The past two decades have seen historic change in the field of language learning materials development. Timely, authoritative, and global in scope, this text represents the ideal resource for all those studying and working in the field of language learning.

Specifically, the chapters discuss matters such as speech perception and production patterns in a second foreign language, factors that facilitate second language acquisition, acquisition of heritage languages, teaching of a second foreign language, and acquisition of second foreign language grammatical and other structures, among others. The investigation of L2 FL and HLs is of paramount importance for updating the existing theories in the field and maximizing learning outcomes for the sake of effective communication, cultivation of intercultural understanding, career advancement, and personal development. The book is of interest to a wide range of disciplinary audiences, including linguists, psychologists, educators, and social scientists.
