The Commercialisation of Space Sarah Lieberman, Harald Köpping, Athanasopoulos, Thomas Hoerber, 2023-03-29 This interdisciplinary book examines the impact of the commercialisation of space and the changing outlook of the space sector. Using a framework based around theories of international political economy (IPE), the chapters take on issues relating to the politics, the economics, and the ethics of commercialising space. The book aims to build a bridge between the research carried out on European Space Policy and the issues that are currently pertinent in the global discussion of future space policy. Overall, the volume aims to inform the reader about historical and contemporary developments in the neoliberal commercialisation of space, assess the impact of the commercialisation of space on European space institutions, European space policy, and European space culture, raise ethical questions about the environmental and practical sustainability of the commercialisation of space, examine the compatibility of the commercialisation of space with international EU and national law. This book will be of much interest to students of space policy, global governance, European politics, and International Relations. Envisioning Human Geographies Paul Cloke, Philip Crang, Mark Goodwin, 2014-02-24 Bringing together many of the leading human geographers from around the English-speaking world, Envisioning Human Geographies offers a series of personal visions for the future of human geography. The result is a vigorous and far-sighted debate about what human geography could and should be concerned with in the twenty-first century. The individual contributors develop their arguments to address the shape and direction of human geographies.

with each chapter looking forward and envisioning an intellectual future for the subject The result is a set of powerful statements written around the themes of space nature enclosure political economy non representation post colonialism feminism post structuralism computation morality spirituality activism The statements are tied via an introduction that discusses the ideological academic and aesthetic prompts that fire the human geographical imagination Envisioning Human Geographies maps out important new territories of enquiry for human geography and is essential reading for all students studying the nature and philosophy of the subject Military Design Thinking Aaron P. Jackson, 2024-09-30 This book examines the newly emergent field of military design thinking how it has been developed inside and outside of military doctrine and the paradigms that underlie its key thinkers and methodologies From the emergence of its initial methodologies in the late 1990s military design thinking's development rapidly accelerated in the mid 2000s in response to perceived failures of existing military doctrine and practice to adapt to the wars of the early 21st century To establish a foundation for exploring the significance of the challenge military design thinking presented to dominant approaches to warfare the early chapters in the book examine the ontology and epistemology of military doctrine which is defined as a written expression of a military's institutional belief system regarding how to wage war They also explain how attempts to incorporate military design thinking into doctrine ultimately led to its assimilation into this belief system requiring military design thinkers to continue to explore and develop the field outside of doctrine Since the mid 2010s non doctrinal military design methodologies have become increasingly prominent within several Western militaries including the US Canada UK Australia and several European militaries Later chapters offer an exploration of the paradigms underlying non doctrinal as well as doctrinal design methodologies This book highlights how the field has evolved shows how military design thinking differs from its civilian equivalents developed in fields such as commerce and business management and discusses how it may evolve in the near future This book will be of much interest to students of military studies security studies and international relations as well as to military professionals
