Hard Candy Deer Sucker Recipe:

In Full Color Rachel Dolezal, Storms Reback, 2017-03-28 A lot of people have made up their minds about Rachel Dolezal. But none of them know her real story. In June 2015 the media outed Rachel Dolezal as a white woman who had knowingly been passing as Black. When asked if she were African American during an interview about the hate crimes directed at her and her family she hesitated before ending the interview and walking away. Some interpreted her reluctance to respond and hasty departure as dishonesty while others assumed she lacked a reasonable explanation for the almost unprecedented way she identified herself. What determines your race? Is it your DNA? The community in which you were raised? The way others see you or the way you see yourself? With In Full Color Rachel Dolezal describes the path that led her from being a child of white evangelical parents to an NAACP chapter president and respected educator and activist who identifies as Black. Along the way she recounts the deep emotional bond she formed with her four adopted Black siblings, the sense of belonging she felt while living in Black communities in Jackson, Mississippi and Washington, DC, and the experiences that have shaped her along the way. Her story is nuanced and complex, and in the process of telling it she forces us to consider race in an entirely new light, not as a biological imperative but as a function of the experiences we have, the culture we embrace, and ultimately the identity we choose.

The Rural New-Yorker, 1928 Junior Arts and Activities, 1947 Scenes from the City
Martin Scorsese, 2006 From the cinema verité of the sixties to softer fare like Splash, New York has provided some of the most iconic moments on film. Beginning with a survey of such classics as Breakfast at Tiffany's, Scenes from the City captures how the changing face of New York, as well as the founding of the MOFPA, have contributed to a particular school of film characterized most emphatically in the street style work of directors as diverse as Martin Scorsese and Spike Lee. With over 200 stills and contributions from noted New York film personalities such as Sidney Lumet and Nora Ephron, the book also includes rare unpublished behind-the-scenes shots and stories from the quintessential New York filmmaker himself, Woody Allen. With a special section on the landmark TV series commercials and music videos filmed in New York, Scenes from the City is an affectionate and vivacious ovation for this captivating character that rarely receives billing but always steals the show.
