Agricultural and Pastoral Landscapes in Pre-Industrial Society Fèlix Retamero,Inge Schjellerup,Althea Davies,2014-12-01 Through a series of case studies this third volume in the Earth series deals with the technological constraints and innovations that enabled societies to survive and thrive across a range of environmental conditions The contributions are structured into three sections to draw out particular commonalities and contrasts in the choices made by pre industrial communities in the construction of varied landscapes and cultural heritage Landnam from the Old Norse for taking of land deals with colonization including the drivers and processes through which colonizers developed an understanding of the productive potential and limitations of their new lands Fields and field systems Field walls are a distinctive and apparently timeless characteristic of many pre industrial farming landscapes but they present many the challenges to their study such as the effects of plowing abandonment and land use change and of urban development in fertile lowland zones which may eradicate reduce or conceal past systems of land use and division The importance of indirect and proxy evidence is illustrated and the value of interdisciplinary and modeling approaches emphasized Agro pastoralism focuses on the complex time space adaptations devised for managing cultivation and livestock production particularly the need to prevent stock incursions into arable fields during the growing season whilst making effective use of seasonal grazing resources The contributions focus on mountainous areas where temporary migrations in the form of transhumance provided access to a diversity of resources based around seasonal constraints on their availability and productivity The Enlightenment Rediscovery of Egyptology Angela Scattolin

Morecroft,2017-12-14 In 1759 the botanist and scientist Vitaliano Donati led an expedition to Egypt under the patronage of King Carlo Emanuele III of Sardinia to acquire Egyptian antiquities for the Museum in Turin Charting his tumultuous expedition this book reveals how in spite of his untimely death in 1762 Donati managed to send enough items back to Turin to lay the foundations for one of the earliest and largest systematic collections of Egyptology in Europe and help to bring the world of ancient Egypt into the consciousness of Enlightenment scholarship Whilst the importance of this collection has long been recognised its exact contents have been remained largely unknown War the Napoleonic occupation of Italy and the amalgamation and reorganisation of museum collections resulted in a dispersal of objects and loss of provenance As a result it had been supposed that the actual contents of Donati s collection could not be known However the discovery by Angela Morecroft in 2004 of Donati s packing list reveals the exact quantity and type of objects that he acquired offering the possibility to cross reference his descriptions with unidentified artifacts at the Museum By examining Donati s expedition to Egypt and seeking to identify the objects he sent back to Turin this book provides a fascinating insight into early collecting practice and the lasting historical impact of these items As such it will prove a valuable resource for all those with an interest in the history of museums and collecting as well as enlightenment travels to Egypt Catalogues of the Berenson attention is focussed on the history of music and literature in Ireland and the British Isles and on the other topics of the German and Austrian musical past In both cases it reflects the particular interest of a scholar whose playful sometimes unconventional way of approaching his subject is so refreshing and time and again leads to innovative surprising insights It also reflects a scholar who for all the broadening of his perspectives that has taken place over the years has always adhered to the strands of his scholarly preoccupations that have become dear to him the music of the Austro Italian Baroque and Irish musical culture first and foremost An international cast of authors announces the sustaining influence of Harry White s wide ranging research Professor Dr Thomas Hochradner Chair of the Department of Musicology University of Music and Dramatic Arts Mozarteum Salzburg
