

THE WRITING OF A REPORT BY A STUDENT IN THE STATISTICS DEPARTMENT OF THE
ATHENS UNIVERSITY OF ECONOMICS AND BUSINESS

(From the book "The Teaching of Practical Statistics"
by C.W.Anderson & R.M. Loynes (Wiley, 1987))

A.1 INTRODUCTION

For most, possibly all, of the practical projects that you will carry out in your course you will be required to write a report, summarizing what you have done and what your conclusions are: the suggestions in this handout are intended to help you with that task. (This material is concerned particularly with the relatively short report appropriate to small projects, but most of the points apply much more widely-to theses for postgraduate degrees, for example, and to reports to be written within the context of ordinary commercial employment. There may well be a required or preferred form for these, which you should then study and follow, but this is likely to dictate only the structure, and the other aspects will then be similar to the present ones.)

There are several aspects, quite different in kind, of writing a report, and they will be discussed in turn:

- (a) structure;
- (b) content;
- (c) presentation;
- (d) style;
- (e) the preparation in detail.

Only general guidelines can be given, of course, which must then be interpreted and applied to the immediate task. The most important thing by far is to realize that a report is good if-and only if-it is effective, which means that it gets its message across: anything which diminishes its clarity or tends to irritate the reader will detract from that.

Writing Winning Reports Sandy Woolley, 2005 Written reports have been a favorite format for sharing knowledge in schools since the invention of paper and pen Writing Winning Reports stresses not only producing a polished report but also gaining important research and organizational skills in the process It presents guidelines for 15 broad research topics Each unit provides an outline of how to organize the report a point breakdown for grading a list of alternative projects Guidelines are open enough to allow for individual creativity but organized to assure successful presentation This is easy to use format is the beginning of winning reports Book jacket NAEP 1998 writing state report for DDESS (domestic Dept. of Defense schools) , Elementary School Evaluative Criteria National Study of School Evaluation, 1973 National Assessment of Educational Progress 1969-1983 Theodore B.
