Language and Institutional Identity in the Post-Apartheid South African Higher Education Leketi

Makalela,2022-03-21 This book examines the intersections between education identity formation and language in post apartheid South Africa with specific attention to higher education It does so against the backdrop of the core argument that the sector plays a critical role in shaping re producing and perpetuating sectoral class sub national and national identities which in turn in the peculiar South African setting are almost invariably analogous with the historical fault lines determined and dictated by language as a marker of ethnic and racial identity The chapters in the book grapple with the nuances related to these intersections in the understanding that higher education language policies overt and or covert largely structure institutional cultures or what has been described as curriculum in higher education institutions Together the chapters examine the roles played by higher education by language policies and by the intersections of these policies and ethnolinguistic identities in either constructing and perpetuating or deconstructing ethnolinguistic identities upon which the sector was founded The introductory chapter lays out the background to the entire book with an emphasis on the policy and practice perspectives on the intersections The middle chapters describe the so called White Universities Black Universities and Middle Man Minorities Universities The final chapter maps out future directions of the discourses on language and identity formation in South Africa s higher education The Linguistic Landscape of Post-Apartheid South Africa Liesel

Hibbert,2016-06-24 The appointment of Nelson Mandela as President of South Africa in 1994 signalled the end of apartheid and transition to a new democratic constitution This book studies discursive trends during the first twenty years of the new democracy outlining the highlights and challenges of transforming policy practice and discursive formations The book analyses a range of discourses which signal how and by what processes the linguistic landscape and identities of South Africa s inhabitants have changed in this time finding that struggles in South African politics go hand in hand with shifts in the linguistic landscape In a country now characterised by multilingualism heteroglossia polyphony and translanguaging the author debates where the discourse practices of those born post 1994 may lead KwaZulu-Natal Heritage Sites Sue

The Contested Idea of South Africa Sabelo J. Ndlovu-Gatsheni, Busani Ngcaweni, 2021-11-29 This book reflects on the complex and contested idea of South Africa drawing on a wide range of disciplinary perspectives Ever since the delineation of South Africa as a country the many diverse groups of people contained within its borders have struggled to translate a mere geographical description into the identity of a people Today the new struggles for South Africa and to become South African are inextricably intertwined with complex challenges of transformation xenophobia claims of reverse racism social justice economic justice service delivery and the resurgent decolonization struggles reverberating inside the universities This book covers the genealogy of the idea of South Africa exploring how the country has been conceived of by a broad group of actors including the British Afrikaners diverse African nationalist traditions and new formations such as the Economic Freedom Fighters EFF Black First Land First BLF and student formations Rhodes Must Fall Fees Must Fall Over the course of the book a broad range of themes are covered including identity formation modernity race ethnicity indigeneity autochthony land gender intellectual traditions poetics of South Africanness language popular culture truth and reconciliation and national development planning Concluding with important reflections on how a colonial imaginary can be changed into a free and inclusive postcolonial nation state this book will be an important read for Africanist researchers from across the humanities and social sciences The Relative Clause Formation in Zulu Alexandra

Orth,2011-05-09 Seminar paper from the year 2009 in the subject English Language and Literature Studies Linguistics grade 2 0 University of Freiburg English Seminar course HS Grammaticalization language English abstract My term paper deals with one of the South African languages the Zulu language In my grammar report accompanying the seminar I already dealt with the Zulu language more precisely I tried to explain the phenomenon of the Zulu noun Besides our seminar the motivation and idea to deal with this topic has arisen from my personal experiences Since I lived and worked approximately five months in South Africa last year The Zulu language aroused my interest because it differs from all languages I know but nevertheless it includes English words or word parts This time in my term paper I will try to discuss the way of forming a relative clause in Zulu This formation usually involves a prefix also called relative concord which is attached to the predicate of a relative clause A relative clause is a subordinate clause that modifies a noun Generally in most European languages a relative clause is introduced by a relative pronoun which belongs to a special class of pronouns In other languages relative clauses may be marked in different ways they may be introduced by a special class of conjunctions called relativizers the main verb of the relative clause may appear in a special morphological variant or a relative clause may be indicated by word order alone In some languages more than one of these mechanisms may be possible Since relative clauses in Zulu were formed in a different way than in most European languages I would like to examine this problem in more detail South

Tannenbaum,2014-09-15 Addressing a wide range of issues in applied linguistics sociolinguistics and multilingualism this volume focuses on language users the people Making creative connections between existing scholarship in language policy and contemporary theory and research in other social sciences authors from around the world offer new critical perspectives for analyzing language phenomena and language theories suggesting new meeting points among language users and language policy makers norms and traditions in diverse cultural geographical and historical contexts Identifying and expanding on previously neglected aspects of language studies the book is inspired by the work of Elana Shohamy whose critical view and innovative work on a broad spectrum of key topics in applied linguistics has influenced many scholars in the field to think out of the box and to reconsider some basic commonly held understandings specifically with regard to the impact of language and languaging on individual language users rather than on the masses The Changing Face of Land and Conservation in Post-colonial Africa George Barrett, Shirley Brooks, Jenny Josefsson, Nqobile Zulu, 2016-03-22 The year 2013 marked the 100th anniversary of the 1913 Land Act in South Africa which legalised the violent dispossession and alienation of the African majority from the land It is common cause that the alienation of land for conservation purposes introduced to Africa under colonial rule has continued more or less uninterrupted until today However while nature conservation practices inevitably raise challenging questions relating to land and land use there has thus far been little concentrated effort to bring together scholars working on the land question particularly around issues of land tenure with those whose work focuses on questions of nature construction and the social impacts of conservation in an African context Compiled from research presented at a ground breaking interdisciplinary conference held at Rhodes University in Grahamstown South Africa in 2012 the chapters in this book made their first appearance in a special issue of the Journal of Contemporary African Studies JCAS in July 2013 The book brings critical interdisciplinary analyses of the complex interrelations between contemporary neoliberal conservation practices in post colonial Africa into conversation with the well trodden territory of land use and contested land issues on the continent Anchored by an intellectual curiosity about the extent to which past practices continue into the present and with what consequences the book provides fresh insights into the complex relationship between land and conservation in contemporary Africa Post-Development from the Global South Sally Matthews, Alba Castellsagué, 2025-04-22 Post development advocates and decolonial thinkers are calling for radical alternatives to development but how do these ideals sit with the day to day reality of marginalised communities struggling with poverty precarity and the deprivation of human rights This book investigates how post development alternatives are being understood and negotiated on the ground in the Global South Indigenous concepts and practices attributed to people in the Global South are seen by post development thinkers as offering transformative alternatives to dominant development models of progress and economic growth For example buen vivir from particular regions of South America points to a culture of life and ubuntu in Southern Africa emphasises human connectedness and mutuality Such terms are associated with social and environmental sustainability and a greater connection to Southern epistemologies Drawing on extensive fieldwork this book takes us directly to Global South communities from around the world to consider the complex ways in which they negotiate the ideas and practices associated with post development and their views on the supposed indigenous alternatives The book encourages a contextual approach that embraces the tensions and contradictions that exist within different communities Taking the reader from abstract post development theory right into the heart of communities directly impacted by development this book will be an important guide for students researchers and practitioners looking for better ways to address the desires and aspirations of marginalised communities in the Global South Framing the Race in South Africa Karen E. Ferree, 2010-11-15 Post apartheid South African elections have borne an unmistakable racial imprint Africans vote for one set of parties whites support a different set of parties and with few exceptions there is no crossover voting between groups These voting tendencies have solidified the dominance of the ruling African National Congress ANC over South African politics and turned South African elections into racial censuses This book explores the political sources of these outcomes It argues that although the beginnings of these patterns lie in South Africa's past in the effects apartheid had on voters beliefs about race and destiny and the reputations parties forged during this period the endurance of the census reflects the ruling party's ability to use the powers of office to prevent the opposition from evolving away from its apartheid era party label By keeping key opposition parties white the ANC has rendered them powerless solidifying its hold on power in spite of an increasingly restive and dissatisfied electorate Youth and Identity Politics in South Africa, 1990-1994 S. Nombuso Dlamini, 2005-01-01 Youth and Identity Politics in South Africa shows how the youth identify variously as fans of jazz or hip hop who espouse a none racial national character as athletes who feel a strong connection to traditional Zulu patriarchy or in many other social and political subcultures Democracy South Africa Yvonne G. Muthien, 1999 The 1999 election presented the HSRC with a number of opportunities for conducting election studies These included measuring the shift in public perceptions and support in the run up to the election and conducting the first ever exit poll Multilingual Universities in South Africa Liesel Hibbert, Christa van der Walt, 2014-04-03 Focusing on the use of African languages in higher education this book showcases South African higher education practitioners attempts to promote a multilingual ethos in their classes It is a first time overview of multilingual teaching and learning strategies that have been tried and tested in a number of higher education institutions in South Africa Despite language in education policies that extol the virtues of multilingualism practice remains oriented towards English only learning and teaching In the multilingual contexts of local campuses this book shows how students and lecturers attempt to understand their multiple identities and use the available languages to create multilingual learning environments Historicizing Secular-Religious Demarcations Monika Wohlrab-Sahr, Daniel Witte, Christoph Kleine, 2024-07-01 This volume aims to revitalize the exchange between sociological differentiation theory and the sociology of religion which previously held center stage among the sociological classics It brings together contributions from different disciplines as well as various forms of regional and historical expertise which are indispensable in forming a globally oriented sociological perspective today Secularization is understood as a process of boundary demarcation that is as the enactment of semantic practical and institutional distinctions between religion and other spheres of activity and knowledge These distinctions may emerge from within the religious field itself or may be absorbed into the field having originally emerged elsewhere They may even be directly imposed upon religion by external forces The volume is therefore based on the premise that societal differentiation and secularity as a specific expression of it is a widespread structural feature that nonetheless takes on various forms depending on its historical and cultural context In order to make this diversity visible the volume adopts a global comparative perspective and examines historical distinctions and differentiations in the West and beyond By examining different forms and modes of secularity in statu nascendi the volume contributes to developing a better understanding of the diversity of secularities even of those found in the present day in terms of their historicity and their specific path dependencies With this shift in perspective this special volume initiates a global and historical turn in the theory of differentiation as well as in the study of secularity

Theatre and Empowerment Richard Boon, Jane Plastow, 2004-08-19 Theatre and Empowerment examines the ability of drama theatre dance and performance to empower communities of very different kinds and it does so from a multi cultural perspective The communities involved include poverty stricken children in Ethiopia and the Indian sub continent disenfranchised Native Americans in the USA and young black men in Britain victims of violence in South Africa and Northern Ireland and a threatened agricultural town in Italy The book asserts the value of performance as a vital agent of necessary social change and makes its arguments through the close examination from inside practice of the success not always complete of specific projects in their practical and cultural contexts Practitioners and commentators ask how performance in its widest sense can play a part in community activism on a scale larger than the individual one off project by helping communities find their own liberating and creative voices

The Land Is Sung Thomas M. Pooley, 2023-10-17 What does it mean to belong In The Land is Sung musicologist Thomas M Pooley shows how performances of song dance and praise poetry connect Zulu communities to their ancestral homes and genealogies For those without land tenure in the province of KwaZulu Nata performances articulate a sense of place Migrants express their allegiances through performance and spiritual relationships to land are embodied in rituals that invoke ancestral connection while advancing well being through intergenerational communication Engaging with justice and environmental ethics education and indigenous knowledge systems musical and linguistic analysis and the ethics of recording practice Pooley s analysis draws on genres of Colonised subjects can play roles that sustain the power structure of coloniality. In this book, Morgan Ndlovu asks why people help support a system responsible for their own subjugation. Morgan Ndlovu provides a critique of the agency of the colonised subjects as exercised under coloniality. Eschewing abstract theory, he takes a bottom-up approach to theorising the agency of indigenous people. Through analysis of the experiences of the performance of indigeneity and the staged representations of commodified culture in South Africa, he recognises the efforts of the colonised subjects and the conditions under which they survive. However, he also cautions against choices and actions that may aggravate their conditions. Performing Indigeneity provides an insightful evaluation of what could constitute an authentic indigenous agency among the colonial subalterns in India, Australia, Canada, Africa, and the Americas.
