius's role in the evolution of his groundbreaking series from a small all-black 1970s television show to a lucrative brand name applying not only to the program but also to awards and various merchandise in the present day. The first two chapters focus on Cornelius's years in Chicago and the initial launching of Soul Train in 1970. The next two chapters explore how the nationally televised California-based version of the show rose steadily in both popularity and cultural influence among primarily African American viewers and how Cornelius himself became a rising celebrity during that time. The final chapters illustrate Cornelius's efforts in branching out beyond the dance show through various music-related business ventures, including the Soul Train Music Awards. The work includes interviews with several former cast members and guests along with a complete chronology of the series and Cornelius's other professional ventures.

A History of Language Philosophies Lia Formigari, 2004. Theory and history combine in this book to form a coherent narrative of the debates on language and languages in the Western world from ancient classic philosophy to the present with a final glance at on-going discussions on language as a cognitive tool on its bodily roots and phylogenetic role. An introductory chapter reviews the epistemological areas that converge into or contribute to language philosophy and discusses their methods, relations, and goals. In this context, the status of language philosophy is discussed in its relation to the sciences and the arts of language. Each chapter is followed by a list of suggested readings that refer the reader to the final bibliography. About the author: Lia Formigari, Professor Emerita at University of Rome La Sapienza. Her publications include Language and Experience in XVIIth century British Philosophy (Amsterdam: Signs Science and Politics), Philosophies of Language in Europe 1700-1830 (Amsterdam: La semiotique empiriste face au kantisme), Liege (Mardaga, 1994). Conquering the Mighty Sioux William J. Bordeaux, 1929. Making History Tim Betz, 2023-04-15. While first-person interpretation and historic crafts have long been part of the museum world, current movements in the maker movement in libraries and schools have occurred mostly outside of the museum world. Instead, Makerspace in Museums: Hands On History in Museums and Historic Sites shows the importance of the Maker Movement for museums and historic sites and presents a roadmap to building, planning, researching, and using a makerspace alongside more traditional museum programming. It calls for a revitalization of living history which can be done through makerspaces and the maker movement. Highlights include: Why museums and makerspaces are a natural fit together; Ways to organize and create a makerspace in a museum of any budget; Creating a makerspace and culture of making that is inclusive and for the entirety of the community; Strategies for researching historic making techniques and adapting them to the modern world; Creating meaningful makerspace-centered programming. The processes and methods explored in this book will help produce a sustainable makerspace that will help the museum or historic site that adopts it.

reach new audiences creating growth and new museums stakeholders Likewise through calling for a recalibration of living history through the language of the makerspace this project calls for new approaches to living history Thus it is a call for a disruption to the status quo and a push towards sustainable and meaningful living history
