Competitiveness and Death Gary Winslett, 2021-03-09 Competitiveness and Death examines the increase and reduction of regulatory barriers to trade across three industries environmental labor and safety rules on automobiles consumer protection regulations on meat and intellectual property regulations on medicines The fundamental negotiation in trade and regulatory policymaking occurs between businesses activists and government officials Gary Winslett builds on new trade theories to explain when and why businesses are most likely to lobby governments to reduce these regulatory trade barriers He argues that businesses prevail when they can connect with broader concerns about national economic competitiveness He examines how activist organizations overcome collective action problems and defend regulatory differences arguing that they succeed when they can link their desire for barriers with preventing needless death Competitiveness and Death provides a political companion to new trade theories in economics questioning cleavage based explanations of trade politics demonstrating the underappreciated importance of activists suggesting the limits of globalization providing in depth examination of previously ignored trade negotiations qualifying the California Effect the shift toward stricter regulatory standards and showing the relative rarity of regulations used as disguised protectionism

The Human Paradox Frank Gaffikin, 2023-06-16 In The Human Paradox Worlds Apart in a Connected World author Frank Gaffikin probes widely and meticulously into our past and present to analyse the connections between the many acute polarisations that mark contemporary times Addressing profound issues related to Trumpism Brexit the outbreak of Covid 19 and ensuing pandemic and environmental change the book argues that beneath all the present social tumult lies a fundamental dilemma for human stability and progress namely how we can be estranged from what we refer to as humanity The book begins with an appraisal of populism and authoritarian nationalism and later explores whether in our human development we are bound for enhancement or extinction Interrogating these big ideas further the book identifies three central challenges that confront us as a society living on the planet living with the planet and living with one another on the planet These challenges prompt a re think of what it is to be human and social and hinging on these key themes the book thus concludes with consideration of a radical agenda for future social improvement Rather than peering through the conventional lenses offered by separate disciplines this book argues for interdisciplinary appreciation and recognition especially so if we are to address the dilemma at the center of its concern The Human Paradox will appeal to readers interested in the major conflicts of our times as well as students of subjects including sociology politics history and economics Publishers' Circular and Booksellers' Record of British and Foreign Literature, 1913 Resilience in the Pacific and the Caribbean Simon Hollis, 2020-10-26 This book critically examines the global diffusion and local reception of resilience through the implementation of Disaster Risk Reduction DRR programmes in Pacific and Caribbean island states Global efforts to strengthen local disaster resilience capacities have become a staple of international development activity in recent decades yet the successful implementation of DRR projects designed to strengthen local resilience remains elusive While there are pockets of success a gap remains between global expectations and local realities Through a critical realist study of global and local worldviews of resilience in the Pacific and Caribbean islands this book argues that the global advocacy of DRR remains inadequate because of a failure to prioritise a person orientated ethics in its conceptualization of disaster resilience This regional comparison provides a valuable lens to understand the underlying social structures that makes resilience possible and the extent to which local governments communities and persons interpret and modify their behaviour on risk when faced with the global message on resilience This book will be of much interest to students of resilience risk management development studies and area studies
